

COSSACKS SET UPON THE PEOPLE

They Seemed to Misapprehend
Why the People Were Celebrating

AN ANTI-JEWISH UPRISING.

M. Witte Has a Most Difficult Task
In Starting the New Order
Of Things.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—Although today passed in comparative quiet in St. Petersburg and Moscow, a flood of dispatches from all parts of the empire report disorders in many cities, with a heavy toll of dead and wounded. The people while celebrating their new-found freedom were in many instances set upon by Cossacks and police, while sometimes the spirit of mob violence broke forth and the lower elements of the population gave themselves to pillage and destruction.

The most serious disorders apparently occurred at Odessa, where hundreds of persons are reported to have been killed or wounded, and where the rioting is momentarily expected to flare out into a repetition of the slaughter of last July, and at Kanan, where a three days' reign of terror was ended only by the retirement of all Cossacks to their barracks.

A deplorable feature of the news from the interior is that anti-Jewish uprisings have occurred in many places, especially in southern Russia, where the populace vented its hatred of the Jews by sacking their stores and clubbing the members of the race, in some cases resorting to the torch.

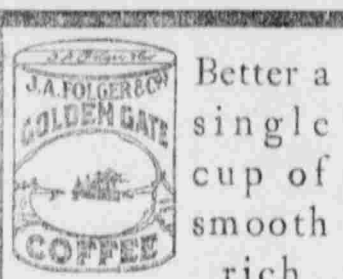

The attacks on the crowds are reported to be in most cases the work of Cossacks, who many times were apparently let loose upon the people without direction or authority.

In St. Petersburg today Gen. Trepoft, in accordance with his announcement of last night, prevented the resumption of revolutionary demonstrations by having the crowds dispersed whenever and wherever they gathered. Kazan place and the Nevsky Prospect were several times cleared by Cossacks and police, and the crowds were driven from the vicinity of the university with whips and the flats of sabres. Gen. Trepoft was aided by the weather, which was cold and rainy and which kept many persons off the streets.

Count Witte's task in securing a fair trial for the new experiment in constitutionalism is a most difficult one. He is disappointed at not securing the support of the Liberals, on whose co-operation he counted. Many of these are holding aloof and seem rather to enjoy the predicament in which the new premier finds himself.

Meanwhile the Socialists and revolutionaries, who believe they have the government stumped, are bending every effort to keep the movement going and to precipitate a catastrophe from which they hope a Socialistic republic will emerge. This is a consummation as little to be desired by the majority of Liberals, especially the zemstvoists, as by the government itself, and therein lies the chief hope that the force gathering under the banner of Count Witte is sufficiently strong to make head against the revolutionary movement and the spirit of unrest throughout the country.

Count Witte is doing his utmost to meet the chief objections against the new regime. In addition to the promised amnesty for political prisoners, liberty of the press has been granted, Count Witte offering to a deputation of editors who called on him to demand the abolition of the censorship regulation the amusing explanation that in the hurry of writing the manifesto the words "liberty of the press" were inadvertently omitted, and that the omission had not been noticed until the complaint was made.

The Official Gazette formally announced that the term "liberty of speech" is to be interpreted as including the press.

Against the demand for the removal of Gen. Trepoft, Count Witte, however, is inflexible. He informed a delegation from the strike committee, which called on him today to demand the release of their imprisoned comrades and the removal of Gen. Trepoft, that it would be madness for him to dismiss the only man capable of maintaining order in the city at the present juncture.

Nominally for the purpose of perfecting their organization and gathering funds the strike committee tonight decided to call off the St. Petersburg industrial strike at noon Friday next, but to resume it at an opportune moment.

The St. Petersburg railroad men have resolved to continue their strike, declaring they have assurances that the soldiers of the railroad battalion will desert if a little persuasion in the way of train-wrecking is employed.

No newspapers will be issued tomorrow, and probably not until Friday at noon.

The printers have determined to work only for the journals which refuse to submit themselves to the censorship regulations. The Publishers' association has met this determination by resolving to disregard hereafter all circulars issued by the censor and to print what they please. The only papers now appearing are the official publications and the Workers' Gazette, which tomorrow will contain an article attacking the former by the name of "Sly Fox" and the latter by the designation of "the ravenous wolf."

Col. T. J. Jackson Dead.

Kansas City, Nov. 1.—Col. T. J. Jackson, of Newton, Kan., chief of staff of the Kansas G. A. R., is dying at Agnew hospital in this city, the result of an accident last night at the Union depot. Col. Jackson attempted to board a moving train. He fell on his face and his right arm was severed by the wheels of the car. His clothing then caught in the car trucks

PILES

"I have suffered with piles for thirty years. One year ago I tried a box of Dr. J. C. Smith's Pile Cure, and in a few days the piles began to disappear and at the end of six weeks they had entirely disappeared. I have since used several boxes, and I can truly say that I feel like a new man." (George Kruger, Naperville, Ill.)

