

PEACE ENVOYS ON THEIR WAY HOME.

Russian and Japanese Plenipotentiaries, With Their Missions, Leave Boston.

M. WITTE EXPRESSES THANKS.

Baron Komura is Pleased to Revisit Scenes of His Student Life at Harvard.

Boston, Sept. 6.—Both the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries, together with the members of their respective missions, left Boston today, in special trains, bound for New York. Crowds of people had assembled at the South station, as the trains passed out, that bearing the Russians, about 1 o'clock, and that of the Japanese two hours later.

M. Witte responded to the cheers by appearing on the platform and making a brief speech, through M. Rojstevsky. He gave expression to the pleasure which his journey had afforded, his thanks for the cordiality of the greeting and his regret that he must leave so soon.

Baron Komura, with several members of the Japanese mission, visited at Harvard university during the day and was entertained at luncheon at the colonial club in Cambridge. Members of the Harvard corporation and prominent Bostonians were present. At the railroad station the Japanese departed, amid cheers from the Americans present, and a chorus of "banzais" from a large body of their fellow countrymen.

The special train from Portsmouth, bearing M. Witte and Baron de Rosen together with the other members of the Russian mission, arrived here shortly before noon and was transferred to the city to the South station, where the party passed through the door of the car, and through M. Rojstevsky, who had acted as spokesman for the Russians at Portsmouth, he said:

"I regret very much leaving your city without knowing more about it. I depart much satisfied. Everything has ended well, and I am sincerely happy over the results attained. My journey has been a pleasure all ways to me, my life in your part of American extremely agreeable. I must thank you; I must thank all America. We shall never forget coming here, and we shall regret that we can not remain longer to visit your great country. Everything we have seen has given us great satisfaction and delight. Again let me say that I regret to go away without seeing more. Again let me say that everything has ended well."

M. Witte had hardly finished when the train began to move out. The crowd cheered and the Russian envoy stood in the door, bowing and waving his hat until the car was well down the platform.

Baron Komura, the Japanese chief peace envoy, and those of his party who came here last night, were the guests at breakfast today of the National Dining Club, an association of leading Japanese merchants of this city. After the breakfast, which was an informal affair, Baron Komura and his suite went to Harvard university, of which institution the baron is an alumnus.

The baron and his party were entertained at luncheon at the Colonial club, Prof. Gray presided. This was an informal affair, Baron and others making brief speeches.

Baron Komura talked of affairs in Japan apart from the signing of the peace treaty and expressed his pleasure in being able to revisit the scenes of his student life. At the conclusion of the luncheon a toast to Baron Komura was drunk standing. As the baron left the club several Japanese students who recently arrived from Japan to attend Harvard greeted him and he spoke to them briefly.

Baron Komura, accompanied by Prof. Gray, made a short call on Prof. Christopher Columbus Langdell, Dane professor of law (conservator) at the Harvard law school, who was an active professor when the baron attended the law school.

The party returned to their hotel in Boston and from there, after a few minutes' delay, they proceeded to the South station, where they boarded the special train which had been placed at their disposal for the journey to New York.

A crowd of several hundred was at the station when the baron and his friends were conducted to the train, and they were greeted with loud cheers. The train drew out at 2:35. As it started Baron Komura stepped on the platform and the observant car in the rear of the train, and the cheering of the crowd was renewed. The Japanese delegation uttered a prolonged and enthusiastic "banzai." Baron Komura waved his hat and bowed to the people. The Japanese envoys arrived tonight

YELLOW CRUSTON BABY

Would Crack Open and Scab Causing Terrible Itching.

CURED BY CUTICURA

"Our baby had a yellow crust on his head which I could not keep away. When I thought I had succeeded in getting his head clear, it would start again by the crown of his head, crack and scale, and cause terrible itching. I then got Cuticura Soap and Ointment, washing the scalp with the soap and then applying the Ointment. A few treatments made a complete cure. I have since advised a number of mothers to use Cuticura, when I have been asked about the same ailment of their babies. Mrs. John Boyce, Pine Bush, N. Y."

at 8 o'clock on a special train from Boston, Baron Komura, Japanese plenipotentiary, and his mission, together with the Russian plenipotentiaries, were at the station to greet the envoys. Another great crowd was on hand to cheer the returning plenipotentiaries and secret service men, as they entered the city, and a heavy guard of uniformed police had to make a way for the Japanese party.

Baron Komura walked alone, followed closely by Mr. Takahira. The party entered seven carriages, and amid cheering, were hurried away to their hotel.

The Russian envoys spent the evening quietly in their hotel. M. Witte, accompanied by Baron de Rosen, walked from the train to the waiting carriages, and it was only through great efforts on the part of the police and secret service men that a passage-way was cleared. Both envoys smiled and doffed their hats continually at the cheers of the crowds.

M. Witte and Baron de Rosen were warmly recognized, and men and women rushed their way toward them. The crowd became so great the party was brought to a standstill, and everyone wanted to shake hands with the two men. Both grasped many hands as they slowly made their way to the sidewalk.

