

GEORGE Q. CANNON,
EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Monday, August 19, 1872.

STANLEY, of African exploration fame, notwithstanding his having proved himself proof against the emergencies contingent on climate and races in the region of Livingston and mystery, appears to be somewhat thin-skinned. At a banquet at Brighton, England, where Stanley was an invited guest, some of the company appeared to be slightly incredulous at his narrations, whereupon the great traveler became irrefutable to a tall degree and left the table in high dudgeon. The English foreign office appears to be satisfied that Stanley was Livingston, but unreasonable Didymuses there are in both hemispheres who are not so easily convinced as the British foreign office was. Stanley is a brave, plucky, enterprising man, but he represents a people given to exaggeration and a paper by no means as scrupulous as it is enterprising. He made also one grand mistake in this Livingstonian business. Stanley, when he found Livingston, should have brought him to the coast if not to England, and not have left him to lose himself, for which he has such a remarkable faculty, for two years longer in the heart of Africa. There seems no help for it but for Stanley to make another journey to Africa and bring Livingston back to civilization unless he is content to be a footnote to the history of the world. Stanley is famous, but even fame has its penalties, which he cannot hope to escape.

They are working up a pretty little row in Belfast, Ireland. Paddy does certainly love that kind of business, just as much as a Scotchman loves argument and "parry," or a Dutchman his pipe and lager. Catholic and Protestant keep up their old vendetta on the old Irish sod, and break out from words into blows at every good opportunity. It is a foolish business, but there seems to be no danger of either party seeing the folly of it. The best thing they seem to be able to think of is to fight it out.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer comments upon Utah judicial matters and the manifest disregard of law connected therewith. Says the Plain Dealer—

A correspondent of the Herald, who, like all other assassins hiding in darkness, signs himself "A. B. C.," says that Judge Towns' application for appointment to a judgeship in Utah, which was rejected because of his manifest unfitness, as it seemed to the authorities. "Saying nothing as to Towns' fitness or unfitness," he must have conceded that the appointment which "the authorities" did make was as unfit as could well be made.

Speaking of past proceedings and the cheekiness exhibited by some connected with them, that paper says, "The decision of Chief Justice Chase was the unanimous decision of the Supreme Court, and stamped McKean's delinquency as no better than that of Judge Lynch." Not only so, but it is said that Attorney General Williams insisted upon the "usurpations" being stopped, and that McKean should be removed; but it was not done, and he still sits in the place he has so disgraced, showing the contempt of law which characterizes certain parties.

(SPECIAL TO THE DESERET NEWS.)

By Telegraph.

PER WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH LINE.

Afternoon Dispatches.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

MILWAUKEE, 18.—A Young Men's Republican Club was formed last eve. One of the speakers was Chas. H. Larkin, a prominent Democrat.

NEW YORK.—The bark Pelago from Havana, and the brig Balear, from Central America, with yellow fever aboard, arrived last night. There are now 23 yellow fever patients in the quarantine hospital. Several additional infected vessels are expected daily. The health officers are taking proper precautions.

Congressman Delorge, of South Carolina, writes to the Herald that the statement that he had declared for Greeley is false and malicious.

There were eight sunstrokes yesterday.

Among the passengers from Europe per the Baltic were Baron Basse, D. O. Bell, Judge Dowling, Rev. Doctors Mercer, Hall, Sullivan, Crutcher, Hubbard, and Professors Elk and Swift.

WASHINGTON.—The President addressed the following letter to J. J. Bryan, Mayor of Chattanooga:

"At the hands of Governor Samuel Bard, I have received a kind invitation of the board, mayor, aldermen, and Board of Trade of Chattanooga for myself and cabinet to visit your city and look upon the hospitals sometime during the present summer. I have delayed a final answer in order to consult with the cabinet on the subject and am compelled reluctantly after this consultation to inform you that it is not practicable for us to accept the invitation. We assure you, however, that I am particularly highly appreciate the compliment, and doubly because it is independent of political party predilections, at a time too when party feeling runs high. I should enjoy a visit to Chattanooga under ordinary circumstances, particularly so as to be the guest of the citizens without respect to party. My desire is to see harmony, peace and prosperity exist everywhere in our common country. With renewed assurances of the appreciation of the invitation and my best wishes for its future prosperity, I subscribe myself very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

