LOCAL NEWS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 28.

James Howell.—Information has been requested, by letter to the Editor, regarding the present whereabouts of the family of James Howell, of Orset, Essex, England, who are believed to be in Utah, letters to them at their old home having been returned to the writer unopened. Address, William Marshall, Poplar Grove, Boone County, Illinois.

Found Dead—Not Murdered.—It was reported about the city, last evening, that a man named Woodbury had been murdered and robbed at Park City. It was too late to be mentioned in our last issue, and perhaps it is just as well that it was, for later advices have not confirmed the rumor of murder though it is now an established fact that the dead body of the man was found at the place mentioned.

The deceased was Nathaniel A. Woodbury, of the Second Ward, who has taught the District School there for some time, and has been spending his summer vacation in canvassing for the wagon firm of Lynch and Cottrell. He was found dead in a house near Park City, where he has been staying, and the cause of his death, as stated, was inordinate drinking. He was well educated and respected, and has written for the press over the nom de plume of "gnat," a paraphrase on the first syllable of his given name.

He left home several weeks ago, and since then his family have heard from him but once. The latest word was the telegram announcing his decease. His family have been in needy circumstances during his absence. He leaves a wife and several children. He was a native of Salem, Mass., and came here many years ago. The body will probably be brought here for interment, though $75 is required to be guaranteed for the embalming and forwarding of the body from the Park.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

At Ogden the Tabernacle was filled on Sunday with an immense congregation of Saints, who came to show the last offices of respect to the murdered Elders. The speakers on the occasion were Elder James Taylor and Apostle F. D. Richards.

At Paradise, the home of Elder Gibbs, where the body arrived about 5 a.m. on Saturday, a large bowery had been specially erected for the occasion. The casket was taken out of the case in which it had made the journey, but on removing the lid of the glass top, it was found that the remains were enveloped in a shroud, and the features could not be seen. Remarks were made by Presidents Thatcher and Cannon, by Apostle Taylor, and by Elder George F. Gibbs, brother of the deceased. The grave was dedicated by President Taylor.

A JEW'S GENEROSITY.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS TENDERED "MORMON" MISSIONARIES.

Mr. Cyrus H. Gold, who went out some distance on the Denver & Rio Grande line to meet the returning corpses of Elders Berry and Gibbs, and who thus had an excellent opportunity of conversing with Elder W. E. Robinson, who accompanied the remains home, heard from him of a circumstance which deserves public mention. Mr. Gold told it to a News representative last evening, and since then a letter has been received by Elder John Morgan from Elder B. H. Roberts which gives the occurrence, substantially as follows:

Immediately after receiving news of the tragedy and in view of the fact that a heavy expense would be entailed in securing and placing the bodies in a fit state for transportation, Elder Roberts telegraphed here for means. The application was promptly responded to, and the amount required was wired to him at Chattanooga. By some mistake, however, the money did not reach him when expected, and it was a day or two before the trouble could be corrected. In the meantime he and Elder Kimball were anxious to get the remains of their brethren and were in considerable perplexity as to how they could procure caskets and take the preliminary steps without money. In this extremity Mr. B. Moses, a Jewish merchant tailor of Chattanooga came nobly to their relief. He went their security for the caskets, the amount being $200, loaned Brother Roberts $100, and when Elder Kimball returned a few days afterwards to get the money from home and found that it had not come, Mr. Moses again stepped forward and raised $200 for him which enabled the brethren to go on in their operations and get the bodies home. "It was a case," says Brother Roberts feelingly, "of Judah helping Ephraim;" and an act of generosity of so rare occurrence in these heartless days of cold business transactions that it is at once conspicuous and likely to be long remembered.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

—Including calves, the cattle of Montana number over a million.

—The contracts have been let for the building of an opera house at Butte, M. T. It is to cost over $22,000.

—Frost has been experienced near Coalville, Summit County. No damage is reported as yet.

—Mount Baldy and adjacent peaks near Beaver have received a summer blanket in the form of a covering of beautiful snow.

—Salt Lake apples have appeared in Gunnison, (Col.) and sell, says a disgusted newspaper, "three scrawny ones for a dime."

