Recaptured.—Shortly after 10 o'clock last night, Hank Wheeler and Fred Smith, the two horse thieves who escaped from the penitentiary yesterday, made their appearance on First West Street, near Fourth South, and were observed by Deputies Gleason and Bush, who arrested them. They were taken back to the penitentiary, and it will probably be some time before they are again permitted to act as trusties.

A Lost Boy.—The parents of Thos. Lorenz Vauhan will be pleased and comforted to receive information of his whereabouts. He is a boy about twelve years of age and left home on March 30th. When he left he had on a pair of overalls, boots, a black coat and a brown hat. It appears he took some of his parents' money when he left, and it is thought he absents himself from fear of punishment. We are requested to state, however, that if he will return he will be forgiven. It has been stated that he was in Salt Lake City; also that he was in San Francisco.—Ogden Herald.

Another Raid.—We are informed by a correspondent from Springville that a raid occurred there on the 6th, when the deputies searched several houses and finally succeeded in arresting J. Houtz and Jesse Gardner, who were taken to Provo and bound over. On the morning of the 9th, another lot of deputies dropped down on the place and went through several houses, but went back to Provo with empty game-bags. As usual, no search-warrants were exhibited, but the officers ransacked with as much vigor as though they had that once indispensable prerequisite to the invasion of private property.

Scott Arbuckle Killed.—Aspen, April 9.—Yesterday Scott Arbuckle, employed by the Colorado Coal and Iron Company, and working on a coal claim in Jerome park, was killed in a tunnel. An enormous rock fell from the roof of the tunnel and literally crushed him to pieces. It required his fellow-workmen two hours to remove the debris and extricate the lifeless body. Deceased leaves a wife and children, who arrived in Aspen to-day. He was a step-son of Judge Miller, of Denver, and a brother of the Arbuckle killed in Leadville several years ago by J. S. Bush, and another brother lives in Denver, who arrived this evening.—Denver News.

New Mexican R. R.—A dispatch to the San Francisco Chronicle from Albuquerque, N. M., April 9th, says:

The Board of Trade of this city at their meetings last night and this morning completed the preliminary arrangements toward incorporating the Albuquerque, Durango & Pacific Railroad. The enterprise starts out with the best and wealthiest citizens of Albuquerque, Durango, Rico, Alhambra and Telluride at its back, and enough money has already been subscribed to pay for the preliminary survey. The road will run from Albuquerque through a portion of the richest agricultural and mineral lands of New Mexico, and crossing the continental divide will descend through the celebrated fruitful San Juan valley to the city of Durango, one of the most flourishing cities of Colorado, thence into the Montezuma valley to the cities of Rico and Telluride, via the Las Animas and Dolores valleys. The articles of incorporation are drawn up and one of the most active and wealthy projectors of the new road says will be commenced on it immediately after the report of the surveyors has been adopted.

A Wonderful Invention.—Mr. E. J. Moore, a special agent of the Excelsior Manufacturing Co., of St. Louis, gave a practical exhibition in this city yesterday of the advantages of the new wire gauze attachment to the Charter Oak Stove, which drew a large crowd of interested spectators all day long. The invention of the wire gauze door is really marvelous for its simplicity and effectiveness. By its use meat may be roasted or bread or other dishes baked in a stove heated to the highest temperature possible without the slightest danger of burning in one part before being cooked in another. Biscuits were baked to a nicety upon the occasion mentioned in less than three minutes, and meat roasted in a fraction of the time it would require with the ordinary oven doors, and that too quite thoroughly, with the juices of the meat retained in it. Indeed, it is claimed that food baked or roasted by this process will weigh one tenth more than by the old process, owing to the fact that the fresh air which circulates freely through the even while the cooking is going on, prevents it drying up and shrinking.

Brother T. V. Williams, manager of the hardware department of Z. C. M. I., has such faith in the new invention that he has already ordered a car-load of the stoves with the wire gauze doors, which include all the popular sizes of the Charter Oak stoves and ranges, and he expresses the opinion that as fast as the merits of the wire gauze door become known it will be preferred to any other.

Notorious Robbers Sentenced.—Helena, April 9.—At Albion, Idaho, yesterday Judge Hayes passed sentence upon three notorious stage robbers, tried and convicted at Blackfoot last September. Bill Johnson, leader of the gang, got twenty years, and Lovett and Young each eight years imprisonment in the Territorial prison at Boise City. The history of the robbery shows one of the cleverest plots ever perpetrated in the annals of crime in the west, and the work of the detectives and officers of the Pacific Express Company most cunning and skillful.

