There was no opposition, with a single exception, to the program outlined in these dispatches last Monday.

A WOMAN'S SPIRITED SPEECH.

The one exception, however, proved to be of large interest. Miss Elizabeth Shirley, a teacher in the Los Angeles schools and formerly of Omaha, Neb., made a spirited speech before the convention in opposition to the proposed charter, which she claimed placed all of the funds of the association in the hands of the board of trustees and placed the vote in the hands of a few men. Miss Shirley's language was better in reference to the members of the association, whom she did not name, and whom she charged with the responsibility of the proposed charter. She referred to "one man, elected yesterday to high position in the association," who, she said, had been elected to the position of president of the association. Miss Shirley, however, was completely outvoted in the convention. Tonight her name was the talk of the association members and it is not unlikely that some developments of a more or less interesting nature may ensue.

At the meeting of the new board of directors tomorrow a member of the board of trustees will be elected to succeed H. B. Brown, president of Valparaiso college, Valparaiso, Ind. Mr. Brown was elected to the position only three days ago by the old board of directors to fill out the unexpired term of A. G. Lane, of Chicago, deceased.

Mr. Brown was understood at that time that he would be chosen for a full term, but the new board meets tomorrow, but opposition to him has developed.

Nearly all of the 3,000 members of the association who are in the city were associate members instead of active members today, which was for active members only, and which was attended by less than 300 persons. An attempt was made today by C. G. Pearce, superintendent of the Milwaukee schools, to influence the number of the national council from 60 to 120, but the effort failed because of a constitutional provision, which required that a year's notice be given for an amendment to the by-laws. The association also voted today to appoint a committee of three members to work for a national university to be established and maintained by the federal government at Washington, D. C., and authorized the appropriation of $500 to defray the expenses of the committee. Congress will be petitioned to establish such an institution.

Three thousand packed the auditorium tonight and listened to the program. G. C. Cooley, the newly elected president, spoke upon the subject, "Shall Teachers' Salaries be Graded on Merit or by the Clock?"

PRES. COOLEY'S ADDRESS.

"Since the welfare of the children is the fundamental consideration in the planning of the schools, teachers' salaries must be fixed with reference to the value of the service rendered. Increases of salary based upon length of service and increases of salary based upon merit, student-like habits and scholarship, must alike be tested by this criterion of efficiency.

Piles and Constipation

A positive and lasting cure for these common and distressing ailments is found in Dr. Young's Rectal Ointment. They are permanently cured by the use of this ointment. It is a simple, safe, and effective remedy. It is a positive and lasting cure for these common and distressing ailments. It is a simple, safe, and effective remedy. It is a positive and lasting cure for these common and distressing ailments. It is a simple, safe, and effective remedy.

crease in efficiency for four or five years, even when the teacher is not upon his schoolroom experience for information and inspiration, but, unless the teacher is induced in some manner to study, the chances are that before the end of the first decade a decline in efficiency will set in, which will proceed steadily as the years go by. A schedule of salaries, their provision for yearly advances for four or five years. At the end of this period, if a teacher wishes to give evidence of increase in efficiency in professional zeal and in student-like habits, she should be stopped. No teacher should be allowed to advance in salary after she has ceased to advance in efficiency.

HABITS OF STUDY.

"Scholarship and habits of study are factors that must be considered in estimating efficiency. No teacher who is not a student can long remain real-istic. If a teacher wishes to impart a piece of knowledge, she must not only have appropriated it herself, but she must have gone beyond it and made it a part of her own life. In relation to other facts and truths, she must know from what it originated and to what it is intended to lead. The teacher should study educational processes and educational philosophy and methods. Her study cannot cease with entering the work, but must be a continuous process. She should study with the learner only by continuing to be a learner herself. By his means, too, she can avoid the depressing effect of constant association with immature minds and ideals. It is true that many good students of books are poor teachers, and that something more is required of a teacher than to absorb book knowledge or even laboratory knowledge. Still the chances are extremely large that one who is a student will be a better teacher for other students than the mere empiric.

