BREVITIES

Free fight between boys is the latest San Francisco amusement.
The French Cable cost $220,000, or $6,340,000 in greenbacks.

Parpa-Rosa's voice is thus described by a Milwaukee Boston critic: "A long, low, 100 feet wide, and as high as the Coliseum."

A Nevada editor is horrified by the sight of a white and a negro boy hitched together, with a Chinese boy driving them, playing horse.

A Frenchman has obtained possession of some of ex-Queen Isabella's letters to her favorites, and is to have them printed in facsimile for sale.

The King and Queen of Denmark are going to Stockholm, Sweden, when the marriage of the heir to the Danish throne will take place. He marries the Princess, Louisa of Sweden.

A man bought twelve herrings for two cents apiece, for some one half a cent apiece, and for the rest one-fourth of a cent apiece. How many did he buy at each price?

An Indiana maiden of forty-one years is only twenty-four inches high, and weighs only thirty-three pounds. She looks older than she is, but in manner and education appears like a girl of ten years.

The Cottage Garden, London, says earthing up potatoes diminishes the product and retards the tubers. Long experiments in England have proved the fact that hilling up the potato will reduce the crop one-fourth.

The present is a good time to abandon the habit of chewing tobacco. Every paper of fine cut must now be stamped. Between the stamp and the foil, the quantity of tobacco in a paper is so small as to warrant the abandonment of its use.

Sir Henry Rawlinson has found Eden. He maintains that the Babylonian documents in our possession will give us the whole history which is recorded in Genesis from the time of Abraham. The Garden of Eden, he asserts, is the primeval name of Babylon.

"Yes, my child, you hurt him very much, indeed." "Well, then, you ought to whip mamma's maid teacher, too, for he hit mamma right in the mouth, I know it hurt her, because she put her arms around his neck and tried to choke him."

"I have been discovered in the Zulu country in South Africa—obedient with a compass, telescope, and a ball of brown stone, or out into the solid rock. The natives regard them with mystery, awe and keep strangers from them for fear that if they approached no rain will fall for three years. Who'll tell us of their builders."

The gambling hell at Wiesbaden last, during the month of May, 1890, France, a gang of counterfeits having stolen large amounts of spurious French currency, and with nearly every day. Most of the counterfeiters remained in the hands of the proprietors of the gambling hell, while the counterfeiters carried off the gold and genuine bank notes.

It is said that Cape Cod is gradually washing away. Thirty years ago the sea was only a few feet from the shore, and now it is a mile. An old gentleman says that when he was a boy he went huckleberrying where the Bishop and Clark's light-house now stands on a few bare rocks.

The Duke of Newcastle's embarrassments are increased. The real facts are these: The Duke owes Mr. Radcliffe, an estate, $250,000. But if for the next three years he is content to live at the rate of $10,000 a year, his wife's income—all these debts will have been paid off the estate, bringing in $70,000 a year. One of his friends writes that he had unfortunately "backed up" another bankrupt nobleman.

An "infant of Waterbury," named Freddy, went to his mother one evening and inquired:
"Mother, what is a gonerucker?"
"The mother said she mustn't ask such questions, but Freddy persisted, and was finally sent to bed to say his prayers by himself. Instead, on his mother's lap, he said: 'So Freddy played.'"

"God bless papa and mamma and baby, but as for me, I've had a bad day, and I guess I'm a gonerucker!"
An Iowa paper reports that a man and his wife were at work in a field in that State, their child, which was in a basket near them, was heard to cry, and the husband asked his wife to go and see what the trouble was. She went upon her work, delayed a few minutes, and then, to her horror, found her child dead. The husband, in the frenzy of his anger and grief, struck his wife with a hoe which he held in his hand, and killed her instantly.

The common notion that the Friends are declining away are incorrect. During the last year the Orthodox branch of the society, those who believe in the resurrection of the body, have increased. There are now twelve yearly meetings; nine in this country and one each in Canada, Ireland, and England. The society is growing quite rapidly in the West. They have three colleges in Pennsylvania; Earlham College, in Richmond, Ind., and Whitaker College, in Salem, Iowa. It is a noteworthy fact, and one not at all difficult of accounting for, that the society flourishes most in those States where the people believe in Sunday
