..... TYREE CASE POSTPONED.

Judge Powers Secures Stay Until Wednesday to File Demurrer.

There was another chapter in the case of Hiram Tyree, the manager of the Continental Life Insurance company of Utah, charged with falsifying pany of the corporation, this morning when Judge Powers appeared in the city court in behalf of the de-fendant, and asked for a postpone-ment of the hearing, to bermit counsel to consider the matter of a genurrer in the case. Judge Dishi granted the request, and named Wednesday, Feb. 14, as the date when the case should be heard.

FAKE ADVERTISING.

Question Received Consideration at Meeting of M. & M. Association.

The matter of making the way of the advertising grafter with a fake proposition more difficult in Salt Lake took definite form at a meeting of the board of directors of the Manufactur-ers and Merchants' association last night, at which there were also pres-ent representatives of the printers the advertisers, and the Commercial After extensive debate it was decided to have cards printed which each merchant may have up near his desk, calling attention to the fact that no advertising agent will get a hearing

ONE DIED FROM INJURIES.

Three Men Hurt By Flying Rocks Are Now at Grantsville.

(Special to the "News,")

Grantsville, Utah, Feb. 10 .- The party which left Weinesday to bring in the injured from the Utah Construction company camp at Low Pass on the Western Pacific grade, returned this morning with three men who are suffering from bad bruises, having been hit by flying rocks when the missed flying rocks when the missed shot in the rock cut went off. One man died en route and the body was left in Pinpay canyon. Shorily after the arrival of the party another was organized and left to bring in the body. The name of the dead man is said to be James Brennan, aged 38, recently from Ireland. This makes three deaths as the result of the accident. The injured who were brought in to lay are: Thomas Harris, Springfield, Ill. Washington, U Joseph King, Washington, D. C. Eugene Potts, Denver, Colo, Dr. Conroy, the surgeon for the Utah

Dr. Conroy, the surgeon for the Utah Construction company, who went to the scene with the party and returned to Grantsville this morning, will ac-company the injured to Garfield where the company has a small hospital and where the men will be treated. Their injuries mostly consist of bad contu-sions and they are suffering from the effects of shock.

A morning paper has as a domestic sensation this morning, a statement that beginning on Monday household-ers will be asked to pay from one to five cents per pound more for meats than heretofore. Local meat men deny this, and say that while there may be a slight advance in wholesale prices, there will be no advance in retail prices

FOG, SUNSHINE, FOG.

There were hopes this morning of relief from the fog that has oppressed the community for nearly three weeks, as the sun shone out, as though the haze was clearing away, and a 10-knot breeze sprung up from the west. But by afternoon, the breeze died out and by afternoon, the breeze died out and the fog and haze settled over the valley as before, and the weather office says cloud and snow for the morrow.

YOUNG BJORNSON COMING.

Noted Scandinavian Will Shortly Visit And Lecture in Salt Lake.

The Danish, Swedish and Norwegian population of Salt Lake is soon to hear an extended account of how Norway and Sweden happened to be joined as one nation nearly a century ago, and how they happened to become separated and independent again near the end of last year. The story in all its ramifications is to be narrated by Erling Bjornson, in a lecture to be delivered here at a date welt to be fixed, the arrangements be-ing under the charge of Judge C. M. Nielson of this city. Mr. Bjornson is a son of Bjor.stjerne Bjornson, one of the oldest and most celebrated Nor-wegian statesmen and scholars, and for mony wers leader of the arditude is many years leader of the agitation in favor of a separation of the two countries

Mr. Bjornson is now in New York, ommencing a tour of the United States for the purpose of uniting the Nor-wegian people, and giving them an in-sight into the new Norwegian nation, and what it means for the people at

Capt. Bassett suid that Col Geoghegan had urged the officers to stand by their guns, and remain in the guard, hoping that the present stance would benefit them in the fu-ture, and ultimately work out to their advantage. He would not predict what action would be taken by his company Tuesday evening, but he did not seem to think it would be to remain in the service, so far as the officers, who have the privilege of resigning, are con cerned. In additon to the meeting Tuesday of H company, an informal meeting, it is stated, will be held tomorrow by the officers of the guard to talk mat-ters over informally. It is apparently determined upon to act in the matters some way, but to go about it deliber-ately and without haste. There ap-pears to be no reason why calm judgment should not prevail and why the matter should not be settled satisfac-torily without further resignations,

AMUSEMENTS.

There are any number of amazing things about Morrison's rendition of "Faust." and not the least of them is rectors. the fact that so many people should still be found who can take the story seriously, mourning with Marguerite, weeping with Valentine, and shudder-ing over the antics of the fiends. For ing over the antics of the fiends. For 20 years Morrison has been "playing the devil" as he referred to it in his inevit-able speech, and he has seldom failed to draw a big house; the attendance last night, while not heavy below, was thronged above, and from all sides came the usual demonstrations of ap-proval. It is rather late in the day to commence artificiating Morrison's de commence criticizing Morrison's de-lineation, and it is only necessary to say, that he remains in many respects the wonderful reader he was 30 years ago or more when he first began visiting Salt Lake, and that his magnetism is apparently as virile as ever. As to his conception of a role that Milton, Dante and Goethe have rendered im-mortal, the representation of a friend at one moment and of a modern hig comedian the next-tastes may differ but it is hardly worth while to quibbl about it.
