SAN FRANCISCO, 1.—The following additional is received regarding the attempt to wreck the overland train. Two engines and one car of the east bound overland express were thrown from the track about 11.47 last night at Cape Horn by two rails having been removed by highwaymen. When the engine first left the track Fireman Boyd, upon jumping to the ground, was confronted by a man with a shotgun who ordered him to stand and not to move or give alarm. At the same time a man presented a gun at the express messenger, opened the door of the express car and ordered him to surrender. About this time the highwaymen, supposed to be some five or six in number, became alarmed and started to run off into the brush, leaving lanterns, masks, 24 cartridges of hercules powder, fuse, axes, sledge-pick and other tools. No one was injured. The train was detained about eight hours.

Further advice regarding the attempt to rob the overland train adds nothing to the previously reported facts save that on the approach of the robbers, the express messenger put out the lights, secured the doors of his car and armed himself. The robbers, finding the attempt at surprise a failure, left hastily in a wagon which they had in waiting. Officers are scouring the country in pursuit.

LONDON, 2.—The Lancet says: We do not think the healing of President Garfield's wound will be promoted by probing to learn how far granulation has proceeded. The most favorable signs are the fall of temperature to normal and the frequency of pulse. This is therefore a safe criterion of increased strength and a subsidence of blood poisoning; standing together with improved power of digestion, ability to sleep, mental soundness and cheerfulness, affords solid grounds for hope of recovery. The case is a striking illustration of the power of a good constitution to hold up against illness that would certainly have killed a feeble person; but another failure in the President's digestive powers, or symptoms of blood poisoning might at any time run the balance against him, and what we hitherto insisted upon so often we are bound to repeat—that President Garfield will not be out of danger until his wound is healed.

"They cured me of Ague, Billiousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half bottle left which I used for my two little girls, whom the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I am confident I should have lost both of them one night if I had not had the Hop Bitters in my house to use. I found they did them so much good I continued with them, and they are now well. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them highly enough."—B., Rochester N. Y.