—Agent Davis, of the Uintah Indian agency, thinks he has the best lot of savages in America. There are 1,100 on the reservation.

—Tombstone (Arizona) miners who have been laying off for three months have accepted an offer of $3 per day, and business has recommenced.

—A party of Ogden cricketers went out to Almy, Wyoming, to play against some amateurs there. The latter beat them last Saturday by a score of 107 to 75.

—Sam Hatton, arrested on the charge of murdering Aaron Morris at Ketchum, Idaho, has been held out bail to await the action of the grand jury.

—Wm. Mendenhall, Esq., of Springfield, was terribly kicked and bruised in the face by a horse a few days since. He was picked up insensible, but his sight will not be injured.

—A two pound carp has been caught in the Weber, which proves that that excellent fish will live and thrive in our mountain waters. It is only about two years since the carp were put in the stream.

—The Salt Lake base ballists who went to Montana a few days ago to play the Butte club, and who have had an easy time with the nines between here and there, seem to have met a Waterloo on Saturday. The Montana boys just walked away with them.

—Not everything is lovely in Butte, Montana. The city is too much in debt to build a city hall and there is a great amount of sickness, which the doctors ascribe to drinking hydrant water. But the place is booming nevertheless.

—A man named Whittaker met a painful death at the Grass Creek mine, Summit County, last Wednesday, by being ruptured and otherwise internally injured through the falling of a trunk upon him. He was about to place it on the cars when the train made an unexpected start, throwing him to the ground and precipitating the heavy chest upon his body.

—Packer, the cannibal, confined in a Gunnison (Col.) cell, now confesses that he killed Bell, one of his associates, cut strips from his body, and ate them. After having tasted human flesh, he found it so palatable that he prepared to camp on the spot for a few days, and on breaking camp he roasted an ore sack full of the meat to last him on his journey.

—A northern exchange gives the following idea of the cost of construction of the Canadian Pacific railroad through British Columbia. The average cost between Emory and Boston Bar, a distance of 29 miles, is over $80,000 per mile. Twenty miles of this has been hewn out of solid granite and carried through thirteen tunnels and over eight large and fourteen small bridges.

—Frank Morrell, while hauling ore from the Crescent mine, Park City, was precipitated under the wagon by the giving way of a brake. He had a trail wagon which also passed over his body, one wheel going across his stomach, one over his legs and another over his feet. He jumped up after his remarkable experience, mounted his fore wagon, which was loaded with three tons of ore, and proceeded to Park City, where he was found to have sustained only a few bruises.

—The Miles City Record tells how near Montana came to losing Judge Coburn. After the term of court in Bozeman he visited the National Park. While he was there a dispatch was sent to his Indiana home, offering him the Chief Justiceship of Utah. His wife telegraphed the dispatch to Helena. It was sent back to Bozeman. Meanwhile Congress was about to adjourn and somebody must be appointed. His friends reluctantly withdrew his name and another man was nominated and confirmed. The Utah office is considered a place of greater dignity. He might have accepted it had he known in time.—Butte (M. T.) Miner.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 27.

For Colorado.—President Joseph F. Smith, Apostle Erastus Snow and Elder John Morgan are on the point of taking a trip into Colorado, and will probably leave here Friday morning. They will first attend the approaching conference of the Emery Stake of Zion, and then go on to Manassah and the settlements on the San Juan. They will be absent about a month.

Surprise Party.—Mr. Leslie W. Snow, of whom the News has already stated that he was about to go East to enter upon a course of medical study, was tendered a surprise party last evening by the Bishop and Counselors also the Sunday School officers and teachers of the 14th Ward, in which school Brother Snow has been a faithful teacher for five years. A very pleasant time was spent and good wishes for the young gentleman's success were freely uttered. He starts to-morrow morning.

Reception.—There was a goodly gathering of family friends at the residence of Brother J. G. Read, of the 16th Ward, where himself and Sister Read dispensed the good things of earth in honor of their son's marriage (Brother J. B. Read) with the daughter of Brother James and Sister Sarah Bishop, late of Paradise, Cache County. The ceremony had been performed in the Temple at Logan, and congratulations were freely indulged, that so important an event in the life of a worthy and promising couple might be productive of all the blessings they could desire.

