

and equipment for two hundred miles of standard gauge railroad, to be constructed in Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory, during the year 1880. Fifteen hundred tons of the rails are now on board the ship Orient, soon to sail from Cardiff for Portland. One hundred miles will be built from Dalles up the Columbia River to connect with the existing Walla Walla Railroad. Fifty miles more would be an extension of the latter to Snake River, and the remainder will connect Texas Ferry on Snake River with the heart of the Palouse country. It is stated that these extensions and new constructions are made for the purpose of opening up in conjunction with the Northern Pacific the great grain producing district of Eastern Washington Territory. The line of the Northern Pacific in this region extends from the mouth of Snake River north eastwardly to Bitter Root Mountains a distance of 200 miles.

The Herald prints an interview with leading brokers here and a citizen of Patterson, New Jersey, showing Tilden's recent purchase of New York and Oswego Midland Railway, to be part of a scheme for a new outlet from the west. It is believed by many he is also buying up New Jersey Midland, its stock having advanced from 65 to 75 in 90 days. The Herald infers that Tilden has been trying to obtain advantage of the New York Central, by equipping a rival road to the west, and that Vanderbilt, to head Tilden off by securing and monopolizing the western connections and extensions, had to let the Wabash interest into the direction of the New York Central.

The World's Washington correspondent in view of the trouble with the Utes, interviewed some army officers with the following results: Sherman said, I have nothing to say. If the commission effect anything it will save us from a long vexatious war. I sincerely hope they may be successful. We have nothing to do with the matter.

McCook, of Sherman's staff, said, Ouray is with them. He knows they cannot be brought to Washington for trial. If I was there I would take them prisoners without waiting any longer. I have had but one opinion in regard to this matter from the beginning, and that was that it is absurd to temporize with these Utes.

Adjutant General Townsend said: I never from the first have thought the Indian murderers would be given up. The Interior Department has now exhausted all its resources. The war, for it will come, will rest on the Utes. Government will not be to blame.

Adjutant General Drum said, when asked if he believed the Utes would be given up, No, it is absurd. The Indians at the council are as deep in the mud as the others whom they propose to deliver, are in the mire. I do not believe the real guilty parties will ever be given up.

Will there be war? I do not know, Drum replied, I can better judge what the Indians won't do than what the government will do, because the question, so far as government is concerned, is divided between two departments.

BOSTON, 10.—The municipal election yesterday resulted in the election of Mayor Prince, democrat, by a plurality of 2,763. The aggregate vote is 35,473, of which Prince got 18,705, Stebbins, republican, 16,033, King, greenback candidate, 357; McDavitt, Butler democrat, 287. In Salem, Henry K. Oliver, republican, was re-elected mayor, and G. A. Sanderson, greenback, re-elected in Lynn.

In this city and other points in the State, where the women voted for member of the school committee, the reports show that the ladies voted nearly, if not quite up to their full registration, which in Boston was nearly a thousand. They generally voted early in the day and came to the polls prepared all ready with ballots, an association of ladies favorable to the cause having sent by mail to all registered lady voters, tickets headed with the names of candidates for members of the school committee. The decorum at the polls and the courtesy shown the new element in the voting population was a noticeable feature of the day.

A carefully prepared report from Gloucester, Mass., gives a fearful record of men lost in the fisheries from that port and of vessels wrecked the past year. The statement, so far as the loss of life is concerned, is entirely unprecedented in the history of the business. Scarcely a week but has witnessed some destruction. Thirteen vessels went down, 143 men were drowned, 56 women were widowed, and 150 children made orphans by a single February gale. So overwhelming a calamity could not fail to awaken generous sympathy, and $20,218 was contributed to feed, clothe and shelter the survivors of the lost mariners. The February gale, however, furnishes but part of the direful history of the Gloucester fisheries of 1879. In all 30 vessels, comprising over one-tenth part of the fishing tonnage of the port, valued at $118,789 sailed to return no more, and 240 lives were lost, leaving 88 widows and 219 fatherless children.

AUGUSTA, Me., 10.—Petitions for the investigating of the records continue to be made and several were handed in to-day in addition to those already presented. Herbert M. Heath one of the attorneys for Washington County was permitted to examine the returns to-day, and avers the republican ticket in Washington County was undoubtedly elected.

To-morrow Judge Virgin will hear the application for mandamus in this city. It is rumored that the Secretary of State will then make answer that the returns will be henceforth open for inspection to representatives elect and their attorneys. If this answer is made no issue is left before the court because that was what is sued.