AVOID THE SYSTEM.

"Teachers should not be encouraged to get into the system and then let the clock work. Advancement based on length of service only does not do justice to the teacher who has the real professional spirit. The suggestion that we can keep people up to the mark by mere fear of dismissal is made by those who are not acquainted with current history. Everybody should realize how extremely difficult it is to get rid of an inefficient teacher.

It must be admitted that this scheme leaves out of account exceptional natural ability, the power of the born teacher, but most of the teachers are not born, but are made, and we are compelled to frame our schemes to fit the needs and capacities of the plain, ordinary teacher who has to learn her business.

"Our great cities have found it necessary to establish normal schools for the preparation of a new type of teacher, who will become a legitimate part of the work of the normal school to carry forward the training of the teachers after they enter the service, and to take them from the high schools and make teachers of them. The normal school that can fulfill this double function will soon establish itself in its proper place, at the head of the school system."

Charles W. Nash, president of State Normal and Industrial school, and Albert H. Smith, director of Utah's Normal and Industrial school, were present.

KING EDWARD'S VISIT TO IRELAND A GREAT SUCCESS

Dublin, July 10.—The first day of the visit to Ireland of King Edward and Queen Alexandra was a great success. The weather was fine and the city gave the sovereigns a royal reception. Both wore the national colors of Ireland, the king a green necktie and the queen a moss-green mantle.

His majesty delivered brief speeches at the various functions of the day, in which he expressed his grateful thanks for the warm reception accorded himself and the queen, and the fact that the visit to Ireland was a most successful one. The king and queen, after visiting the exhibition, passed in procession through the streets of Dublin to the Victoria hotel, where they were met by a large crowd of people, and the king and queen a most hearty reception.

The Earl of Aberdeen, lord lieutenant of Ireland, and his countess gave a garden party at the lodge, where thousands had an opportunity to see the king and queen.

After this function the royal pair returned to Kingstown in a motor car, being greeted everywhere with hearty demonstrations of good will. They went on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert in Kingstown at 6:30. The warships and shipping in the bay were beautifully illuminated tonight.

A rumor is current here tonight to the effect that the portion of the state regalia, valued at $250,000, which was stolen from Dublin castle recently and for the ruin of which the government has offered a reward of $5,000, was removed by an important official of the Order of St. Patrick, who has disappeared.

BANKHEAD NOMINATED.

Montgomery, Ala., July 10.—Former Congressman John H. Bankhead of Alabama was nominated for U. S. senator to fill the unexpired term of Senator Morgan by the Democratic caucus of the Alabama legislature tonight. No other name was presented to the caucus.

PROF. L. A. E. AHLERS DEAD.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 11.—Louis A. E. Ahlers, a German professor of German languages and literature in Colorado college, died here last night at the age of 42.

TWO EMPERORS TO MEET.

Paris, July 11.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the St. Petersburg Journal says: The object of the meeting between Emperor Nicholas and Emperor William, which will take place during the autumn, is to discuss means of effecting a close understanding between Russia, Germany and the United States, and to discuss the common resistance to the growing menace of Japan, but really to put an end to the isolated position of Germany.

CHOATE DEFENDS AMERICAN RIGHTS

To Have Their Proposition as to Seizure of Private Property At Sea Voted On.

ARGENTINA OPPOSED TO IT.

Belgium Presented a Proposition Very Similar to Those of Italy, Denmark and Brazil.

The Hague, July 10.—The American proposition regarding the inviolability of private property at sea was discussed at the meeting today of the Geneva convention committee of the peace conference. Belgium presented a proposition similar to those of Italy, Denmark and Brazil, providing for the seizure of private property at sea on condition that it be returned at the end of the war and that an indemnity be paid for the damage sustained.

John A. Foster, ex-secretary of state of the United States, representing China, supported the proposition of the United States, and Norway again adhered to it although the delegates said they considered its application difficult.

