

WILL FIGHT RAID CASES

Attorneys for Women Arrested Yesterday Morning Forecast Tactics.

WILL GO TO SUPREME COURT. Constitutionality of Law to be Contested by Legal Lights in the Case.

Was Alleged on the Part of Justices Hanks and Bishop, Leaving Timponso Clear Field.

"We are going to fight every step of the procedure in these cases from now on," said a Mr. Newton, an attorney, in speaking of the cases of the 42 women arrested in yesterday's raid on the "stockade."

"We will carry the matter to the district court and up to the highest court in the state before we get through with it, to test the constitutionality of the law and all the different steps of procedure under it, and we will beat them out every time."

The 42 women arrested by the sheriff's officers were to have been arraigned before Justice Hanks at 10 o'clock this morning. When that hour arrived, a Mr. Newton, accompanied by a Mr. Nelson, appeared in Justice Hanks' court, and represented that he appeared in behalf of the women. Newton immediately filed with the justice an affidavit, in the case in which Elsie Sigel is defendant, stating that said Elsie Sigel was of opinion, and verily believed that she could not secure a just and impartial hearing before Justice Hanks, and asserting, further, that she was of opinion that she could not secure a just and impartial hearing before Justice J. M. Bishop, and praying, therefore, for a change of venue in her case to the court of another justice.

HEARING THIS AFTERNOON. This is the first step in contesting the procedure in the justice's court. The hearing on the request for change of venue was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon by Justice Hanks. It is understood that if the petition for change be denied, the attorneys for the defense will swear out a complaint in the office of the county attorney charging Justice Hanks with a misdemeanor, and ask that he show cause why he should not be deprived of his office for refusing to grant the request of defendant.

It is understood that in case the change of venue be granted, that the defendant will request that the case be transferred to the court of Justice Nathan Timponso, of Provo, Utah, he being the justice of the court in the only justice who is so unclassified and unprejudiced as to be capable of giving these women a fair and impartial hearing.

Much talk of "mandamus," "habeas corpus," and similar legal and mysterious-sounding, phrases were tossed back and forth in Justice Hanks' court, and on the side of the court devoted to the defense, which, by the way, this morning seemed to have dispirited the services of King, Robinson, and the other attorneys.

A member of the Central Betterment league, this morning stated that the league has the assurance of Sheriff Sharp that the "stockade" will be positively closed up, and that hereafter, when released, the women will be arrested the same as the women, every time a raid is made.

No strike had been called, but the men decided to suspend work until the mine owners reached the check-off of the strike order which a formal strike order will be issued tomorrow calling on all miners of the district.

A break in the ranks of the operators occurred today when two companies, the Sheridan Coal company, and the McCormick Coal company, announced that they would grant the demands of the miners.

LEON LING'S TOUR WITH TRUNK

Vainly Tried to Leave One Containing Elsie Sigel's Body At Various Places.

HIS COUNTRYMEN WERE WARY. Were Very Suspicious and Police Believe They Had Knowledge of Its Grotesque Contents.

New York, June 28.—Evidence that Leon Ling, the converted Chinaman, made more than one desperate effort to dispose of the body of Elsie Sigel after he had jammed it into a trunk in his room in Eighth avenue, was brought to light last night. Chung Sin, his room mate, has established the fact that the murder was committed about noon on June 9. Witnesses now have been found by the police who declare that before Leon Ling tried to dispose of the body in Newark, the following day, he first employed a large touring automobile in which he placed the trunk at 2 p. m. on June 9. From the Eighth avenue house he rode with the trunk in the motor car to a laundry in Harlem, conducted by a friend of his who is a member of the Chinese high treason society, known as the Gee Gong tong, of which Leon is also a member. With him he also had three suit cases in which it is believed were Elsie Sigel's clothes. The laundryman refused to keep the trunk, but did take the suit cases, and the police expect to obtain them.

The trunk was kept in this laundry until 11 o'clock at night, when Leon Ling is said to have employed a taxi-cab to take him and the trunk to Newark, a distance of about 18 miles from Harlem. In Newark, as has already been discovered, the Chinese friend of Leon, who conducts a restaurant there, also refused to accept the trunk. The fact that this man and the Harlem laundry keeper refused to have anything to do with the trunk has led the police to believe that they had knowledge of its grotesque contents.

