

WANT RENOMINATION

Some of the Present Office Incumbents Will Run Again.

10:15 IN THE JOINT BUILDING.

Early All County Officers Bureau of Registration—Recognition of the People.

It is interesting to the citizen to see about and "back up" things political generally, not forgetting the applicants for favors at the disposal of the people.

The Democrats, rejuvenated by their party's free silver signs, are early in the field with a county ticket upon which the best thought for vote-getting qualities has been concentrated and set upon. The party goes into the field for the coming election self-reliant and confident of success in the battle for supremacy in Salt Lake county. The friends of the candidates claim for their favorites all the qualities of good officers and are banking on their political armor with an alacrity which would be surprising in view of recent reverses, were not ample explanation readily seen in the impetuous popular heart in the West, given the party in its Chicago convention and materially augmented since all over the land.

The Republicans are behind their opponents. In the matter of placing a ticket in the field in this county, but that is accounted for in the presence of a former lack of harmony which it has required time to overcome. To say that any discouragement is felt by the party as to local results would be to state conditions incorrect. Success is not a matter of time, but of means. Heavy hopes for November triumph. While the party's ticket has not yet been announced there is not, by all odds, a doubt of men who are anxious to do the work of protection in a word of silver and to try to overcome with their friends, "a county." This will be the intention.

The present ticket is in effect on the board of county commissioners are all three willing to run on the people in a similar capacity for another year. They are all men of proven ability and are all willing to be tested. It is admitted that the "silver and gold" cannot consistently be turned in the direction of all they have done; but there are other competent parts of their record of whom all men might learn.

Chairman Geddes of the board is known in a neighborhood as the honesty of his action in that capacity and his integrity in this a successful candidate.

Commissioner Christensen will see for public favor as a general test of his honesty and his honesty was evident that his supporters will be lavishly rewarded by the voters.

Commissioner K. H. Jones, a secure in a record of conscientious action and the strength in rallying districts which he has cultivated to claim.

Then there is A. K. Rose, at present a deputy in the county clerk's office. He will go before the convention to present his claim in the way of an initiative experience in the county clerkship which it would take a "green hand" considerable time to acquire. Charlie Stanton is not at present seeking reelection to the county clerkship and Mr. Rose is therefore more confident of success. His friends are all well known and his political skill are projected to do yeoman service in his behalf.

In a more recent matter before the board of county commissioners, the gentleman for the office of county auditor is Mr. M. F. Fisher, the present incumbent. Mr. Fisher's friends say, the matter must be viewed in a strictly business light and the contest in his behalf will be pushed vigorously.

Having held the office only since last June, Mr. Fisher's supporters say his incumbency has been just long enough to get a complete insight into the business of the office, and short enough to make it an injustice to deny him continuance in office should he party prove successful. At any rate the matter wants a "fighting chance."

For nomination to the Republican ticket for the office of county attorney, Mr. G. W. Watters, the present incumbent, and Mr. George L. Nye are applicants.

Mr. Watters' candidature was at first eyed with much suspicion by his party on account of the failure of some important prosecutions in which the people were deeply interested, but after weighing all the circumstances entering into and constituting elements of difficulty usually thrown into the way of conviction in cases of this kind, Republicans generally are content to watch the contest on the floor of the convention and "let the best man win" as between Mr. Watters and Mr. Nye.

Mr. George L. Nye has not had an opportunity to show his ability as a public prosecutor. But his friends, however, will supporters at the election of Democracy outside in him a bright young fellow, and it will be interesting to note the kind of a fight he will "put up" against his more experienced rival.

Notwithstanding Harry Joseph wants the Republican nomination to live him an active and energetic political arm with C. A. Wilson, the Democratic candidate. Harry claims the ability to "down-south" Salt Lake county popularity in a manner to surprise the most sanguine opponent. And his friends are quite "bull" on it.

The Democratic party has found the financial basis as the permanent one and all others are left out of it. In this campaign, Republicans being obliged to take up the question of acknowledgment that they are not "in it." But it is interesting to note that notwithstanding the fact that members of both parties almost "fill over one another" in place an equal suffrage provision in the State Constitution, they are not silent on the question. Equally enthusiastic in the attitude in the question. But a candidate has to be an ardent supporter and advocate.

A forced recognition is welcomed as better than no recognition at all and, besides, it is an acknowledgment of some strength in the party able to command it.

To undo some of what has been done will be one of the duties of the next Legislature, and the candidate of either ticket will be expected, particularly for their activities in this direction. The absence of law-making requires intelligent study, and undoubtedly the voters will be careful in their selection for the coming body. A U. S. V.

TARGET RANGE.

Selection of a site for the base of the U. S. G. V.

Under Special Order No. 20 from the headquarters of the National Guard of Utah, a board consisting of Colonel Henry Page, Captain J. O. Nystrum and Lieutenant J. D. Ford was ordered to proceed with the selection of a suitable target range for small arms practice near the city for the use of the local organization. Yesterday evening the board made the following report and recommendation, which has been approved by the Adjutant General:

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, September 20, 1896.

Pursuant to Special Order No. 20 the board has just from time to time to consider the location of a target range for the Salt Lake militia, and the National Guard. They have considered with a number of officers of the board and have personally examined several locations, to assist them in arriving at a conclusion, and while no one view is found to be wholly satisfactory, the board is of the opinion that the location of a target range just beyond the Warm Springs junction, near the intersection of the main line of the Utah and Pacific railroad, is the most desirable. This location is about two miles and two and one-half miles from the city and is well suited for the purpose. MRS. SENATOR WARREN.

Why Paine's Celery Compound is Famed in Washington Families.

Many persons out of health have found an answer in hot weather by doing nothing toward getting well.

"I will not admit that," they have promised themselves.

It is now time, if ever, in thousands of cases, to keep that promise.

Nothing should now interfere with building up the weakened system.

Now is the time of year when rheumatism and neuralgia seem to be coming with daily and nervousness must be avoided, when, had health must be made.

The natural, unobscured, crispness of the skin is from lack of water in the fall and winter months.

It is not that rheumatism, neuralgia, headache and kidney troubles are held every day by cold, but that they are made a habit of suffering with—but they make themselves steadily inveterate by neglecting the first symptoms of disease.

Thousands of lives that are now being wasted, would be prolonged if Paine's celery compound were in each household used to keep the system in good order, to build up the system, to strengthen the system, and to keep the system in good order.

The delicate delicacy is shown by its steady employment for treated physicians and in. Some people happy by its unobscured power of making people well.

It is a fact verified by the people of the best families, and by thousands of prominent business men that Paine's celery compound is a most valuable remedy for all ailments of the system, and in all cases of weakness, and in all cases of disease.

No Rest No Sleep Day or Night. My hands were completely covered with blisters, and between my fingers the skin was peeling away. I had no sleep for three days and was nearly dead. I tried the Royal Baking Powder and found it to be the best thing I ever used. It cured my hands and gave me my sleep back.