TO RETIRE COL. AYRES.

Washington, July 10.—A board of inquiry to determine whether or not Col. Ayres shall be retired has been ordered to convene in Washington. The details for the board are as follows: Brig. Gen. John M. K. Davis, Col. Charles A. P. Hatfield, Thirteenth cavalry; Lieut. Col. William F. Evans, Eleventh cavalry; Maj. Guy L. Edie, surgeon; Capt. Sanford H. Wadhams, assistant surgeon; and Lieut. Wm. T. Johnston, Fifteenth cavalry, as recorder.

This board will make a thorough examination of Col. Ayres physically and mentally, with a view to ascertaining whether he is eligible for retirement. The immediate cause for the order was the publication recently in an interview with Col. Ayres, in which he is alleged to have criticized army methods in discussing the trouble between Mrs. Ayres and the military authorities at West Point. The retiring board is ordered in accordance with section 1246 revised statutes.

A preceding section provides that any officer who has served 45 years as a commissioned officer or is 62 years old may be retired from active service. The board may inquire into and determine the facts touching the disability of any officer who appears to be incapable of performing the duties and determine whether or not his incapacity is incident to the service. In which case he shall be placed on the retired list. Otherwise the officer may be wholly retired, which, of course, carries with it a complete loss of retired pay.

Col. Ayres received his commission as a second lieutenant of the Twenty-fifth infantry Oct. 31, 1874, and has consequently been more than 32 years in the commissioned service, but not 45 years, so that if he is now retired it must be on account of disability physically or mentally, and not on account of being incapable of performing the duties of his office.

YACHT HILDEGARDE.

Famous One Built for Prince of Wales (King Edward) Broken Up.

New York, July 11.—The famous yacht Hildegarde, built for King Edward when he was the Prince of Wales, in 1874, has been broken up and consigned to the junk pile at Astoria, N. J. She originally cost $55,000, but recently the vessel was sold for a few thousand dollars to F. R. Long, a bridge builder at Brooklyn, who decided to have the vessel broken up. The prince's stateroom Mr. Long had cut out entirely. He intends to install that in his residence as a "den." Portions of the timber were sold for a bridge over Cole's Brook, Hackensack, while the deck, which is oak, is being cut up for souvenirs in the way of walking sticks, collar buttons and other useful articles. One of these is to be sent to the king of England with a story of the final disposition of his former yacht.

AMERICAN TOURISTS OFF FOR SOUTH AMERICA.

New York, July 11.—The first large party of American tourists to invade South America has sailed under the auspices of a tourist agency. During their tour, which will occupy 90 days, the party will visit Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Falkland islands, go through the straits of Magellan to Chile, Peru, Bolivia, Ecuador and then to Panama and across the isthmus to New York by way of Jamaica.

As it is the winter season in South America, these tourists will have to go through the straits of Magellan instead of crossing the Andes, as the passages are blocked with snow. Franklin Adams, a writer and author from South America, accompanied the party.

Mayor Schmitt Looks Through Prison Bars and Declares Himself Candidate.

SAYS HE WILL BE RE-ELECTED

Near View of Cankering Conditions Beseiting Graft-Ridden City—Japanese Situation.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

San Francisco, July 8.—As predicted by me last month, Eugene Schmitt is an avowed candidate for re-election as mayor of this city on the score of vindication of his personal honor and the welfare of his native city. Of all the corrupt crew in charge of the government of this municipality, he is proud of the fact that he alone did not confess. In his estimation his conviction for the crime of extortion was a gross injustice brought about by a misguided public sentiment and the treachery of Abraham Ruef, his former ally, friend and dearly beloved legal counselor. Accompanying these two reasons he says that he has a grave suspicion that Ruef, Speckels and former Mayor James D. Phelan entered into a political conspiracy to overthrow him as the leader of organized labor to pave the way to save millions in cutting down wages. He says that he will be re-elected because he can show the working men that he was the cause of their prosperity. He may point to his own prosperity as proof—but he does not say that.