The Russian plenipotentiaries and the members of their party will be lavishly entertained while in this city. The first of a series of functions in their honor will be given tomorrow night, a dinner at the Metropolitan club, by George Harvey. The list of speakers has not yet been completed, but, in addition to the guests of honor, will contain the names of Secy. of State Elihu Root, Gen. Horace Porter and President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale.

PAT CROWE SHOOT

AN OMAHA POLICEMAN

Omaha, Sept. 6.—During a running fight between police officers and a man believed to be Pat Crowe, the alleged kidnapper of Eddie Cuddey, and a companion, just before midnight tonight, Patrolman Albert Jackson was shot through the leg and the two men made their escape. None of the other officers was injured. A large detail of officers was immediately sent to the spot to try to locate the fugitives.

The fight occurred on lower Sixteenth street, where the men were discovered by Officer Jackson in a saloon.

Ever since Crowe returned to Omaha several weeks ago, Chief Donahue has had a force of officers, most of them in citizen's clothing, seeking to capture him. This task was extremely difficult because none of the officers knew Crowe, Jackson being an exception. It was learned by the police that Crowe was in Omaha and extra efforts were made to locate him. Jackson and Officer Leahy were sent to lower Sixteenth street, where Crowe was believed to be.

About 11 o'clock tonight Jackson saw a man whom he recognized as Crowe with a companion in a saloon at Sixteenth and Dorcas streets. He sent Leahy to a telephone to secure additional officers, while he watched the man himself. The men left the saloon just as a car carrying additional officers came up, and Jackson started to follow them. Seeing that they were being followed, the two men opened fire on Jackson, emptying their revolvers, one bullet breaking Jackson's leg.

The other officers started in pursuit, joining in the fusillade of shots being sent after the fugitives. The latter, however, made good a temporary escape.

Half the police force was sent to the district in which the shooting occurred and the other half to work to locate and arrest the pair. This they had not been successful in doing up to midnight.

While the police have no positive knowledge of one of the men was "Crowe," they do hesitate to believe that such is the case. Officer Jackson,

PURE BLOOD

INSURES A CLEAR SKIN

When Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Pimples, or other skin diseases make their appearance it is a sure sign that the blood is filled with humors and burning acids. These being forced through the pores and glands burn and blister the skin, producing the eruptions which are usually accompanied with intense itching, and are disfiguring and humiliating.

Years ago my blood was bad, as evidenced by skin eruptions on different parts of the body, and other symptoms, so I concluded to try S. S. S., knowing it to be highly spoken of. After using a number of bottles—do not remember now just how much my blood was thoroughly purified and enriched and I was relieved of all eruptions and manifestations of impure blood. I believe S. S. S. to be an excellent blood medicine, and any one in need of such a medicine would do well to try it. I believe it is a perfect cure as it proved to be in my case. MRS. C. E. SHOEMAKER, Alliance, O., 619 E. Patterson St.

While external treatment relieves temporarily it does not reach the real cause of the disease, because it does not go into the blood. S. S. S., a perfect blood purifier, neutralizes these acids and humors, and by strengthening and toning up the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, the natural channels of bodily waste, disposes of allowing them to be forced to the surface through the skin. S. S. S. is PURELY VEGETABLE, the greatest of all tonics for building up the entire system, increasing the appetite and helping the digestion. S. S. S. cures all skin diseases promptly and permanently, leaving the skin soft and smooth. Only by keeping the blood pure can we hope to have a clear skin. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice you may wish free of charge.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

who was acquainted with Crowe, says that there can be no doubt of the identity of the man. He says the man recognized him, and when he was in officer, took a desperate chance of getting away by using his revolver.

Officer Leahy also says he is sure that the man was Crowe. That the fugitive is a dangerous man, he has no doubt and every effort is being made to secure his capture, as well as that of his companion.

Reno, Nev., Sept. 6.—The supreme court of Nevada today handed down a decision denying a motion for a new trial in the case of John Hancock, charged with murdering two men on the desert 10 years ago.

Hancock was arrested as he was being discharged from San Quentin a few months ago and brought to Nevada for trial. He will be hanged next Friday morning.

Oregon Logging Camp Burns

Albany, Or., Sept. 6.—Fire has again broken out in the forests east of this city. A logging camp in the Cascade mountains burned this afternoon. The men barely escaped from the camp with their lives. Last week's fire was thought to be under control, but high wind this morning fanned the embers into flames. It is now traveling into the Cascade mountains, destroying the fine body of timber and doing other damage.

Chamberlain's Polley Reputed.

London, Sept. 6.—The attitude of labor towards Joseph Chamberlain's fiscal policy was emphatically attested by a vote at today's session of the House of Commons, which is holding its annual meeting at Hanley. By a vote representing 1,253,000 members against 25,000, the congress declared for free trade, asserting that "any departure therefrom would be detrimental to the interests of the working classes, upon whom the burden of protection would press the most heavily."

Russian Woman Suicides.