Col. Jackson was one of the best known civil war veterans in Kansas. A few minutes before the accident occurred, Col. Jackson had bid his son, Cooper Jackson, Washington correspondent of the Mexican Herald, goodbye, as the latter departed for the east.

Col. Jackson died this afternoon of his injuries.

Japanese Ambassadors.

Tokyo, Nov. 1.—It is likely that the candidates for the posts of Japanese ambassadors at the European courts and at Washington will be accredited before long. Among the candidates for the post of ambassador to the United States are Viscount Aoki, private secretary of the emperor, Viscount Hayashi, Japanese minister to Great Britain; M. Chinda, vice minister of foreign affairs; M. Kuroki, former minister to Russia; Baron Suematsu, and Baron Kaneko, the Japanese financial adviser.

Cossacks Fire Into Audience.

Krenenchuk, Russia, Nov. 1.—At a public meeting at the People's theater yesterday, where the people were discussing the necessity for the removal of the Cossacks and a constituent assembly, Cossacks suddenly entered the hall, fired five volleys into the audience and then charged with drawn sabres. Two persons were killed and many wounded.

North Pole by Lottery.

Brussels, Nov. 1.—An expedition to the north pole under the patronage of the Belgian government is about to be organized. The expenses, estimated at $2,000,000, will be defrayed by a national lottery on an extensive scale.

Kingfisher, Okla., Bank Closed.

Kingfisher, O. T., Nov. 1.—The Farmers' National bank of Kingfisher has been closed by direction of the comptroller of currency. The bank was organized in 1904 with a capital of $25,000. It had loans of $10,000, according to the last statement, and deposits of $30,000. J. A. Hill is president and R. Pappie vice president.

Charles T. Cherry, receiver of the Capital National bank of Guthrie, O. T., has been appointed receiver.

Nearly all of the stock of the Kingfisher bank is held as collateral security or owned by the Denver Savings bank, which recently failed and is now in the hands of a receiver.

Subsequent to the failure of the Denver Savings bank the bank attempted voluntary liquidation, but was unable to obtain the necessary two-thirds vote of the stock.

The capital of the bank is largely impaired by losses which the stockholders were unable to make good in the manner provided by law.

The game men who owned the Farmers' National Savings bank also owned the Union Exchange bank of South McAlester, I. T., which suspended following the closing of the Colorado institution.

THE PUBLIC DEBT IS CLIMBING UP.

During October it Increased Over
Six Million Dollars Owing to Greater Expenditures.

NOW EXCEEDS BILLION DOLLARS

Total Circulation of National Bank
Notes $24,418,249, Increase for
Year $97,126,749

Washington, Nov. 1.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows at the close of business Oct. 31, 1905, the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $1,902,646,125, which is an increase for the month of $6,068,116. This increase is largely accounted for by the decrease in the amount of cash on hand due to increased expenditures.

The debt is recapitulated as follows: Interest-bearing debt, $895,153,940; debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,231,975; debt bearing no interest, $38,571,209. Total, $1,234,161,415.

This amount, however, does not include $1,009,993 in certificates and treasury notes outstanding, which are offset by an equal amount of cash held for their redemption.

The cash in the treasury is classified as follows: Gold reserve, $100,000,000; trust funds, $1,009,354,959; general funds, $156,553,215; in national bank deposits, $65,726,217; in treasury of Philippine islands, $4,122,028. Total, $1,385,655, against which there are demand notes outstanding amounting to $1,106,977,247, which leaves a cash balance on hand of $278,678,108.

The monthly statement of the government receipts and expenditures shows that for the month of October, 1905, the total receipts were $56,492,891 and the expenditures $55,719,977, leaving a deficit for the month of $772,914. For October, 1904, the deficit was $4,000,000.

The receipts from the several sources of revenue are given as follows: Customs, $25,621,531, a gain of about $2,000,000 as compared with October, 1904; internal revenue, $22,173,779, increase $1,000,000; miscellaneous, $2,897,571, decrease $1,792,000.

The expenditures for the month show a total increase over October, 1904, of about $2,767,500, principally in the war department and public works items.

The total deficit for the four months of the present fiscal year is $14,992,000, as against a deficit of $21,809,000 for the corresponding period of 1904. The monthly circulation report issued by the comptroller of the currency shows that at the close of business Oct. 31, 1905, the total circulation of national bank notes was $24,418,249, an increase for the month of $8,056,000. The circulation based on United States bonds was $189,937,306, an increase for the year of $65,407,225 and an increase for the month of $8,249,280.

The amount of circulation secured by lawful money was $34,479,445, an increase for the year of $1,719,424, and a decrease for the month of $193,271. The amount of bonds on deposit to secure circulating notes was $244,017,570, and to secure public deposits $66,099,390.

CHARLES J. DEVLIN.