U. S. GRANT.

WASHINGTON, 18.—The Secretary of the mixed commission says the recent newspaper statement of the amount of claim by British subjects against the United States is entirely erroneous. Of twenty cases disposed of less than three percent of the amount of the claims has been awarded. A large number of cases are ready for the September session of the commission.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Troy papers state that the court of impeachment has pronounced Judge Barney guilty of violation of his oath of office, being unfaithful to the duties of his office, and guilty of corrupt conduct in his office, on nearly all the articles voted upon, 31 in number. Only seven articles remain to be voted on on Monday.

LOS ANGELES.—Over thirty thousand people are here today.

BOSTON.—James McElhane, glass blower, aged 30, shot his wife, aged 19, last evening, at the house of her father, on the highest of the city, and discharged two barrels of his revolver at his own head, inflicting severe but not dangerous wounds. Mrs. McElhane was shot in the temple and died in five minutes. The murderer attempted to escape, but was arrested.

FORT WAYNE.—At the first Democratic Convention in support of the Louisville Convention, the Baltimore delegates repudiated the Baltimore bargain, declare in favor of a tariff for revenue, and instruct delegates to vote for Hon. A. F. Elgarton for Vice-President.

WHEELING, VA.—The annual camp meeting is being held at Moundsville. There is a large attendance.

LOUISVILLE.—Col. Blanton Danesh, in an interview for the New York Herald, had received assurances of eight hundred and fifty thousand votes for a straight-out nomination, and before the election the Democrats would elect him to the office of Governor, and would come out in a body and elect O'Connor, who has already consented to be a candidate.

UTICA, N. Y.—The race for $50,000, the best was won by "The Girl," beating "Palmer," 2:24, 2:30, and 2:19.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., 19.—The tornado which swept from East Long morning toward everything in its path for a distance of five miles, the course being N. W. Stone walls and other fences were strewn in every direction. A strip from five to fifteen rods in width was cut clean through a forest of large trees, and several buildings were thrown down, but no dwellings. The board-house of the Walbraham academy. Loss by the storm estimated at $15,000.

NEW YORK.—Official returns from eighty-four counties in North Carolina give Caldwell 2,673 majority.

Thomas & Company's jewelry manufacturing establishment at Hackensack was robbed on Saturday night of twelve thousand dollars worth of jewelry.

Chas. O'Connor was interviewed yesterday. He refused to state whether he would accept the nomination of the Louisville Convention for its nominee. He said of the present status of political parties, "It is curious how little pretence there is to having any principles on either side, but then I cannot very seriously blame. There is no question uppermost to excite enthusiasm or a spirit of sacrifice. The country is in a prosperous condition, with plenty in fact, and there is no cause for any kind of apprehension. So far as Greeley and Greeley is concerned, I don't see what they can fight for, except the possession of the office, but why the Democrats party should interest itself in Greeley's fortunes is what I never could comprehend, and especially when one remembers Greeley has never been a candidate for the office, and that he would run if he was nominated at Baltimore. It was a devilish strange thing to think of his getting the Democratic nomination under these circumstances."

CHICAGO, 19.—On Saturday night Richard Walsh pushed Andrew Anderson into the street for taking liberties with his wife. Anderson fell among a lot of beer barrels and bottles, striking his head with such force as to kill him almost instantly. A coroner's jury acquitted Walsh of any criminal intention.

At Fredericktown, Mo., on Saturday, Philip Scholt and Thomas Matthews quarreled and fought about politics. Matthews shot Scholt through the head, killing him.

BALTIMORE, 19.—Third National Bank, in the heart of the city, burglarized $100,000, bank money, and unknown amounts belonging to private parties, supposed to be half a million, among them $75,000 Louisville water coupon bonds.

Tenn., 19.—Holt worm doing much damage to cotton in North Mississippi.