Mitau, Russia, Sept. 6.—Liselle Anderson, a female political prisoner, committed suicide here today by hanging.

ANGLO-JAPANESE TREATY.

Russia Fears That It Shuts Her Out.

London, Sept. 6.—The Anglo-Japanese treaty, signed Aug. 12, is not yet ready for promulgation, some formalities in printing, etc., having to be carried out. At the foreign office today it was said the treaty would be ready early next week, but before publication it had been communicated to the powers. Although the powers interested are not yet in possession of the terms of the treaty, their representatives in London express themselves as satisfied, as it is generally understood the treaty does not interfere in any way with existing rights.

Bad Situation in Barcelona.

Barcelona, Spain, Sept. 6.—A panic prevails here over the anarchical situation. Tourists are abandoning the hotels and leaving the city. The police have seized a socialist paper for applauding the recent bomb explosion here.

Walked Far With Fractured Skull

Chicago, Sept. 7.—After working three hours and walking to his house unassisted while suffering from a fractured skull, Benjamin R. Schooley, 8 years old, died yesterday. Schooley was employed in the repair shop of an express company, as a wheelwright. A heavy wagon box, which he was repairing, slipped from his supports and fell on him. He recovered consciousness within a few minutes and was taken to the hospital, where he died a few hours later. An examination showed that his skull had been fractured.

NEW YORK LIFE

INSURANCE SALARIES

John A. McCall, the President, Receives a Hundred Thousand Dollars a Year.

SON GETS FOURTEEN THOUSAND

Three Vice Presidents Get Twenty-five, Thirty-five and Forty Thousand Respectively.

New York, Sept. 6.—Former Gov. Frank Black of this state appeared as counsel for the Equitable Life Assurance society before the joint legislative committee today when the committee commenced its investigation of life insurance conditions in this state. The committee is composed of Senators William W. Armstrong, chairman; Frank J. Tully and Daniel J. Roridan, and Assemblymen James T. Rogers, Robert Lynn Cox, William A. Venable, Ezra A. Prentiss, secretary, and John McKeon.

Robert A. Grannis, first vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance company, who was called as the first witness. He testified that he was a director of the United States Mortgage and Trust company, and one of the lawyers of the trust company.

Mr. Hughes, counsel for the committee, quoted from the charter of the Mutual the clauses giving rights to the policyholders in the election of officers and other administrative rights, and had the by-laws of the company identified and placed on the record.

Vice President Grannis testified that there has been only one case in the last five or six years of votes cast by proxy in the Mutual Life Insurance company's election. He estimated that President Richard A. McCurdy of the Mutual and himself held about 20,000 proxies. Mr. Hughes asked who was general manager of the Mutual, and the reply that this position was held by Robert S. McCurdy, son of the president of the company.

Walter G. Oakman, himself a trustee of the Mutual, who testified that he had served as a director of the company, and in question, was asked how he knew that the electors were genuine policyholders. In reply he said that there was no examination of credentials, no presentation of policies or any other way of certifying the right of a prospective voter to cast his ballot.

Oakman stated that he relied on officers of the company, who, he said, were always present during the two-hour election period, to tell him whether the electors presenting themselves were entitled to vote.

George M. Clanning, president of the United States Mortgage Trust company, who had acted as a Mutual election inspector, said that in all cases the inspectors accepted the statements of voters as to their eligibility.

The amounts of salaries paid to officers of the New York Life Insurance company were given by John C. McCall, secretary of that company. He said that he was a son of President John A. McCall of the New York Life; that the day after he graduated from Harvard, in 1899, he went to work for the New York Life Insurance company at a salary of $2,500 a year, as assistant secretary, and that he now receives $14,000.

The president's salary, he said, was $100,000. The salaries of the first vice president were $25,000, $35,000 and $40,000, and for the three second vice presidents $30,000, $21,000 and $18,000, respectively. There were, Mr. McCall said, about 25,000 proxies in the office of his company, made out in the names of the president and vice presidents.

Edward Rhodes appeared for the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company of New Jersey, which does business in New York. He said that the salaries paid to the officers of the New Jersey company were very low, but the figures were not given.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance company was represented in the witness box by Vice President Haley Flisk and by Frederick H. Eckert, controller. The latter said that in an election in 1904, out of 38,300 votes cast, all except three or four were voted by proxy. Mr. Flisk said that the president of the company was $100,000, his own $75,000, and the lesser officers from $25,000 down.

Charles W. Camp of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance company was the last witness examined at today's session.

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—There is much commotion in the morning papers on the Anglo-Japanese treaty, which is claimed, is not conducive to peace, because it upsets the balance of power in the far east while the United States and Japan predominate. The Novos Vremya expresses the opinion that it is directed against Russia. The treaty is far east while the United States and Japan predominate. The Novos Vremya expresses the opinion that it is directed against Russia. The treaty is far east while the United States and Japan predominate.

The treaty shuts out Russia from the Pacific and the open sea anywhere in Asia. The Bourse Gazette takes a similar view.