In February, 1886, Johnson, represented himself as a live-stock dealer, left a package with the Pacific Express agent at Albion, Idaho, addressed to the First National Bank, Laramie, Wyoming, with the valuation of $35,000 marked thereon, for which he took the agent's receipts and gave directions that the package be sent by express as addressed. The package was duly forwarded. The stage carrying the package from Albion to Minidoka, a station on the line of the Oregon Short Line Railway, was "held up" in approved style and robbed by three masked men. The robbers made their escape. About a fortnight after the robbery Johnson turns up and files a claim against the express company for $35,000. In the meantime the express company had made this important discovery that the package contained worthless papers, the whole thing was a put-up job to extort money from them and Johnson and two of his confederates were the perpetrators. Johnson and his pals were soon arrested and placed behind the bars. They had two trials. In December last they broke jail at Blackfoot, stole some Indian ponies and made a bold dash for liberty. They were pursued by officers and Shoshone Indians, and recaptured after a hard fight, in which Johnson and Young received serious wounds. Subsequent to being sentenced yesterday, Johnson made a clean breast of his and his companions' guilt.—Butte Miner.

EXCOMMUNICATED.

To whom it may concern:
This certifies that at a meeting of the High Council of the Morgan Stake of Zion held in the Stake House, January 5th, 1887, Fred. Kingston was excommunicated from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints for conduct unbecoming a Latter-day Saint.

A YOUNG GIRL INTERCEPTED

BY A BRUTAL RUFFIAN.

A day or two since Agnes Carruthers, aged 14 years, a resident of the Eighteenth Ward, went up City Creek Cañon to procure water-cress, promising her parents that she would be home by 5 o'clock. She did not return, however, until between 8 and 9, causing much alarm in the household pending her arrival. She was taken home by some relatives who reside in the Nineteenth Ward. It appears that on her way up the cañon the girl passed a man. She walked along some distance and saw the same fellow on a rising ground, he having ran around a circuitous path evidently for the purpose of intercepting her. She felt greatly alarmed and proceeded on her way homeward at a rapid gait, but had gone but a short distance when the same person appeared on the road in front of her, held a pistol at her and told her to stop. The girl said, "You had better let me pass as my father is just down there," pointing down the road. The fellow turned his head to look in the direction indicated, when the child started on a run along the west side of the cañon, pursued by the base scoundrel. The girl being swift of foot escaped, not stopping until she arrived at the house of her relative in the Nineteenth Ward. The intention of the brutal wretch is obvious, and the facts of this incident are published by way of warning to parents not to allow their daughters to wander alone into out-of-the-way places. There are some bad men prowling about this city just now.

TWELVE OUT OF FIFTEEN.

THE GRAND JURY PANEL NOT YET COMPLETED.

To-day, in the Third District Court, the efforts to get a grand jury for the April term were continued, and resulted in selecting twelve out of the necessary fifteen members. The following were called for examination as to their qualifications:

173 G. B. Barstow,	30 E. G. Holding,
159 T. J. Wilcox,	65 L. B. Rogers,
108 Henry Druce,	37 Henry Monheim,
74 G. E. Bourne,

Mr. Holding stated that he was engaged as manager of the telephone exchange, and was excused on that account.

Mr. Barstow did not believe plural marriage was right, and was passed.

Mr. Wilcox expected to shortly leave the Territory and settle in Idaho, and was excused.

Mr. Rogers passed.

Mr. Druce did not believe in polygamy. He had been a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, but was cut off eighteen years ago; he believed in enforcing the law, and would enforce it in all proper ways; knew of nothing, by reason of his former association that would interfere with his action; had nothing to fear and no one to favor as a grand juror.

Mr. Monheim was passed.

Mr. Bourne believed in the doctrine of plural marriage and was excused.

Mr. Boyer, who was sworn in yesterday was asked some additional questions by Mr. Varian. He stated that he had made an error yesterday in saying he was not a member of the "Mormon Church," he had been, and six months ago requested that his name be removed from the Church records, but did not know whether or not it had been done; he did not believe in anything—either in the Bible, Book of Mormon or Doctrine and Covenants; was willing to enforce the law against polygamy and unlawful cohabitation as interpreted by the courts; knew of difficulty in enforcing the law; would not give his neighbors away; lived in Upton, Summit County; knew people in polygamy, but would not betray them. He was challenged and excused.