Captain Pott and wife, of the steamer Helena Brooks, report no trace of the children.

NEW YORK, 19.—Heat to-day terrible; thermometer 100 in the shade.

SARATOGA, 19.—Judge Barnard found guilty, removed and pronounced disqualified from holding office.

A brother of Dr. Livingstone, in Canada, has had a letter from the Doctor, dated last November, at Ujjj.

EUROPEAN DISPATCHES.

LONDON, 19.—At a banquet given in Brighton yesterday, Mr. Stanley, while responding to a toast, thought he heard expressions of incredulity from some of the guests as to his meeting Livingston and Protestant mobs. Whenever they come into contact there is a fight. The police are using every effort to stop the rioting and have been obliged to fire on the rioters on both sides. Many ladies have been wounded. Troops with fixed bayonets are now occupying the principal streets, keeping the mobs apart. Dragoons of the 40th regiment have arrived at Belfast from Dublin and the constabulary are pouring into the city from all parts. No persons are reported killed, but the excitement is so great that it is impossible to get definite particulars.

MADRID, 19.—A fresh outbreak is anticipated at Madrid, by partisans of ex-Queen Isabella. It is thought the Queen will seize upon the same opportunity for new attacks. Active preventive preparations are in progress.

LONDON, 19.—The Belfast riot is not yet suppressed. Magistrates have issued warning proclamations. Many victims in hospitals, with wounds, cuts and bullet wounds. Last night stone fell in the streets like hail, four persons killed in the streets. Fearful citizens dissatisfied with lack of vigor in authorities. Banners, with pistols in hand, walk through the city. Whole sections are given up to the rioters. City to be put under martial law. Military charging rioters in center of the town.

Shots continue to be exchanged on the streets.

Serious disturbances at Turin, Uster Co., military called for.

Correspondence.

KANAB, Kanab Co., Aug. 6th, 1872.

Editor Deseret News:

Wheat harvest is now over with us. The winter wheat is tolerably good, that which was sown in season; spring wheat is greatly discounted by smut. We have been favored with frequent light showers, suggesting our outlook, over-vaporous stream, so that there has been no particular loss for want of water thus far. Some and snow, mixed with a little enterprise and capital, are much wanted to develop the capabilities of the country. Pumps by wind power would do much to bring to light the "hidden treasure" to water the land, as well as stock.

Mr. Powell, after a three months' stay at Washington, has returned with a commission to gather and place on reservations some eight or nine small tribes or bands of Indians inhabiting this region of country. This afternoon he had a "talk" with "Frank" chief of the Kiabes and seven of his "braves" at this place. Brother Jacob Hamblin interpreter. "Frank" expressed a degree of willingness to go into reservation, but wanted time to deliberate and consult with surrounding tribes, etc., so it was concluded that three months be given for consideration.

We had two shocks of earthquakes at this place on the night of the 27th ult., at half past ten o'clock, shaking beds sufficiently to awaken some occupants. There was also one in the morning, at the north, a little west of north; also a shock on the night of the 31st ult., in the northwest, of the same color.

JOHN OAKLEY.

LIST OF PASSENGERS

Per Steamship "Wisconsin," from Liverpool, July 31st, 1872.

