PROVO.

SUMMER SCHOOL OF B. Y. A.

Large and Enthusiastic Audience. "Tact and Talent" illustrated by Prof. Brimhall.

Grand Celebration Projected for the Fourth-Court House Improvement Proposition Laid to Rest.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., June 11.—The Brigham Young academy summer school, which opened June 3rd, and will close July 6th, has a large attendance of enthusiastic teachers. The enrolment yesterday showed 129, and a number whose names had not yet been enrolled, making a total of about 160. These are from all parts of the state, and some from other states and territories.

Two one-hour recitations in each course is had daily in addition to laboratory and field work in the sciences. The courses taught have been arranged with special reference to the needs of teachers in the branches named:

TACT AND TALENT IN EDUCATION.

Lectures on educational topics are delivered each evening by the instructors and other educators. Last evening Professor Brimhall delivered a most interesting lecture on the relative value of talent and tact in education. As a preface he spoke of punctuality as something that should be observed by all, and teachers especially, who are very exacting in demanding it from the children. He had never heard of any logical or ethical explanation that would permit any one to talk into a public assembly without walking on the rights of the speaker, and those who had come in time. The following are some of the points presented in the lecture:

Tact is a synonym for resource; a man of tact is a man of many-sided resources. He is never at his wit's end. Tact is to talent what a marksman is to the loaded gun. Tact is executive judgment applied; it is theory and practice abstruse, not tandem. Talent possesses tact produces. Talent can tell the way; tact gets there just at the right time.

Milton was talented but a failure as a teacher. Jefferson was well talented and tactful as a politician, but at the head of a college was a failure, because he was not tactful as a teacher. The talent of Locke was almost useless, the tact of Horace Mann made him the great educator who gave to the United States its public school system.

Talent knows what school officers ought to do; tact gets them to do it. Talent knows the need of parental co-operation in support of the school, tact gets the parent on the side of the teacher in every difficulty. Talent may have a profitable school; tact will have a popular one.

Talent with her lamp of light may drive the dull boy out of school; tact will keep him and make him as bright as his metal will permit, and every pupil is entitled to all the polish and knowledge that tact sees to it that every member of the class is learning.

Talent loves learning; tact gets others to love learning. Talent may show the way, but tact will get them to make his own way. Tact in teaching causes others to know better and love the process of knowing. Tact in management causes others to grow better and love the process of growing, which is the highest aim of education.

Talent knows human nature; tact takes helpful advantage of human nature. Much tact and little talent is a very rare combination, but much talent with little tact is often found in an individual.

Talent may be brightened and is increased by effort; tact too may be improved by practice; by the development and training of the judgment to act quickly until it becomes automatic, and teachers should not be discouraged if they find themselves lacking in tact, but study to increase and develop this quality. Determination against defeat is the educational foundation of tact.

PROVO WILL CELEBRATE.

An effort was made last night in the court house to consider the proposition for to celebrate the Fourth of July. It was decided to commemorate the nation's birthday. Mayor Taylor was chairman of the meeting and Alex Hiedoulet Jr. secretary. The following committees were elected:

John U. Buche was elected permanent secretary.

The executive committee was authorized to appoint any other committee that may be considered necessary, and the sense of the meeting was that a rousing celebration shall be held. A meeting of the committee on finance will be held Thursday evening in the council chamber.

COURT HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS KILLED.

Another meeting of the city council was held last night and the committee on public grounds and city property reported that the county commissioners had offered the site of the new court house, owned by the city in the court house. The committee had also made inquiries in regard to renting quarters for the city council and city officials and found that a suitable place could not be had for less than $2 per month and that it would cost $670 to fit the place for office and other purposes, and therefore recommended that the city should not act. The report was adopted.

The committee was made to rescind the order previously adopted authorizing the committee on buildings and grounds to join the county commissioners in building the addition to the court house, the city paving on sixteenth the cost, but the motion failed to carry.

The commissioners and council committee on public grounds and city property met today for the purpose of awarding the contract for building the addition to the court house, but the commissioners went back on the whole proposition; all bids were rejected, and the contemplated improvements were abandoned for the present.

UTAH PRESS ASSOCIATION.

President Felt and Vice President Littlefield, of the Utah Press Association, accompanied by Mesdames Felt and Littlefield, came down yesterday to visit the Castella Springs, where they have arranged to hold the annual reunion of the Press association. The event will take place sometime in July, and it is possible that Mr. Felt will permit any one to talk into a public assembly without walking on the rights of the speaker, and those who had come in time. The following are some of the points presented in the lecture:

Tact is a synonym for resource; a man of tact is a man of many-sided resources. He is never at his wit's end. Tact is to talent what a marksman is to the loaded gun. Puffs under the eyes; red nose; pimple-blotted, greasy face don't mean hard drinking always as much as it shows that there is BILE IN THE BLOOD. It is true, drinking and over-eating overloads the stomach, but failure to assist nature in regularly disposing of the partially digested lumps of food that are dumped into the bowels and allowed to rot there, is what causes all the trouble. CASCARETS will help nature help you, and will keep the system from filling with poisons, will clean out the sores that tell of the system's rottenness. Bloating by bile the figure becomes unshapely, the breath foul, eyes and skin yellow; in fact the whole body kind of fills up with filth.