NOT A NAME TO CONJURE WITH.

It is a pity that on the eve of the announcement of Schmitt that he is a candidate for re-election his most trusted band of political henchmen, the Schmitt rough riders, decided to drop his name and go out on a still hunt for political pap as free and unbothered men. They may be mistaken but they seem to think that the name of the once powerful Schmitt is not a good one to conjure with. The corrupt and many-sided nature of their defection says in the elegant diction of the tenderloin "that it is up to him to gather together the scattered forces." He points with pride to his ever-increasing popularity in the three past elections and he appeals for support to laborers, merchants and capitalists. He seems proud of the fact that his candidacy will be the first of the annals of the country and he is willing to appeal for votes on his public record. His campaign committee will be instructed to see that the word "corrupt" is out of the bright lexicon of fourth-term hope.

RUEF COMES HIGH.

It cost nearly $1,500 to keep Abraham Ruef incommunicado last night, and the itemized bill presented to the treasurer is a model of exactness and nice care for the proper expenditure of the city's funds. Ruef is the figure for the board of the little boss and his guardians while the salaries of the latter amount to $870. There is no salary or fee mentioned for Ruef, but there is a significant item called incidentals which is put down at $16. Ruef has said so often in his campaign talks defending himself from the attacks of a hostile press that he never drank or smoked, so the incidentals must be the price of the ice water consumed when he heard of the hot things Schmitt said of him.

GRAFT CLOGS PROGRESS.

The graft prosecutions have been so numerous that they have seriously interfered with the usual business of the superior court and thrown the judges thereof into a state of confusion. The salaries of the judges are $1,500 a year, but the array of legal talent employed by the defendants has been so numerous and active that it would seem to be an extremely hard job to straighten out. One of the judges has been handicapped by the unwelcome attentions of the bar association and the judge to whose court most of the cases have been assigned in order to see that a proper disposition of them is made has been compelled to forego his equitable claim to a vacation, a right which exists since the memory of the man runneth not to the contrary.

MOTORMAN ACQUITT.

Police Judge Cabanis in acquitting a strike-breaking motorman of the charge of shooting a policeman has advanced a logical reason therefor. The motorman, who was charged with the charge of shooting a policeman, was acquitted because the policeman was in the act of shooting at the motorman. The motorman was acquitted because the policeman was in the act of shooting at the motorman.

STRIKERS OUT IN THE COLD.

Simultaneously with the official statement from Washington that in the last twenty-five years no June has been so cold as last June, is the comforting news from the geological survey that the coal supply will be adequate for the coming year. The striking carmen of this city did not need any scientific chap at the nation's capital to tell them about frigidities, as they have found from their experience that it has been a cold day for them ever since they went on a strike and the extent of the coal supply was not so much as they thought. The streets and watch new men fill their places, and they marvel at the arithmetical blindness of their leaders who spent 10,000 people a riding daily on the cars while the car riders total up something like 200,000.

WOUNDED IN THE STREET.

A Stockton merchant on a visit here to see whether he would like to locate in the city and participate in the various brands of excitement now rife, soon got a taste of metropolitan experience that he was not bargaining for. While paying a visit to the Barbary coast he was initiated into the exhilarating mysteries of dance hall life, and the police finding him sorely wounded in the street, took him to a hospital. He refused to say how he got hurt, and our captain of detectives with an unerring instinct, promptly placed him under arrest and voiced a shrewd suspicion that there must be a woman in the case.

JAPANESE SITUATION.

The police commissioners the other day refused a Jap a license to carry on a junk business because he was not a citizen of the United States. They approve of the statement of President Wheeler of the state university that "it is simply a question whether the people of the Pacific coast shall become inoculated with oriental ideas or whether they shall remain on a truly occidental basis." Meanwhile some Jap restaurant men have sued the city for $2,500 damages caused by a mob and we anxiously await our new Pacific squadron.