Elizabeth, Archibald, Janet, Isabella and Robert Coates; James and Janet Hooker; Elizabeth Wesley; James and John Spinks; Joseph Sharrow; Joseph Ann, William and Ann Marsh; John Ascroft; Catherine Crawford; David Beveridge; Alexander and Lorenzo Pringle; Margaret Kelley; Gavin, Martha, Wm T. Isaac F., Lovina and Charles Maxwell; Henry Pennington; Philip, Ann, Elizabeth, Maria and Susan Blight; Emily Babb; Nels, Petrine, Erik P. Ane M. and Nels H. Eriksson; John, Hannah and Joshua Mullington; Mary, George, John and John (an infant) Winterbottom; George, Sarah and Ruth E. Owen; Harriet and Geo W. Valentine; George, Eliza, George T. Mary E. and John W. West; Joseph and Richard Walker; James and Henry Haworth; Wm and Alice Nuttall; Ann, Mary and Esther Robinson; Henry Madley; Mary, infant and Charles Blackwell; John, John, Joseph, Hyrum, Reuben and Frank Storer; Annie Thorpe; Thomas Fawkes; Thos. and Lucy Barnett; Richard Whitaker; James Kirkpatrick; Wm. Davey; Wm. Black; Walter, Olaf, Thomas Beard; Alice and James Wray; Christopher Lacey; Robert Harrison; Thos. H., Sarah A., Thomas H. and Henry W. Not; Richard, Jane, Eliza and Wm. Margaret West E. Wilson; Priscilla, Sarah and Wm. Renshaw; Geo. Caroline, Henry G. Ellen C. Mary and Margaret Renshaw; Robert, Eliza, Robert, Arthur, Emily, Geo. Henrietta and Henry A. Forcher; Rosa Mellor; John, Sarah A., Sarah A., Philadelphia, Heber, Elizabeth, Ellen and Henry Cole; Henry Wilson; David, Thomas and David Lewis; Sarah, Thomas; Lewis, Mary and Thomas Davies; Mary J. Lewis H. Edward and David Davis; Edward, John, William, Elizabeth Powell; Mary, David, Reeco, Ann, Mary J. and John Reeco; Mary, Ann, David and Joseph Phillips; Thos. Mary, David J., Elizabeth A. and Thomas Thomas; Thomas, Eliza, Caroline, David, Ann, Richard and Caroline Edwards; Stephen, Danton; William, Martha, William, James and Thomas Thomas; Thos. Morley; Emily Ison.

BOOKED TO NEW YORK ONLY.

Geo and Sarah Valentine; David, Margaret and Thomas Jordan; John Chittenden; Nels, Petrine, Erik P. Ane M. and Nels H. Eriksson.

RETURNING MISSIONARIES.

Geo P. Ward, wife of company: R. W. Driggs.

RETURNING ELDERES WHO CAME OVER BY LAST VISIT TO VISIT THEIR FRIENDS.

David Duncanson, Joseph Wadley.

A WOMAN'S VIEW OF THE TRAINING BOYS REQUIRE.

Some remarks that have appeared in your paper lately on the training of boys have greatly interested me, and if not intruding I should be glad to give my testimony. A few years since I was engaged as special teacher in several primary schools in one of the wards of New York City. Every alternate week about five hundred boys came under my instruction, which was given on short, simple lectures. The subjects taught were various, and among them was that of the training of boys. The manner in which the boys received their lessons on the body impressed me deeply. When I explained in words suited to their capacity something of the wonderful mechanism, and of God's loving wisdom in its construction, and of its sacredness as a redeemed body and of the respect we should pay towards it as his work, and the home of the soul; and then I developed their perceptions of the truth that He had created it so He loved to provide for it itself, and wished us to take good care of it, and would surely call to account for the way we had used it, even as they themselves would call anyone to account to whom they had intrusted any property of theirs. I was surprised at the earnest attention they gave me. And it was not confined to any one class of boys; all classes were equally interested. There was unanimity of opinion among them to receive the instruction offered. I remember saying to a teacher one day, just after finishing this subject: "I am satisfied that if these boys grow up to be bad men, the cause must be found in parental neglect, for I have found that boys in all the schools just as attentive to my words, just as willing to learn how to be good as the girls—I cannot discover the difference."

And among my intimate friends I number four mothers who have brought up their boys and girls under the same moral restraint, and the young men are now fully equal to the men in which the boys received their lessons on the body impressed me deeply. When I explained in words suited to their capacity something of the wonderful mechanism, and of God's loving wisdom in its construction, and of its sacredness as a redeemed body and of the respect we should pay towards it as his work, and the home of the soul; and then I developed their perceptions of the truth that He had created it so He loved to provide for it itself, and wished us to take good care of it, and would surely call to account for the way we had used it, even as they themselves would call anyone to account to whom they had intrusted any property of theirs. I was surprised at the earnest attention they gave me. And it was not confined to any one class of boys; all classes were equally interested. There was unanimity of opinion among them to receive the instruction offered. I remember saying to a teacher one day, just after finishing this subject: "I am satisfied that if these boys grow up to be bad men, the cause must be found in parental neglect, for I have found that boys in all the schools just as attentive to my words, just as willing to learn how to be good as the girls—I cannot discover the difference."