BANKRUPT MILLIONAIRE, DEAD

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Charles J. Devlin, the bankrupt millionaire coal operator of Topeka, Kan., died at St. Elizabeth's hospital in this city today, the result of a second stroke of paralysis. He suffered his first stroke last summer at Topeka, and this fact led to the failure of his vast real estate empire.

Charles J. Devlin, who died today, was, before his failure in July last, generally credited with being one of the wealthiest men in Kansas. He was at the head of 28 different companies in Kansas, Missouri, Illinois and other states.

CARRIED BIG INSURANCE.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 1.—C. J. Devlin, at the time of his failure in July, carried $11,231,550 in life insurance. Of this amount $81,000 has since been allowed to lapse, $667,000 was turned over to Receiver J. T. Bradley of the failed First National bank, and the remaining $443,550 is in policies payable to Mrs. Devlin and the children, which can not be legally assigned.

The policies assigned to Receiver Bradley have all been paid, and the money will go to the receivers of the bank, the death of C. J. Devlin will have little effect upon the standing of his estate, which will remain in bankruptcy.

An underwriting corporation to handle the Devlin properties, with C. J. Devlin himself as the active manager, had been planned by the creditors. This plan will not be dropped, but the corporation will be formed with some other man as manager.

At the time of his death the estate of C. J. Devlin was in better shape than it has been at any time since the failure. In the receivers' report an excess of assets is shown over the direct liabilities.

Contingent liabilities appear, the validity of which must still, however, be determined. Should they all be upheld then the liabilities will overtop the assets by $675,559. Devlin's personal case presented assets of more than $1,000,000 in excess of his liabilities.

INSURANCE HELPS CREDITORS.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 1.—Receiver I. T. Bradley of the defunct First National bank said today:

"I believe that the creditors of this bank will be paid in full. The death of C. J. Devlin leaves $777,000 life insurance, as good as cash, in the bank's possession."

Woman Stabbed Six Times.

San Francisco, Nov. 1.—Alice Gould, a mulatto woman, aged 25 years, was stabbed six times this afternoon by a negro named Frank Jackson.

The attack took place in a room in the lodging house at Post street and Grant avenue. The woman probably will die.

The negro and woman had been living together for four years. Recently she left him. This afternoon she gained entrance to her room and after a quarrel wielded a knife, inflicting a wound in the stomach, left side of the back, in the right breast, left hip and left hand.

After committing the deed Jackson escaped and the woman was taken to the emergency hospital. The physicians offer very little hope for her recovery. Jackson was captured as he was about to leave the city by a patrolman for Oakland. He was taken to the hospital and identified by the woman.

VEGETABLE JUICE CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

The newspapers announce that all the prominent physicians of New York have received a circular from the New York Post Graduate Hospital giving an account of the wonderful cures of consumption through the use of the juice of raw vegetables and fruits. It seems that the treatment began by the use of potatoes, onions, beets, turnips, cabbages and celery. Later there were added sweet potatoes, apples, pineapples, carrots and parsnips, and still later rhubarb, summer squash, tomatoes, spinach, radishes, string beans and green peas in the pod.

It would seem to be absurd on its face that such treatment could be used to effectually combat consumption, yet so high an authority as Dr. Russell of the above-named hospital, who seems to have made the discovery and developed the treatment, states that eleven cases of well-developed pulmonary tuberculosis have been absolutely cured while fifty others are under treatment and progressing satisfactorily.

It is to be hoped that the long looked for cure of this dread disease has at last been found in this treatment, but the medical profession will, doubtless, be sceptical, as they are and should be on all new treatments until more than eleven cases have been cured by a combination of simple vegetable juices that contain little, if any, of the nourishment required by the consumptive. As Dr. Russell says he has been the principle advocate of nutrition as opposed to medicine in the treatment of tuberculosis, he seems to contravert his own theory in the use of these vegetable juices that possess such a small percentage of nutrition.

Hygiene and nutrition of the best sort are absolute requisites in the treatment of consumption. If the laws of health are carefully observed and the body is sustained with nutritious, wholesome, easily digested food, the ravages of the disease may be arrested, even when the lung tissue is involved. There is little question that the best nutrition in the world in such cases is the old and much abused cod liver oil; not in its raw state but in the form best adapted for its immediate absorption into the body, as found in Scott's Emulsion of pure Norwegian cod liver oil which contains, in addition, the valuable hypophosphites of lime and soda and glycerine. We hesitate to say that it will cure consumption, but after thirty years experience with it, the medical profession knows that it will arrest the progress of the disease and in its earlier stages generally effect a permanent cure. So certain are we of this that we challenge a comparative clinical test in any hospital or sanitarium where there are patients afflicted with this malady. If it will not cure more cases of consumption, if the same rules are observed, than the vegetable and fruit juice treatment, we will agree to supply the institution making the test with Scott's Emulsion free for a year. There is no doubt that Scott's Emulsion is the most concentrated form of nutrition in existence, and if consumption can be cured at all it will do it.
