In some inconceivable way the body of each of the victime remained upon or under the engine, until a stop was made, nearly a mile from the scope of the section. made, nearly a mile from the scene of the accident. Immediately behind the cowcatcher were found the remains of the father and woungest daughter, close together and turribly mangled. The mother and older child were entangled in one of the axels, but were not so much mutilated. Death for all must have been instantaneous.

In one of the mutilated. Denth for all must have been instantaneous. Passengers assisted the crew in tak-ing the bodies from the engine. Per-sons who had witnessed the accident a mile away also hastened to the scene. Strong men paled and became weak from the sight, and when the word spread of the misfortane there was manifest sorroy on every hand. The news was carried to Lagoon, and those who were yet on the grounds were much depressed at so tsrrible an ending of a happy day.

of a happy day. Mr. Kershaw was about 56 years of arc, and his wife a triffe younger. Seven children survive them, two of whom are married, namely, Samuel M. and Mrs. Jeanie Brewn, the former a resident of Ogden and the latter living at West Layton. The other children are Ada, Sarah, Daniel, Cyrus and Freddie. The hast named is 10 years old, and wanted to go to meet his par-ents, but for lack of room his request was denied. was denied.

The Kershaw family is highly re-spected by all who are acquainted with the respective member's, and the community deeply feels the loss of the four unfortunates. The remains are at the undertaking establishment of John Barton, and funeral arrangemets are being made.

PROGRAM OF THE DAY. The program of the day was carried out at the old dancing pavilion, now used as a skating rink. Benches were brought in to provide seats for the old folks. Mr. Bergerman not only su-perintended this part of making the guests of honor comfortable, but he carried the heavy benches until per-spiration dripped from his face. C. R. Savage was in charge of the exer-cises, which opened with a selection from the Bountiful Sliver band. Prayer was offered by Patriarch Toiman of Davis county, after the old folks' choir, Thomas Butler conductor, had sung "The Bong of Triumph," violin obligato by Prof. George Careless. The singing of the choir and the accom-paniment of Mr. Careless were much appreciated by all present. PRESIDENT JOSEPH H. GRANT. PROGRAM OF THE DAY.

At 4 o'clock, light refreshments were served, the guests again assembling at the pavilion for that purpose. Many took the 5 o'clock train for home, while the 7 o'clock train we

SIMON EAMBERBER HAPPY. Responding to a demand for a speech. Hon, Simon Bamberger made one of his happy and humorous speeches. He said no thanks were due to him for providing transportation and entertain-ment to the old folks: he thanked them for honoring him with their presence, and the sight of their faces made his heart exceedingly happy. During the whole of the day Mr. and Mrs. Bamber-ger went among the throng, shaking hands with the aged men and women, and seemed to be bent on picking out the oldest and most infirm and speak-ling to them words of theor, Mr. Bam-berger wrote down for not a few suf-ferers from rheumatism a prescription that he had found most helpful. Other features of the program were soles by Mrs. Agnes Olson Thomas, and Mrs. Alice Streeper, and last, but by ho means least, the singing of "America" by Mrs. Rachel Whipple, 90 years of age, who rendered the song so dear to all ho a voice clear and true to the key.