The following then took their places on the anxious seat:

45 Jacob Alt,	44 John H. Reese,
97 Jacob Veiser,	20 Richard Brimley,

Mr. Alt did not believe in plural marriage and was accepted.

The three remaining were excused, Messrs. Reese and Brimley being believers in plural marriage, and Mr. Veiser because he "didn't own nothing."

Mr. Varian turned to Mr. Druce and asked whether he would inform on any persons whom he believed were living in polygamy.

Mr. Druce replied that he would rather not, and was excused.

The remainder of those in attendance were called as follows:

70 John H. White,	5 Thomas Mitchell,
42 Walter J. Poulton,	4 Fergus Coalter,
26 David E. Fullmer,

Mr. Mitchell had taxable property, though he paid no taxes. He was accepted.

Messrs. White Poulton, Fullmer and Coalter were all excused for their belief in the rightfulness of plural marriage.

As but 12 jurors had been secured, a special venire was issued for the following, returnable at 10 a.m. on Thursday:

148 Marion Brady,	167 John Neimoyer,
168 Orrin Bates,	169 Wm. Parker,
127 H. D. Jones,	191 Wm. Fenemore,
176 Richard Dargin,	177 F. S. Fox,
185 Daniel McDonald,	135 Wm. R. Waples,
137 G. L. Bemis,	160 S. W. Orme, Sen.,
158 Wm. M. Rydalen,	39 Moses Hirschman,

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, APRIL 13.

Goes Over for the Term.—To-day, in the Third District Court, F. S. Richards, Esq., moved that the case of the United States vs. John Q. Cannon, charged with polygamy, be continued for the term, owing to the inability of an important witness to be present in time for the trial. The motion was granted.

Wanted, "Dead or Alive."—John J. Whallen, chief-of-police at Louisville, Ky., has sent to this city offers of $200 reward for the capture, "dead or alive," of Gottlieb Laib, who disappeared from Louisville on March 16th, 1887. Laib was a saloon keeper, and is described as 52 years of age; weight about 160 pounds; five feet eight inches high; dark hair; gray eyes; oval face; is a typical German in appearance.

The Wool Growers' Meeting.—On Friday next the Wool Growers' Association of Southern Utah will hold its spring meeting at Nephi, Juab County, and there is no doubt of a large attendance. The organization has assumed an important position in its special line since the sheep men united their interests last year. The action of the association at the coming meeting is looked forward to with considerable interest.

Habeas Corpus.—This afternoon the application, on writ of habeas corpus, of Amos H. Neff to be discharged from custody, was taken up before Judge Zane, Le Grand Young appearing for the petitioner, and Mr. Dickinson opposing. The petitioner has been imprisoned 30 days for a fine imposed under the provisions of the Edmunds law, and at the examination before Commissioner McKay the latter refused to discharge him.

Fell Down Stairs.—To-day Robert McIntosh, who is serving a term in the city jail for battery upon Thomas Daniels, was engaged in the corridor of the prison whitewashing the ceiling. He was up on a step-ladder, and was reaching over the staircase below, when one of the supports of the ladder broke with the strain, and Mr. McIntosh was precipitated about sixteen feet to the stairs below. He was considerably shaken up, his right leg, between the knee and ankle, being badly bruised. An examination showed that no bones were broken, but he will be laid up for a few weeks from the injuries.

The Young Family.—The following has been handed in with a request to publish:

To all who are in any way related to the Young Family, Greeting:

We are making another effort to collect the genealogy of the Young family, preparatory to writing up our family record, and will take it as a favor if all who know themselves to be in any way related to the family will send us their names in full, together with the names of wives, husbands and children in full, with the dates of births, deaths and marriages.

Please attend to this matter at once lest it be forgotten, and not attended to at all. It is very important that all the names are in, that each may be arranged in proper order. Address undersigned, 703 E. 7th South St., Salt Lake City, Utah, and oblige.

Yours affectionately,
Salt Lake City, L. D. YOUNG.