Early in the morning of June 10, Ling employed a Newark hackman to bring him and the trunk back to New York. The police have additional evidence that Ling attempted to leave the trunk at several other places, but failed and took it back to the room where the murder was committed, where it was found more than a week later.

These discoveries upset the police theories that Ling was the man who sent the telegram from Washington on June 10 to Elsie Sigel's parents in this city. But a Chinaman did send that telegram from Washington, and this convinces the police that Leon Ling, who was in this vicinity on that date trying to dispose of the body, had at least one accomplice.

CHINATOWN A MECCA. New York, June 28.—Such crowds have been attracted to Chinatown and its restaurants and other resorts through the publicity given to the murder of Elsie Sigel that additional police have been detailed to that district. It is said that never before have the oriental eating houses been so crowded and most of the callers have been overheard discussing the murder mystery. Dealers in various wares have also an enormous business, and additional sight-seeing automobiles have been pressed into service.

An echo of the crime was heard in Chinatown yesterday when Patrick O'Hara was arraigned on complaint of George Ching, a chop suey expert, who said O'Hara pretended to be an officer and accused him of being Leon Ling. O'Hara promised not to arrest him on the payment of $25.

Chicago, June 27.—Twenty Chinese students were routed today from a mission which has been held in the basement of a south side apartment building by three priests.

The police were roused to action by the complaints of residents near the mission. The police informed the sisters after their raid that under the building laws a school, and hinted that it might be well to close it up entirely. The teachers refused to do this and moved up stairs into some private rooms.

When the police entered the Chinese made breaks for the doors and windows. Only six returned for the adjourned session up stairs.

"MOTHER!" Nevada Woman Finds Runaway Boy. Serving as Waiter in Hotel Astor.

New York, June 28.—Mrs. Robert H. Burnham of Reno, Nev., and several friends went to the Hotel Astor yesterday for afternoon tea. The party was assigned to a table and a nice looking young waiter was directed to take their order. When Mrs. Burnham got a good look at him she recognized in him her son, who had left home several years ago and of whom no tidings had been received. Mrs. Burnham calmly ordered what she wanted and the waiter went away.

As soon as the meal was served the waiter took his station nearby to await further orders. Finally Mrs. Burnham left the table to go to the retiring room and once there the waiter was sent for.

As he entered the door of the room he rushed up to Mrs. Burnham, crying "Mother!" and this removed all her previous doubts. Her motherly instinct had not proved untrue and she was again in the arms of the boy she had been mourning as dead.

PITTSBURG NOW FEARS RIOTING

Rumors That Company Would Try to Take Out a Car Caused Big Gathering of Union Men.

THE POLICE DISPERSED THEM. Saloons Not Closed—Entire Police Force of Greater Pittsburgh Being Held in Reserve.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 28.—With business paralyzed to a partial extent through inadequate train service, greater Pittsburgh entered today into the second day of its streetcar strike.

Rioting, it is feared, will follow any attempt of the car company to operate its cars.

The outlying towns have taken the attention of the authorities from the downtown districts. Special deputy sheriffs and extra police remained on duty all night at these points.

The feeling of the union men and their sympathizers is evidenced by the fact that late last night a crowd of more than 100 persons gathered within half an hour at the Herron Hill barns on hearing rumors that the company would endeavor to take out a car. The police dispersed the gathering.

The entire police force of Greater Pittsburgh is being held in reserve at its precinct stations.

The outlying towns have taken the attention of the authorities from the downtown districts. Special deputy sheriffs and extra police remained on duty all night at these points.

Many large concerns have already engaged rooms for their clerical forces at downtown hotels.

The grievances of the union men include the charges of discrimination against union employees; demands for hearing for discharged men; longer lunch time; installation of bulletin boards in car barns, announcing of lay-offs and shorted runs.

