

we know very well that the persons of more vigorous constitutions and more hygienic habits will have the better chance to survive whatever adverse influences the extraordinary perihelia will occasion. It is well known to physicians that, in all pestilences, plague, typhus, small-pox, cholera, influenza, pleuro pneumonia, murrain, etc., the intemperate, the dissipated, and those whose sanitary conditions were bad, furnished the great majority of victims.

We do not write to alarm any one, nor to make a sensation. We state the facts which all history attests. The readers of The Science of Health can judge for themselves what importance to attach to the subject. That the conjoint perihelion of all the large planets of our solar system, one of which, Jupiter, is a thousand times as large as the earth, must disturb our atmosphere and temperature very considerably is probable; that this disturbance must be injurious to health and life is certain; and that these periods have heretofore been pestilential, is a matter of record. How much we shall suffer during the next dozen or fifteen years, depends very much on how nearly we live a life in accordance with the laws of life.—Science of Health.

Valuable Invention for Horsemen.

The inventor and proprietor of the celebrated speed accelerators for trotting horses is a dry goods merchant of Brownstown, Indiana, of the name of Wilber C. Benton. Like Bonner, he conceived the idea that driving would be conducive to his health, and the result was that "holding the ribbons" over quick steppers not only cured him, effectually, of the rheumatism, with which he had been afflicted for years, but it led to the discovery of an art or device by means of which the speed of the trotter is at once greatly accelerated without the use of toe-weights or heavy shoes, great incumbrances to the horse, contracting his hoofs and stiffening his limbs. The accelerators give him the proper action for speed without injuring him. It is but the work of a moment to attach them to the bit and rein in such a manner as to steady him, give him an even, lengthy stride, and prevent him from hurting and cutting himself while speeding, thus doing away with the various kinds of boots and appendages for the protection of the limbs, which so materially retard his speed, to say nothing of their excessive cost and inconvenience. The accelerators sell for five dollars per pair, and are sent to any address in the United States or Canada, (charges prepaid), on receipt of that amount.

Advantages Decided.

TRADE MARK

Is sold in every State and County in the Union, and is to-day without a rival. So universally is this fact recognized that numerous imitations have been made, all claiming to be as good as the FRAZER, thus virtually admitting its superiority. Some imitators even using the name to palm off a spurious article; yet, as every package bears our trade mark, dealers and consumers will be able to distinguish the genuine from the imitation, and thus protect themselves against the intended fraud.

For sale by all dealers.
