CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, 22.—Sergeant, in charge of the naval appropriation bill, said the amount estimated for the navy submitted for the next fiscal year was $20,571,886.40; the amount appropriated for the present fiscal year was $18,011,305.80.
The bill before the Senate, as reported by the committee on appropriations, proposes to appropriate $18,110,290.40, being an increase of $98,984.60, and a decrease of $1,281,596.
In nearly every item of the bill as it came before the Senate now, there was a reduction, and the committee had, in a majority of cases, assented to the reductions. The committee on Representatives; but in some cases they found it necessary to increase the amount allowed by the House. It came from the House did not propose to reduce the amount of the navy of the present year, but the deficiency had been made up for their compensation. For several years past the appropriations for this purpose had been inadequate, and the committee had made up the deficiency for that service.
The bill as it came before the Senate at the end of the fiscal year.
The bill of officers and seamen called for an appropriation of $7,500,000, and the committee had increased it to $8,000,000. The committee had fixed their compensation, and not one dollar less would pay it. The service might be too heavy, and no doubt there were too many officers for the men, but whether it was possible or not to reduce the number of officers was a question for the House to decide. Many of the officers of the navy had rendered valuable services to the country, and it might be the part of patriotism to give them the large reward active lists to stand. He then referred to the increase in the appropriation for the bureau of construction and repairs, and said that if we would have a navy afloat it must be kept in repair.
After some further debate the several amendments proposed by the committee on appropriations were agreed to.
The amendments were debated pre and con by several senators.
At length the amendment was reached to increase the appropriation for the bureau of yards and dockyards from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000.
It was rejected, yeas 22, nays 22.
Ingalls, Edmunds, Hamilton, and Orin, of Vt., voting with the democrats in the negative.
Sergeant moved to reconsider the vote by which the other appropriations in the bill had been increased, and he moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill had been rejected. The motion was agreed to.
The bill was then passed by the House by a vote of 121 yeas to 75 nays.
Edmunds submitted the following amendment to the clause in the House bill: "No increase of force of any navy yard shall be made at any time within sixty days before the meeting of the next Congress, except when the Secretary of the Navy shall certify that the needs of public service require an increase necessary at that time." This was agreed to.
The appropriation for the bureau of yards and dockyards was raised from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000.
The bill was then reported to the Senate and passed.