And among my intimate friends I number four mothers who have brought up their boys and girls under the same moral restraint, and the young men are now fully equal to the men in which the boys received their lessons on the body impressed me deeply. When I explained in words suited to their capacity something of the wonderful mechanism, and of God's loving wisdom in its construction, and of its sacredness as a redeemed body and of the respect we should pay towards it as his work, and the home of the soul; and then I developed their perceptions of the truth that He had created it so He loved to provide for it itself, and wished us to take good care of it, and would surely call to account for the way we had used it, even as they themselves would call anyone to account to whom they had intrusted any property of theirs. I was surprised at the earnest attention they gave me. And it was not confined to any one class of boys; all classes were equally interested. There was unanimity of opinion among them to receive the instruction offered. I remember saying to a teacher one day, just after finishing this subject: "I am satisfied that if these boys grow up to be bad men, the cause must be found in parental neglect, for I have found that boys in all the schools just as attentive to my words, just as willing to learn how to be good as the girls—I cannot discover the difference."

And among my intimate friends I number four mothers who have brought up their boys and girls under the same moral restraint, and the young men are now fully equal to the men in which the boys received their lessons on the body impressed me deeply. When I explained in words suited to their capacity something of the wonderful mechanism, and of God's loving wisdom in its construction, and of its sacredness as a redeemed body and of the respect we should pay towards it as his work, and the home of the soul; and then I developed their perceptions of the truth that He had created it so He loved to provide for it itself, and wished us to take good care of it, and would surely call to account for the way we had used it, even as they themselves would call anyone to account to whom they had intrusted any property of theirs. I was surprised at the earnest attention they gave me. And it was not confined to any one class of boys; all classes were equally interested. There was unanimity of opinion among them to receive the instruction offered. I remember saying to a teacher one day, just after finishing this subject: "I am satisfied that if these boys grow up to be bad men, the cause must be found in parental neglect, for I have found that boys in all the schools just as attentive to my words, just as willing to learn how to be good as the girls—I cannot discover the difference."

And among my intimate friends I number four mothers who have brought up their boys and girls under the same moral restraint, and the young men are now fully equal to the men in which the boys received their lessons on the body impressed me deeply. When I explained in words suited to their capacity something of the wonderful mechanism, and of God's loving wisdom in its construction, and of its sacredness as a redeemed body and of the respect we should pay towards it as his work, and the home of the soul; and then I developed their perceptions of the truth that He had created it so He loved to provide for it itself, and wished us to take good care of it, and would surely call to account for the way we had used it, even as they themselves would call anyone to account to whom they had intrusted any property of theirs. I was surprised at the earnest attention they gave me. And it was not confined to any one class of boys; all classes were equally interested. There was unanimity of opinion among them to receive the instruction offered. I remember saying to a teacher one day, just after finishing this subject: "I am satisfied that if these boys grow up to be bad men, the cause must be found in parental neglect, for I have found that boys in all the schools just as attentive to my words, just as willing to learn how to be good as the girls—I cannot discover the difference."

And among my intimate friends I number four mothers who have brought up their boys and girls under the same moral restraint, and the young men are now fully equal to the men in which the boys received their lessons on the body impressed me deeply. When I explained in words suited to their capacity something of the wonderful mechanism, and of God's loving wisdom in its construction, and of its sacredness as a redeemed body and of the respect we should pay towards it as his work, and the home of the soul; and then I developed their perceptions of the truth that He had created it so He loved to provide for it itself, and wished us to take good care of it, and would surely call to account for the way we had used it, even as they themselves would call anyone to account to whom they had intrusted any property of theirs. I was surprised at the earnest attention they gave me. And it was not confined to any one class of boys; all classes were equally interested. There was unanimity of opinion among them to receive the instruction offered. I remember saying to a teacher one day, just after finishing this subject: "I am satisfied that if these boys grow up to be bad men, the cause must be found in parental neglect, for I have found that boys in all the schools just as attentive to my words, just as willing to learn how to be good as the girls—I cannot discover the difference."

