No REMEDY of the age is achieving more successful and widely appreciated results than GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP. It is confessedly the best specific for diseases of the skin, and by the feminine portion of the community it is recognized as an incomparable beautifier of the complexion. Those who have either experienced or witnessed its effects have been convinced in the most practical way possible that it is genuinely efficacious. It has largely superseded the use of Sulphur Baths, which are among the best known of medicinal agencies, simply for the reason that it is quite as fruitful of curative results as a bath of sulphur, and is more convenient, and does its work at far lighter cost. The cuticle through its influence acquires unwonted purity and smoothness, a consideration of no small importance to ladies troubled with complexional defects. Scabs, burns, eruptions, cuts, sores, bruises and sprains are cured by it, and the pain which they cause speedily alleviated. Dandruff is dispelled by its use; a fact of moment to persons whose hair is prematurely falling out in consequence of a proper want of moisture in the scalp, a deficiency amply compensated for by GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which opens the pores and so keeps the scalp cool and moist. When clothing or linen become infected, it may be easily disinfected by thoroughly washing and rinsing with the Soap, which for bleaching purposes is unrivaled. It is equally effective in removing grease, dirt, and the whitening of snow. Of obnoxious diseases caused by contact with the person it is an infallible preventive as well as an excellent remedy. Those diseases of the skin for which "Sulphur Ointments" were long and erroneously regarded as the only efficient remedy, and which are eradicated with far greater certainty by GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which instead of soiling the linen like the compounds alluded to is so innocuous as to be used on the face without a drawback, and with many and unmistakable points of superiority.

Tabernacle Services.—The congregation, yesterday afternoon, which was large, and included quite a number of strangers, was addressed by Apostle Orson Pratt. His subject was the Book of Mormon, its character, history and purpose. He began by expressing his pleasure at being able to state that the task was finished for which he had been absent nine months in Great Britain, viz., the revision and electrotyping of the Book of Mormon and Doctrine and Covenants. All should be acquainted with these books. In the eyes of the Latter-day Saints, they were as sacred as any revelation that ever came from God. The Book of Mormon had been published 49 years. Its existence was revealed to Joseph Smith, when a boy, and he translated it by the gift and power of God. We had not only Joseph's testimony, but that of eleven others, as to its divine authenticity, and their testimony could not be controverted. It was also predicted by the ancient prophets. If the Book of Mormon was not the one referred to by them, then we must still look for a book similar in character, for the prophecy must be fulfilled. This book, with the Latter-day Saints, is as sacred as the Bible. And why should it not be? The Bible contained no declaration that the canon of Scripture was to be filled in its compilation. The compilation of what is now termed the Bible, was not predicted. We could not limit God's revelations to humanity to the Jews, and assert that their Bible was the only word of God. Were not the ancient tribes of Israel all equally favored of God? Elijah and Elisha, two of Israel's greatest prophets, were not of Judah, but of the other Ten Tribes. Their revelations were just as sacred, though, as if the writers had been Jews, and were incorporated into the Jewish Bible. The Nephites on this land also received divine manifestations and revelations. They were also of Israel. Would God leave them without guidance? The Book of Mormon was the record of these Nephites. Why should it, though inconsistent with the character of God to be impartial in administering to his children? Is He limited in his power? Does not Jeremiah say that in the last days knowledge is to cover the earth as the waters cover the great deep? Who is harmed by additional revelation to the Bible? Did it injure Matthew's testimony because Mark wrote after him, or Luke because John wrote? Neither was the Bible invalidated or injured in the least, because the Book of Mormon and Doctrine and Covenants were given to bear witness to, and corroborate it. Strangers present, perhaps, thought these were beautiful theories if they could only believe them. What kind of testimony did they require? Twelve men had testified that the Book of Mormon was a divine record, and their testimony had never been retracted nor successfully controverted. Was other evidence wanted? Then obey the Gospel and the Holy Ghost would testify the same thing, and every baptized believer could obtain a personal knowledge for himself that this book was a divine revelation and that this Church the only true one upon the face of the earth.

The gathering of Israel was predicted in the latter days. Was it to be fulfilled? The evidence was before the world to-day, in the gathering of the Latter-day Saints, who were the only people gathering, or who could be made to do so. Other denominations lacked the union necessary to enable the people to engage in so stupendous an undertaking. This, however, was only the beginning. The Saints would yet be numbered, not only by hundreds of thousands, but by millions. Their future destiny was as the Sandwich Islands, not Australia, nor any of the lands of the sea. Where was it? The speaker prophesied that before many years western Missouri, eastern Kansas, and the neighboring regions would be occupied by a happy, prosperous, peaceable people, cultivating the earth, building cities and beautifying the land in every way. These would be the Latter-day Saints, and will testify to the fact that the gathering of Israel would be in Jackson County, Missouri. When the question would be asked, "Where have they come from?" the answer would be, "From the nations of the earth, from the mountains of Utah, from the islands of the sea." They would purchase the lands, there God would send them for a dwelling, and there was no law to prevent them doing so. This was no idle dream. It was the promise of God, and the faith of his people. They had seen too many of his promises fulfilled to doubt the truth of this. The speaker blessed the congregation and closed his discourse.

The choir sang the anthem, "Daughter of Zion."

District Court.—Proceedings in the District Court, Monday, Sep. 8, 1879. C. J. Hunter, presiding.

J. G. Sutherland vs. George C. Cramer et al.; the Court gave its reasons and opinions hearing thereupon. Demurrer sustained as to that part of the answer setting forth a compliance with the statutes in its requirements, as not fairly shown by the answer. That branch of the demurrer disclaiming obligation to pay, overruled. Right to seize unlawful under the new law. Defendants except. (Held in abeyance till Wednesday.)

S. J. Jones vs. Salt Lake City; demurrer sustained; complaint dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

Arie Pinedo vs. Wm. Hyndman et al.; demurrer overruled; 15 days to answer.

Louis Luman vs. C. D. Schell et al.; demurrer sustained; plaintiff excepts; ten days to amend.

Henry Barnes vs. Utah Coal Mining and Coke Company; report of E. T. Spague, referee, this day filed. By consent, cause placed at foot of calendar, upon motion for judgment on report of referee, the defendant waiving notice of filing such report and of such motion.

Wm. Wale vs. American Central Insurance Company; demurrer to complaint argued, sustained and taken under advisement.

Court adjourned till Tuesday, at 10 a. m.
