MURDERER NOT CAUGHT.

Man Who Shot Sagatel Sagouni Still at Large.

London, Oct. 28.—The search of the police for the murderer of Sagatel Sa-gouni, president of the Armenian Revo-lutionary society in London, who was shot and killed by an unknown assas-sin in the suburb of Nunhead late Mon-day evening, had been futile up to moon today. Several foreign revolutionary clubs were raided during the early hours of the morning, but with no re-sult. sult

The inquest opened today and it transpired that the police yesterday evening were misinformed on the sub-ject of the pistol used by the assassin being an automatic ten-shooter. It is an ordinary five-shot silver plated re-volver, numbered 1.056,

An important point developed at the inquest was that the murderer shot with his left hand.

A member of the Armenian society who described its object as being "to free my land from the Turkish rule," testified that he was with Sagouni when the latter died. Sagouni was unable to identify the murdarer as the same man he saw on board the boat while coming to England from Dieppe, France, but the society belleves he is identical. Sagouni's home was at Baku, Trans-Caucasia.

A verdict of wilful nurder was ren dered.