And among my intimate friends I number four mothers who have brought up their boys and girls under the same moral restraint, and the young men are now fully equal to the men in which the boys received their lessons on the body impressed me deeply. When I explained in words suited to their capacity something of the wonderful mechanism, and of God's loving wisdom in its construction, and of its sacredness as a redeemed body and of the respect we should pay towards it as his work, and the home of the soul; and then I developed their perceptions of the truth that He had created it so He loved to provide for it itself, and wished us to take good care of it, and would surely call to account for the way we had used it, even as they themselves would call anyone to account to whom they had intrusted any property of theirs. I was surprised at the earnest attention they gave me. And it was not confined to any one class of boys; all classes were equally interested. There was unanimity of opinion among them to receive the instruction offered. I remember saying to a teacher one day, just after finishing this subject: "I am satisfied that if these boys grow up to be bad men, the cause must be found in parental neglect, for I have found that boys in all the schools just as attentive to my words, just as willing to learn how to be good as the girls—I cannot discover the difference."

And among my intimate friends I number four mothers who have brought up their boys and girls under the same moral restraint, and the young men are now fully equal to the men in which the boys received their lessons on the body impressed me deeply. When I explained in words suited to their capacity something of the wonderful mechanism, and of God's loving wisdom in its construction, and of its sacredness as a redeemed body and of the respect we should pay towards it as his work, and the home of the soul; and then I developed their perceptions of the truth that He had created it so He loved to provide for it itself, and wished us to take good care of it, and would surely call to account for the way we had used it, even as they themselves would call anyone to account to whom they had intrusted any property of theirs. I was surprised at the earnest attention they gave me. And it was not confined to any one class of boys; all classes were equally interested. There was unanimity of opinion among them to receive the instruction offered. I remember saying to a teacher one day, just after finishing this subject: "I am satisfied that if these boys grow up to be bad men, the cause must be found in parental neglect, for I have found that boys in all the schools just as attentive to my words, just as willing to learn how to be good as the girls—I cannot discover the difference."

In the 11th Ward of the city, August 18th, of infirmation of the boy, HENRY LOVELL, aged 12 years, and John Chas. aged 10 years, born April 18th, 1858, at Cincinnati, Ohio, England.

Funeral services to-morrow, at 11 o'clock.

At Parson, August 18th, 1872, JOHN, son of George and Ann Gunn, aged 6 months and 11 days.

Also at Parson, August 18th, 1872, EVELYN, widow of the late Robert Munroe, aged 71 years, 3 months and 1 day.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF UTAH,
SALT LAKE CITY.

Designated Depository and Financial Agent of the United States.

Warren Henson, President.
G. L. Dahler, Vice Pres.
Anthony Gedde, Cashier.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL, $500,000

PAID-UP CAPITAL, $150,000

EARNINGS, $125,000

DIVIDEND IN 1871, 50 PER CT

Oldest Banking Institution in Utah.

GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS TRANSACTED

Agencies in Colorado & Montana.

COLLECTIONS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

Interest Allowed on Time Deposits.

SALT LAKE

THEATRE.

Doors open at half past 7.

Performance to commence at 8

MONDAY EVENING,

AUGUST 19, 1872.

LAST APPEARANCE

of

MR. GEO. D. CHAPLIN.

MISS JEAN CLARA WALTERS,

AN LADY REPERT.

MR. DAVID MCKENZIE

AN MADRUFF.

Will be presented, Shakespeare's Grand Tragedy in 5 Acts, entitled

MACBETH!

Macbeth, King of Scotland.

Mr. Geo. D. Chaplin

Mademoiselle Jean Clara Walters

Lady Macbeth.

Will Shortly Appear.

MR. E. T. STETSON.