FIRST REAL VIOLENCE. The first real violence in the car strike situation occurred shortly after 1 o'clock today when 14 alleged strike-breakers were chased away from the Rankin car barns by union sympathizers. A fusillade of shots greeted the strike-breakers as they emerged from the barns. County Detective John Engle was badly beaten up by the crowd at the entrance of the barns. Men in a nearby plant joined in the chase after the strike-breakers, running them over a mile.

A long warble between Mayor Magee who threatens to use his plenary powers to end the street car strike, and the executive strike committee of the motormen and conductors, adjourned this afternoon, with the strike situation unsolved.

The union men are reported to have agreed to all of the mayor's suggestions for a temporary adjustment of affairs with the exception of the reinstatement of discharged men, after proper hearings.

The company officials contend they are willing and anxious to adjust the matter at once, but that the union men have refused them the opportunity of arbitration.

EVERYTHING READY FOR SILVER GREYS

THE GROUNDS OPEN AT NOON. After Parade the Guests of Honor Will Find An Elaborate Luncheon Spread for Them.

There will be no organ recital in the tabernacle tomorrow, and the grounds will be closed to the general public until 3:30 p. m., both being made necessary by the arrangements being made to entertain the old folks.

Several new cars have been loaned for the day is out. The deficiency will be made up with citizens' carriages of which sufficient are expected to be offered to complete the parade. The carriages will follow the automobiles, and it is desired that every driver leave at least a space of 30 feet between his vehicle and the preceding one. A. R. band thence to Sixth East in South Temple. Later when the parade is finished the Fifteenth Infantry and the Ladies' G. A. R. bands will go to the Temple block, where they will play several selections during the luncheon.

WAS BUNGALOW SCENE OF ORGY?

Some Members of Coroner's Jury In Woodill Case Believe Story Told in His Letter.

EASTMAN PAWNED JEWELS. That Fact Incontestable—Also Indications That He Took Considerable Sum of Money.

St. Michaels, Md., June 28.—The coroner's inquest into the death of pretty Edith May Woodill was resumed today with several of the jurors still convinced there was a large element of truth in the letters left by "Lame Bob" Eastman declaring that there had been a party at his bungalow and that Mrs. Woodill had been slain by a jealous woman.

The jury met in the lonely little bungalow itself, within eight yards of the grave to which the body of Eastman was consigned early yesterday. It is not believed now that a definite verdict will be rendered by the jury and it is certain that no matter what may be the outcome of today's sitting of the inquest, investigation of the tragedy will be carried forward by the law officers of the state and county with undiminished energy.

The authorities give no credence to a report circulated last night that Eastman tried to induce Mrs. Woodill to elope to Europe with him and that he killed her when she refused. This report went on to state that Eastman's hiding places had been discovered and that it was necessary for him to take to flight. As a cold matter of fact Eastman was in financial straits and did not have money enough to take himself to Europe, to say nothing of the girl.

ONE INCONTESTABLE FACT. After all is said and done, the one indisputable fact remains that Eastman, following the murder, came to Baltimore and pawned the jewels of the woman he is supposed to have loved. This fact is not in dispute, and it is a considerable sum of money that Eastman had frequently supplied the man with money. Returning to Buffalo after having pawned the jewels, Eastman showed them a large roll of bills, and conducted himself in the coolest possible manner. He showed no trace of excitement until after the identity of the body became known and he was told not to leave the country. It was then that he made his escape to St. Michaels. The members of the coroner's jury who believe there may be some truth in Eastman's letter are anxious that the mystery of the launch containing two women and a third, which was seen coming out of Broad creek on which the bungalow is located, shall be cleared up. Three who had been taken from Eastman's bungalow and two who were found in the bungalow subsequent to the murder. In spite of the stories of many gay parties and much drinking and dancing, no one of the many persons who knew Eastman during his several months' residence here can be found to say they saw the man take a drink either of wine or whiskey.

THE LAUNCH PARTY. It was intimated today that the new investigations into the identity of the launch party may lead to an arrest at any moment. However, it is certain that so far there is nothing tangible to take from Eastman's story, the burden of responsibility for Mrs. Woodill's death.

Nothing is known here of the alleged discovery of a party burned into the launch, which has been reported in St. Michaels. It is said to have warned Eastman that his presence in Baltimore last Tuesday was known to the police. This note was given on the theory that flight was necessary for him, and that he planned to have Mrs. Woodill elope with him.