Commendable Energy.—The Relief Society of the Fifth Ward have been taking advantage of dull times by using the spare labor in erecting a good substantial little building to be used as a granary. The building is 16 feet by 14, with a good concrete and rock foundation which rises three feet above the ground. The walls from this floor are built with adobies. The material and labor, with the exception of the lumber, were all donated by the people or the ward, and the building, from foundation to roof, went up in about one and a half days. Bishop Brimley and counselors took an active part in the labor department.

A Painful Accident—Other Items.—O. W. Warner, of Moab, Emery County, writes under date of August 24th, 1884:

"Bishop R. H. Stewart is very sick; has not eaten anything for nine days, except a little broth. He could not swallow anything for 24 hours, but last night the gathering in his throat broke, and he is better at present. The complaint started as follows: While walking down to his farm one evening, a piece of barleygrass got into his mouth, and in pulling it out a piece got in his throat where it lodged and caused great pain. All means were tried to get it out, but in vain. However, since the swelling broke, we think he will recover."

Wm. Allred's baby died this morning 13 months old. The health of the people as a general thing is good.

Crops are good. It has been raining a good deal of late.

I lost a stack of wheat last week by fire, loss $250.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

—Laketown and Paris (Idaho) meeting houses are nearing completion.

—Dr. Dunford is spending some happy hours among relatives in the Bear Lake country.

—The Ogden City Council have so much to do that special sessions are necessary.

—Hon. James H. Hart, Church emigration agent, has returned to the scene of his labors in New York.

—Freighting is going ahead between Paris, (Idaho,) and Ogden. Better time is made than by the mail trains.

—In all eighteen cattle thieves paid for their crimes during the recent cleaning up by Montana vigilantes.

—Pagwoit, a Bannock chief, called on the editor of the Logan Journal last Monday. He has been in the Church about seven years.

—A couple of vagrants escaped from the Butte (M.T.) jail last Sunday morning. As they didn't stay around town at all the citizens are not muzzling.

The modest salutory of Robert S. Spence, Esq., as editor of the Bear Lake Democrat is in the number just to hand. The paper looks well and is newswy and bright.

A conjoint conference of the Relief Societies, Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement Associations and Primaries of Cache Stake will be held in the Logan Tabernacle Sept. 5th and 6th. Salt Lake visitors are expected.

A correspondent at Chester, Sanpete County, sends us a well written account of the memorial services held there last Sunday at 2 p.m. Lack of space forbids its publication in full; besides there were no especial points of interest which have not already been alluded to in these columns.

A Bear Lake editor talks like this: "On Thursday morning we were saluted by a genuine, old time, Bear Lake, August hoar frost. How pleasant it is to live antipodal, climatically speaking, to Salt Lake Valley. There they sweat and toil, and moan, and wipe their fevered brows. In Bear Lake we sleep between three pairs of blankets, and arise and sit down on a garden settee, and imagine ourselves about 140 pounds of ice cream, flavored with chills and fever. This is one reason we are always cool."

LAI'D TO REST.

ELDER BERRY'S REMAINS TAKEN HOME—SERVICES AT KANARRA.

Elder M. F. Cowley, who returned from Kanarra last evening in company with Elder James W. Eardley, these brethren having been appointed representatives in behalf of the sometime fellow-laborers of the martyred Elder Berry to attend the funeral services, was kind enough this morning to give a NEWS reporter some particulars of the journey and the last offices of respect at the home of the deceased. As has been stated, the Elders went out as far as Thistle on the D. and R. G. line, where they met the corpse and accompanied it to Provo. A special U. C. train under the personal direction of Supt. John Sharp, was in waiting, and as soon as the remains could be transferred the homeward journey was commenced. This was about four o'clock Friday afternoon. At Nephi there was quite a demonstration, the platform and adjacent space being occupied by a large concourse of people and the band, which discoursed solemn music as the train entered and left the station. At Juab, where a half-hour's halt was made, the train was photographed. Milford, the terminus, was reached at ten minutes past midnight. Here a vehicle was in readiness to convey the remains to Kanarra, also President E. Dalton, of Parowan Stake, and Mayor Chas. Adams and Mr. William McGregor, of Parowan, who had conveyed in which to carry the accompanying Elders and some relatives who had joined the body at Provo. A start was made at 1 a.m. on Saturday and at 4 the cortege had reached Minersville, where horses were changed. Setting out again at 6 o'clock the twenty-five mile stretch to Rush Lake was covered by dinner time, where another change of animals was made. The travelers were here met by Brother Morgan Richards, of Parowan superintendent of the Y. M. M. I. A. of that Stake, and a number of other brethren, whose vehicles added three to the cortege which followed the remains. Cedar City, Iron county, was entered about 5 p.m., horses were again changed Bishop Henry Lunt joined the party and the final stage to Kanarra was begun. That place was reached about sunset, the corpse and the brethren accompanying it being received at the outskirts of the town by Bishop Willis and a number of citizens. The casket was immediately placed in the meeting house where it remained over night. Next morning early it was taken from the packing box and the lid over the glass front was removed. The features were not visible, however, the whole body having been enveloped in a winding sheet.