BOX OFFICE open for the sale of Tickets on the day of performance, at 11 o'clock.

TEASDEL & CO.

Eagle - House,

65, 67 & 69.

STANDARD GOODS!

STAPLES!

DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT!

GROCERY DEPARTMENT!

LADIES' BOOT & SHOE DEPARTMENT.

MEN'S FURNISHING DEPARTMENT.

LADIES' FURNISHING DEPARTMENT.

MEN'S BOOT SHOE & HAT DEPARTMENT.

BLEES

SEWING MACHINE DEPARTMENT.

LADIES' FURNISHING DEPARTMENT.

BENEFIT
OF
JOHN WILSON,
SALT LAKE CITY.

THE VETERAN OF THE ARMY!

San Francisco

CIRCUS!

MONDAY EVENING,

August 19, 1872.

RETURN

Of the Universally Acknowledged Mammoth Equestrian Organization of the World.

Positively for One Night Only!

On which occasion, by request of numerous citizens, the Management will present the

Equestrian, Historical, Spectacular Drama, entitled

TURPIN'S RIDE TO YORK,

OR,

THE DEATH OF BLACK BESS!

As produced at Astley's Amphitheatre for 30 consecutive nights by

MR. OMER KINGSLEY

And his Favorite Mare

BLACK BESS!

With all the Original Music, Costumes, Paraphernalia, etc.

SYNOPSIS OF SCENERY AND EVENTS:

Roadside Inn; Rendezvous of the Robbers; Rendezvous of the Highwaymen; Tom King and his Pals;

ARRIVAL OF TURPIN:

He never fails to keep his appointments when mounted on his

BONNY BLACK BESS!

A Song! A Song! "I will give you a toast to 'Tom King';" Arrival of Timothy Gudgeon and his Pretty Wife; a horrible robbery; robbed under his very nose; eye, under his very elbow; Proclamation of the Westminster Bear Joke;

LARGE REWARD FOR RICK TURPIN AND FOR KING!

"Ring the bells, Sammy!" "Yes, Daddy!" Hot pursuit of Turpin by the Beadle and his followers!

TURPIN LEAPS THE TOLL GATE!

House of the Ho, Ralph Brandy and Beef Steak for Black Bess—She will grow on while there is breath in her body! Arrival of the Beadle! Search the house!

ESCAPE OF TURPIN!

By the help of Ralph!

The church spire of York in the distance!—"One mile more, Bess; one mile more!"

DEATH OF

BLACK BESS.

ARRIVAL OF LUKE BUCKWOOD, THE GIBBY KING.

"Dick, you have killed the Best Mare in all England!"

Farewell of Turpin to Bess.

One kiss, Bess; one kiss, and then Farewell, Forever!

"Over highways and byways, in rough and smooth weather, some thousands of miles we have journeyed together, On rough the same way; our meals, he same meat; No one 'dies no constant as I and Black Bess."

MIDNIGHT.

"Luke! No word, call your Gypsy Tribe together and give Bess a Christian burial!"

Arrival of the Gypsy Tribe!

BLACK BESS carried shoulder high by the Gypsies.

GRAND TABLEAU!

NEW AND THRILLING ACTS!

THE WONDERFUL

TRAINED PONIES!

THE GREAT

MATTHEWS FAMILY!

THE

Youngest Clown in the World!

ALL THE

CELEBRATED ARTISTES

AND

The Excelsior Band

Will appear in

AN ENTIRELY NEW PROGRAMME!

DOORS OPEN AT 7:30 O'CLOCK.

ADMISSION, $1.00;

CHILDREN, 50c.

UTAH NORTHERN RAILROAD.

Trains are now Running Daily,

BETWEEN

BRIGHAM JUNCTION WITH C. P. R. R.

AND

HAMPTON'S FOR MONTANA.

Leaving Hampton's at 4 a. m.

Leave Brigham at 10 a. m.

Leave Hampton's at 12:45 a. m.

Leave Brigham at 7:15 p. m.

Arrive at Brigham at 5:45 a. m.

Arrive at Hampton