S.S.S. HEALS OLD SORES

The deep, underlying cause of every old sore is a bad condition of the blood. This vital fluid has become infected with some germ or poison which prevents the place from healing. This infection may be the result of an inactive, sluggish condition of the system leaving the refuse matter in the body to be absorbed into the circulation instead of throwing it off through the usual channels of nature. Another cause is the weakening or polluting of this life-stream from hereditary taints, or from the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system. When the blood is in this condition a sore cannot heal because the impurities with which the circulation is filled are being constantly discharged into the place to irritate and inflame the tissues and further disease the surrounding flesh. The only treatment that can do any good is one that removes the cause, and for this purpose nothing equals S. S. S. It begins at the fountain head of the trouble and drives out all germs, impurities and poisons, and then the place, being supplied with rich, pure blood, heals naturally and permanently. Local applications assist in cleansing the place, but a cure can only be effected through a purification of the blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. MOST LIBERAL OFFER EVER MADE

By The Boy Phenomenal

HUNDREDS TAKING ADVANTAGE

The Great Fer-Don Said Two Hundred People Called at the Office Yesterday to See the Boy Phenomenal and Take Advantage of Liberal Offer—More Gall Stones Removed. More Cancers Removed. More Tape-worms Removed. More Tumors Removed by the Bloodless Surgery. No Knife. No Pain. No Blood.

A representative visited the Great Fer-Don and the Boy Phenomenal at the large offices located in the Windsor Hotel, 225 Main street to see if he could have an interview with the Great Fer-Don and the Boy Phenomenal. There was a large crowd of people from all parts of the city and different states awaiting to see the Boy Doctor. Some were on cures, others on crutches, and one or two were carried on cots. It was a sight to be remembered. There has been so much talk about the Boy Phenomenal and wonderful cures that he has performed here in Salt Lake that it makes a person anxious to see with his own eyes. As the old saying goes, seeing is believing, one gentleman who was sitting in the reception room was so anxious to see the Boy Phenomenal that he could hardly sit still. I want to hurry up and see the doctor. I have something here in this big bottle to show him. The crowd all gathered around this young man to see for themselves. "My name is Lewis Wesley. I live at 168 South Eighth East. I had heard the symptoms of tape-worm described and it struck me at once that this was my trouble. I want to say that I called at the office here and after taking a dose of his medicine I was relieved. In a very few hours of this, which I have in the jar. That is certainly quick work. I want everyone to know it." Mrs. George W. Martin, 23 South First West, was another caller at the offices in the Windsor Hotel. Said she: "I feel so much better since I have been relieved of those awful gall stones. I had suffered with them for months and had tried every way to be cured. I have undergone painful operations and have spent lots of money but never found real relief until I tried the treatment of the Boy Phenomenal. His treatment removed the gall stones inside of twenty-four hours and he used no knife and had no operation. This treatment is certainly a success and I am glad I called to see him." Barney McCammon, 231 South First street, gave credit to the Boy Phenomenal for the removal of a cancer on the face by the bloodless treatment. The cancer, once an evil biting sore, readily yielded to treatment and is now all healed. Mr. McCammon was loud in his praise of the wonderful results attained without the use of the knife.

THE LIBERAL OFFER.

Fer-Don again announced on behalf of the Boy Phenomenal that all who called for treatment between now and August 1st would be treated for the mere cost of the medicines necessary to complete a cure. "This offer of the young physician," said Fer-Don, "is the most liberal as the people are now acquainted with the marvelous results which follow his treatments and are willing to pay big fees to be treated by him. But now he wishes to give all an opportunity to get well he takes this way to benefit the poor as well as the rich."

Those who come from a distance can check their baggage direct to the Windsor Hotel and will be entitled to free room rent in that Hotel as long as they remain in the city taking treatment. The liberal offer is made until August first only.