The services commenced promptly at 2 p.m. There was a large congregation, among them representatives from Provo, Spanish Fork, Richfield, Parowan, Cedar City, Hamilton's Fork, Johnson's Springs, Toquerville and St. George, and the two Elders from Salt Lake City. Addresses suitable to the sad occasion, but distinguished as was the case everywhere by the utter absence of any vindictive remarks on the part of the speakers, were made by President Dalton, Elders J. W. Eardley, M. F. Cowley, Counselor A. K. Thurber, of Sevier Stake, a brother-in-law of the deceased; Bishop Henry Lunt, of Cedar City; Elders Morgan Richards, of Parowan, and John Berry, brother of the martyr. Music was rendered by the Cedar City choir. A dispatch was quoted which had been sent by Apostle Erastus Snow, an intimate friend of the family, to his wife in St. George, asking her to convey in person his sympathy with the mourners in their bereavement. Bishop Lunt, in behalf of the relatives, tendered a public expression of thanks to all who had assisted in the bringing of the body and in the services. A procession of forty-seven vehicles followed the remains to the grave, where the choir sang, "Nearer my God to Thee," and a young Scandinavian named Oscar Bocker, from Toquerville, sang some verses composed by himself for the occasion. The prayer was offered by President Dalton, and the grave closed over the mortal part of one of the noblest sons of God.

Brothers Cowley and Eardley visited the family of the deceased and found them animated and sustained by a spirit of calm fortitude and resignation. The blow was at first almost crushing in its suddenness, but they were able to raise themselves above it, and have been buoyed up and consoled in their sorrow by the spirit that comes from on high. May the blessing of Him who declared Himself the friend of the widowed and the fatherless be bountifully vouchsafed to these bereaved ones.

Hay - Fever. I was afflicted for twenty years, with Hay - Fever, and tried various remedies without relief. I used Ely's Cream Balm with favorable results, and can recommend it to all. ROBERT W. TOWNLEY, (ex-Mayor) Elizabeth, N. J.

A CURE FOR PNEUMONIA.

Mr. D. H. Barnaby of Owego, N. Y., says that his daughter was taken with a violent cold which terminated with Pneumonia, and all the best physicians gave the case up and said she could live but a few hours at most. She was in this condition when a friend recommended DR. WM. HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS, and advised her to try it. She accepted it as a last resort, and was surprised to find that it produced a marked change for the better, and by persevering a permanent cure was effected.

VERY REMARKABLE RECOVERY.

Mr. Geo. V. Willing, of Manchester, Mich., writes: "My wife has been almost helpless for five years, so helpless that she could not turn over in bed alone. She used two Bottles of Electric Bitters, and is so much improved, that she is able now to do her own work."

Electric Bitters will do all that is claimed for them. Hundreds of testimonials attest their great curative powers. Only fifty cents a bottle at Z. C. M. I. Drug Store.

Ayer's Ague Cure is the only remedy known which is certain to cure Fever and Ague permanently, by expelling the malarial poison which produces the disease. It does this surely, and leaves no ill effects upon the system. Nothing is so thoroughly depressing and discouraging as the periodical return of the alternate chills, fever, and sweating, peculiar to this disease.