LAWRENCE, Kansas, 10.—The Lawrence Journal will publish to-morrow morning, on account of the Pottawatomie massacre in May, 1856, by James Townsley, who was an eyewitness. Mr. Townsley's statement settles in the affirmative the bitterly disputed question whether old Judge Brown was present and participated in the killing. Brown led the company, killed the first man and remained with the company until they returned to camp.

CINCINNATI, O., 10.—A frightful accident occurred last evening on the Whitewater Valley Railroad, near Harrison, Ohio, by which four persons were instantly killed. The construction train was closely following the passenger train, ran into a wagon crossing the road, containing Peter Singer, Mat. Singer, Mrs. Maggie Singer, Peter Nuse and Miss Ella Hurley. The first four named were instantly killed and Miss Hurley was injured.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, 9.—A Berlin dispatch says: Close to the Odessa Railway Station three mines filled with gunpowder and nitro-glycerine have been discovered.

A Castlebar letter says: After the evidence of the short hand writers and police witnesses had been concluded Brennan was committed for trial and bail was accepted for his appearance to answer. After he was released Brennan addressed the crowd from the window of his hotel. He announced that whatever he had said at Balla he was prepared to maintain. His words were loudly cheered.

A Vienna correspondent states that advices have been received from St. Petersburg that a full meeting of the Imperial Council will be held to-day to examine into the internal situation of Russia and determine upon the policy to be adopted. It is believed the decision will be of momentous importance for Russia and the whole of Europe.

Severe weather continues in Great Britain and on the Continent. Heavy snow falls are reported throughout Germany and Austrian-Switzerland and from Paris, Madrid, Brussels, Florence, Bologna, Milan, Genoa, Venice, Verona, and Rome. At Nantes the river Loire is frozen. The municipality of Paris has voted 500,000 francs for the relief of the poor. At 9 this morning the thermometer indicated five degrees above zero F. in Paris and in some of the suburbs six degrees below. The Seine is frozen.

LONDON, 10.—Winter in Switzerland has set in with almost unexampled fury. Within the past few days earthquakes, hurricanes and snow storms of unprecedented violence have occurred. Railroads are blockaded with snow drifts and fallen trees, and in Geneva, Berne, Neuchâtel, Fribourg and other points immense damage has been done to property and considerable loss of life reported.

The recent battle between the Montenegrins and Albanians was the bloodiest and most destructive in the history of the war. Not less than 1,500 troops are reported killed and at least 2,000 wounded. The fight was fought in the bitterest possible spirit, no quarter being given on either side.

The most distressing accounts continue to reach this place of the sufferings of people in Upper Silesia caused by famine. Crops were almost a total failure, and the latest advices are to the effect that not less than 200,000 people are suffering for food, many of whom must starve unless relief be furnished by the government.

The destruction of the dams on nearly all the principal rivers in Hungary and Transylvania and the terrible inundations are again filling the public mind with anxiety. But for the intense cold, ranging from 15 to 20 deg. B., Groszevadin and several villages around Pesth would have shared the fate of Szegedin. Several towns in Transylvania were partly inundated on Monday, and, as in Groszevadin, a great number of houses fell in, suddenly there came the flood. Hardly any preventive measure had been taken, and great damage to property is reported, but no loss of life. The continuance of frost can alone prevent the most serious disaster.

The Nouve Vremya of St. Petersburg states: The Governor of that city has ordered every householder to display a red lamp before his door nightly bearing the number of the house.

The Eastern Budget, organ of the Austrian embassy here, says: We hear from Serbia that Prince Alexander of Bulgaria is daily growing more unpopular and that serious apprehensions are felt for the safety of his throne. It is becoming evident that the country is threatened with anarchy.

Swallowing POISON

Spurts of disgusting mucus from the nostrils or upon the tonsils, Watery Eyes, Snuffles, Buzzing in the Ears, Deafness, Crackling sensations in the Head, Intermittent Pains over the Eyes, Fetid Breath, Nasal Twang, Scabs in the Nostrils and Tickling in the Throat are

SIGNS OF CATARRH.

No other such loathsome, treacherous and undermining malady curses mankind. One-fifth of our Children die of diseases generated by its Infectious Poison, and one-fourth of living men and women drag out miserable existences from the same cause. While asleep, the impurities in the nostrils are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs to poison every part of the system.

Dr. Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure absorbs the purulent virus and kills the seeds of poison in the farthest parts of the system. It will not only relieve, but certainly cure Catarrh at any stage. It is the only remedy which in our judgment, has ever yet really cured a case of Chronic Catarrh.
