Sonator Fairbanks addressed himself largely to Democrats, contending that Republican policies are better calculated than Democratic policie to protect their interests. Speaking of the wool growers, many of whom are residents of the community, he asked them if they zere not more prosperous under the present tariff law than they had been under the Wilson-Gorman law by which wool had been put on the free list, and some one in the crowd responded in the affirmative. If the tariff law were to be raised, he said, that should be done by the friends of protection rather than by its enemies. The senator also spoke of President Roosevelt, declaring that not since the time of Washington had there been a president who had better administered the affairs of the country than had Mr. Roosevelt.

Senator Fulton also made a brief speech. He was, he said, not surprised to see so many out at so early an hour view of the fact that Republicans niways have their eyes open, Senator Smoot of Utah, who had come aboard the train at this point. also spoke a few words before the train pulled out. All the speakers were loudly applauded and three tremendous cheers for Roosevelt and Fairbanks and the Republican ticket were given as the train moved away

A delegation from Utah in a private car which met the special at this place, included Senator Reed Smoot, Con-gressman Joseph Howell, Supreme Judges G. W. Bartch and William Mc-Carty and Atty,-Gen. M. A. Breeden.

DEATH OF MRS. BURTON.

Well Known Woman and Mother of Large Family Passes Away.

On Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p'clock Mrs. Eloise Crismon Burton passed peacefully away at the family residence, 118 South Second West street, after a long illness. The deceased was the daughter of George Crismon and Mary L. Tanner, and was born Sept. 26, 1857, in San Bernardino, Cal., while her parents were in the mission at that place, which mission was brokon up shortly after her birth. The fam-My then came to Utah. On June 11, 1879, she was married to Elder William Burton. To them have been born two sons and seven daughters, all of whom survive her.

The deceased was of a modest and rethring nature. True to every instinct of purest, womanhood she was a loving. althful wife, a gentle, devoted and well ligh perfect mother, and a consistent and true Latter day Saint. She was widely known and everywhere loved, and her death will be felt as a priorial forrow by every one who knew her. The husband and his family have the incerest sympathy of their many riends, in this sad bereavement. The funeral services will be held on Satur-lay at 12:30 p, m. at the Fourteenth ward assembly rooms.

tration has accomplished much and la bored long for the welfare of the peo ple in industrial and commercial relations at home and abroad; on the other hand, it has been argued by the repre-sentatives of Democracy that while the country has prospered and good has come to the people in domestic and material advantages it has been due more to Democratic opposition than to Republican advancement. The burden of proof against the party in power has been wholly with the party of conten-

This convention assembles at a time when the glaring weaknesses and in-consistencies of Democratic arguments an best be portrayed. Having nothing, our opponents have nothing to present; they are in business only to ind fault with those who do something; sarcasm and ridicule, like the envy which follows success, are their stock trade. We have no fear they will leceive the Republican and indepenlent voters of this land, but believing the power of organization we earn declare the imperative necessity that devolves upon every Republican f casting his vote upon election day for the maintenance, of Republican principles. No citizen should evade that solemn task; no true Republican will. The right of suffrage is the highest privilege as it is the highest duty of the citizen. Representing the Republican clubs of the United States this convention, therefore, respectfully directs the at-tention of the 2,000,000 of voluntary workers who compose it, to the great mportance of active, energetic aggressive campaign work. The speaker called attention to the rise of genealogical societies in America and Europe. The explanation of this unusual desire on the part of so many people in this respect is found in the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon mankind. only they have a desire to do so. And this information will be used for the work of God. Elder Cannon bore a strong testimony of the truth of the latter-day work.

REGISTRARS REMOVED.

'American" Party Not Entitled To Such Officers.

Two "American" canvassers in the ersons of Rudolph Alff and Frank Jordan have been summarily removed from the office of registrar in the Sixth and Twenty-second districts respectives, by for the good and sufficient reason hat they were found working for and belonging to a party that has prac-tically no standing whatever in the community, to say nothing of the requi-site number of votes to entitle it to these officers. Of course, their removal has caused an upheaval in the office of the "American" organ, which this norning practically attempts to read Jounty Chairman Joseph U. Eldredge, out of the Republican party. Mr. Sldredge, however, is not the least per-urbed in the matter, as he argues, and rightly, too, that workers for the "A. P. U." should not be permitted to wear the mask of Republican registrars. The removals were made by the board of unty commissioners, and C. C. Brown and H. J. Benson have been chosen succeed Alff and Jordan respectively. It is stated that Mr. Alff may be tendered county commissionership on the new ticket, while Mr. Jordan's name is mencity constable.