Sued for Killing a Child.—It will be remembered that about July 30th, 1886, a child was run over and killed on the Utah & Northern at Henevyle, Box Elder County. The father of the child, William E. Hyde, has entered suit against the company for $35,000 damages. The complaint sets forth that "its said railroad conducted itself so carelessly, negligently, recklessly and wantonly, that by and through the carelessness, negligence, default and wantonness of defendant and its servants, it caused one of its trains of cars driven by a locomotive to run over Truman Edward Hyde, an infant child of said plaintiff, of the age of four and one-half years, which then happened casually to be upon defendants' said railroad track, and then and there and thereby caused the immediate death of plaintiff's said child, without any fault of the said child or of this plaintiff." Plaintiff, therefore, prays for judgment against defendant in the sum above named. Messrs. F. S. Richards and Sheeks & Rawlins are attorneys for plaintiff and the papers in the case were filed in the First District Court to-day.—Ogden Herald, April 12.

Court Notes.—Proceedings in the Third District Court to-day: Soren C. Syndergard, Wm. Miller and Wm. May were admitted to citizenship.

Eliza Durnell vs. Joseph Sowden; motion for new trial overruled.

United States vs. John Q. Cannon; polygamy; continued for the term. Herald Publishing Company vs. J. C. Parker; fifteen days further time to answer.

In the matter of the United States vs. A. H. Neff, on application for discharge of the defendant from custody, a hearing before the Court was in progress.

Ogden Iron Works.—A few days since the Ogden Herald called attention to the fact that a gentleman from Chicago was in that vicinity with the intention of starting iron works there. Since then some further information, which is herewith given, has been obtained. It is not intended to make use of the old works here, but to start an entirely new plant. The gentleman previously referred to, Mr. J. S. Campbell, states that a stock company with a large amount of capital is already organized, and but for the gentleman's ill-health the steps towards the establishment of the works would be further advanced than they are. It is stated that railroad spikes and nails of all kinds can be made there for one cent, per pound less than they can be made at any other place. In addition to this the patronage of the railroads for these goods could be easily secured because scrap iron could be taken in part payment for them. The railroad companies could thus turn to good advantage something which heretofore had been almost valueless. The gentleman who gives this information is interested in two or three different establishments which manufacture iron and is therefore speaking from experience.

A short time since Messrs. Little, McCane and others discovered a valuable iron mine, which is located about four miles east of Ogden City. They now have several tons of ore on the dump. The ore is of good grade, and, it is said, would be more suitable for the manufacture of the class of articles mentioned than any other yet found. The owners of this mine believe they have a bonanza and are only waiting for a profitable market for their ore, in order to develop their prospect.

With good ore in such close proximity there is every encouragement for the establishment of good iron works. Furthermore, it is stated the company which has in contemplation the operation of iron works there would probably purchase the mine.

DESTROYING PROPERTY.

THREE FORT DOUGLAS "BOYS" MAKE THINGS LIVELY IN AND OUT OF JAIL.

About midnight last night a crowd of soldiers were going along First South Street, between East Temple and First East, and were engaged in "making night hideouts." One of the number, Morris Lane, of Company B, was being taken along by two others, and when in front of G. F. Culmer & Bros. he darted away from them, ran to the big show window and drove his fist through the plate glass, breaking out a large piece, which, falling on some bottled goods in the window, created general havoc, and did about $125 damage. Lane's hand was badly cut by the action.

The nightwatchman, Thomas Dobson, attempted to get the culprit to the City Hall, but Lane resisted and was aided by David Wagner, of the same company, and a companion who gave him the name of "Jumbo," from Company K. After considerable trouble, the watchman and two of the police succeeded in lodging the three ruffians in jail, where they are now held to await trial on the charges of disturbing the peace and malicious destruction of property.

The belligerent trio were not satisfied, however, with their exploits on the street. After they were lodged in jail they continued their efforts to "paint the town red," but within a limited area. They tore up a mattress given for their accommodation, then turned their attention to the stove, which they tore down and literally smashed to pieces, rendering the purchase of a new one necessary.

This afternoon a complaint under the Territorial statutes was made out before Justice Pyper, and the offenders will have an opportunity to receive a reward for their crimes.

After the most exhaustive practical tests in hospitals and elsewhere, the gold medal and certificate of highest merit were awarded to St. Jacobs Oil, as the best pain-curing remedy, at the Calcutta International Exhibition.
