

TABERNACLE.

On Sunday, Jan. 1, at 11 o'clock, Elder Horace S. Eldredge addressed the audience during the administration of the sacrament.—He spoke of the increase of faith, confidence and integrity with the majority of the Latter Day Saints, of his experience among the people in the States, and his desire to continue in the cause of truth and faithfulness to that priesthood he had received.

President Heber C. Kimball spoke with much plainness on the duties of the Saints to receive the word of the Lord in their hearts, that in their lives they might be examples of purity and holiness; reasoned on the necessity of becoming one with the Father and Son. He said that some are afraid that we shall have to leave these mountains, but they need not be troubled; he would advise all such to go to work and raise wheat, corn, fruit, flax and everything else necessary for their own benefit and good. Made some remarks on the building of temples, giving endowments and officiating for the salvation of the dead, the responsibilities of time and the glories of eternity. Showed that it is natural to cling to this life and to this world; that a man will give all he possesses to save his life; said that the inclination to steal originates in the heart just as we encourage an appetite to get drunk; condemned, in strong terms, the practice of unjust dealing, trying to cheat and take advantage of each other, as practised by many who profess to be Saints; said if he were in the situation of the Presidents of the Seventies, High Priests and Elders he would at once dis-fellowship all drunkards, thieves, liars and swearers and not leave it for Prest. Young to do and, if the High Council and other Quorums would do their duty, a great deal of responsibility would be taken from the shoulders of the Presidency.

DEEP SNOWS.—By letter from Manti, under date of the 25th ult., we are informed that the snow there was then twelve or fourteen inches deep, with a fair prospect that it would soon be deeper, as it was constantly snowing.

At Brigham city, Box Elder county, the snow is represented to be from eighteen inches to two feet deep, and the sleighing between Salt Lake City and Cache valley is said to be excellent the entire distance.

Much snow has fallen on the mountains in the northern and central parts of the Territory, enough probably to ensure plenty of water for irrigating purposes the coming summer in most locations, but in some places there is not enough yet, but doubtless will be before the stormy weather of winter and spring shall have ended.

CURE FOR THE ERYSIPELAS.—The juice of common carrots, pressed out from grating the carrots without cooking, taken at the rate of a common wine glassful, once in about two hours for three or four times, is said to be an effectual cure for the erysipelas.

The bark of willow, dried and pulverized, and soaked with cream, should be applied to the part affected at the same time; try it.

Seventies Conference at Lehi.

EDITOR DESERET NEWS—SIR:

Trusting that all that tends to edify and instruct the Saints is always welcomed by the News, we forward to you an abridgement of the minutes of a two-days conference held in the above place on the 2d and 3d of Dec., 1859, by the Seventies of Lehi, Pleasant Grove, Alpine and Lake cities.

On motion of Prest. Thomas McKenzie, Elder William Hyde was called upon to preside over the conference; also br. Eugene Henriod to act as clerk.

From the good spirit that seemed to pervade the bosom of every one, a season of enjoyment and blessings was anticipated: truth flowed from the mouths of the Elders of Israel who spoke; a unity of feeling and sentiment seemed generally to inspire every one; all felt as though the signs of the times enjoined upon us as Seventies to arouse at once and magnify that priesthood conferred upon us, by striving faithfully to overcome those evils which have heretofore and do still measurably darken the minds of the Seventies.

Much valuable counsel was given by Prests, Wm. Hyde, Thomas McKenzie, John Brown, Shadrack Driggs, James Preston and Samuel Smith from Cedar Valley.

Bishops Harrington and McCullough, Elder Daniel Hyde and others spoke of the different duties of the Seventies, and bore testimony of the good spirit that prevailed during the conference and gave good and fatherly counsel to the people in regard to their duties.

All spoke as the Spirit moved them and, indeed, it was a feast to all present to sit under their teachings, for who can listen to the glorious principles of our religion, when deliver-by the power of God, without feeling his heart melting within him in thankfulness to God for His mercy unto us?

Amongst the leading principles taught during the conference, that of self-government among the Elders was most forcibly urged upon them; the Saints were also warned to beware of the influences and evil spirits that exist around us, and all were reminded to take care to preserve their grain by taking heed to the counsels given to us on this subject.

Conference was adjourned by mutual agreement, to meet at Pleasant Grove, on the first Saturday and Sunday in February, 1860.

WILLIAM HYDE,

EUGENE HENRIOD, Prest. of Conf. Clerk.

FIRE FROM WATER.—The Messenger publishes a curious account of a contrivance invented by a M. Meudt for the decomposition of water, and the combustion of the hydrogen thus obtained.

The apparatus consists of a small copper boiler, provided with a safety-valve and a pipe which passes into a tubulated bottle with two necks, placed near the boiler. From the second tubulature another tube passes under the boiler. About two litres (nearly half-a-gallon) of water are poured into the latter, and about half-a-litre of weak tar water into the tubulated bottle. A spirit lamp being applied to the boiler, the steam thus generated penetrates into the bottle, where it yields its oxygen to the tar, by which oxide of carbon is generated. The hydrogen of the steam, being thus set at liberty, accumulates in the bottle, and then passes through the second tube to the bottom of the boiler, where it meets the flame of the spirit lamp.

A most extraordinary effect, approaching as nearly as possible to the visionary principle of perpetual motion, is the result; for the spirit lamp being taken away, the hydrogen generated burns with its own flame and makes the water boil; this engenders fresh steam, which is decomposed as before and furnishes a new supply of hydrogen, which feeds the flame, and so on, not ad infinitum, but until the water in the boiler is exhausted; all that has to be done in order to have a perpetual flame is to keep up the supply of water, and also, when necessary, to renew the tar water.

This discovery, applied to steam-engines and locomotives, a task which the inventor has already performed, is capable of producing an immense saving of fuel.—[Galignani.]

THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE.—A gentleman, a few years since, undertook to form a table of the languages from which our English words are derived; the result of his labor was, that 6,732 were derived from the Latin, 4,812 French, 1,148 Greek, 211 Italian, 95 Welsh, 56 Spanish, 30 Swedish, 16 Hebrew, 13 Arabic, 5 Runic, 4 Erse, 3 Scottish, 1 Turkish, 1 Portuguese, 1,665 Saxon, 6,691 Dutch, 106 German, 75 Danish, 50 Icelandic, 31 Gothic, 15 Teutonic, 6 Irish, 4 Flemish, 3 Syriac, 2 Irish and Erse, 1 Irish and Scottish, 1 Persian, 1 Erisee, 1 uncertain.