It is said today that a witness has been found who will testify that Eastman had told him that he had known Mrs. Woodill prior to her marriage to the Los Angeles automobile dealer, and that he had visited her in her home in California.

Eastman's bungalow, which is seven miles from here, was stripped of its furniture late Saturday by the sheriff on an attachment for debt sworn out by a prominent eastern merchant to whom Eastman was indebted for a pump. The sheriff's action in disturbing the interior of the cabin prior to the conclusion of the coroner's investigation may be called to the attention of the grand jury.

Mrs. Eastman will apply today for letters of administration so that she may take legal possession of her husband's farm. She is not expected to come to St. Michaels, but will probably ask for the papers at Easton.

After a brief session in the bungalow the coroner's jury in the Eastman-Woodill case today adjourned the hearing without rendering a verdict.

PACIFY MEMBERS OF JIKIRIS' MORO BAND. Manila, June 27.—Successful operations against dikris' band of Moro bandits have been conducted during the last few days by Capt. Byram, Hodges and Anderson, commanding detachments of the Sixth cavalry, who are operating with the mosquito fleet under Capt. Signor.

Capt. Anderson struck the band on Puti island and in the running engagement that followed, 10 of the bandits were killed, a number were wounded and several others were captured by friendly Moros. Thirty-one of the band have been killed or captured during the last 20 days, but Jikiris' band itself manages to elude capture.

The several cavalry detachments are still in pursuit and expect to capture or exterminate the outlaws, who have caused the authorities much trouble.

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION IN CHICAGO A MYSTERY

Police Unable to Determine Whether Was Attack on Telephone Co. or Incident of Gamblers' War.

Chicago, June 28.—The cause of the explosion which last night wrecked a telephone exchange in the heart of the city and did damage to property estimated to exceed $100,000 and inflicted injuries which may be fatal to one man and slightly wounded 14 others, is still unexplained. The police are unable to determine whether it was the work of persons desiring to harm the telephone company, or another of the series of bombs which have marked the progress of what is known as the "gamblers' war."

A number of telephone employees are now on a strike, and the police incline to believe that this has some connection with the explosion. The principal damage was of the conduct through which the conveying cables of the telephone company pass to the exchange. Fifteen cables controlling 52,000 telephones, were torn, twisted or severed by the explosion.

One of the main theories is that the telephone company's refusal to permit its wires to be used in the transmission of bets on races has brought it under the ban of the gambling fraternity who may have had a hand in the "bomb" explosion that have thus far baffled solution.

Few of the buildings within a radius of a block escaped damage. Broken windows for two blocks around testified to the force of the explosive used.

EIGHT PERSONS HURT IN RIO GRANDE WRECK. Denver, Colo., June 28.—Eight persons were hurt, none fatally, late yesterday afternoon when three coaches of the east bound Denver & Rio Grande passenger train No. 6, known as the San Francisco limited went into the ditch at Sedalia, 20 miles from Denver. The wreck was caused by the displacement of rails as the result of the intense heat.

Four hours later the engine and two coaches of a Colorado Midland passenger train were derailed at Mississippi avenue, inside the city limits of Denver, presumably as the result of the same cause. The passengers and crew escaped with a shaking up. Yesterday was the hottest day in 10 years in Denver, the thermometer reaching 98.

VON BUELOW ANNOUNCES HIS NEAR RETIREMENT. Berlin, June 28.—Prince von Buelow authorized the announcement that he intends to retire from the chancery of the emperor in a few days, as soon as the pending finance reform measure is disposed of in one way or another. The prince remains in office only temporarily in an endeavor to pass the law.

The semi-official Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, commenting today on the current reports published tendentious as to the significance of Chancellor von Buelow's statement, says: "Prince von Buelow besought the emperor to permit him to go at once, but his majesty in the warmest terms expressed his wish that the prince remain in office until the financial proposals had been put through the reichstag."

ALDRICH FORCED TAKING UP OF THE SCHEDULES. Washington, June 28.—Before scheduled he took up Mr. Aldrich's schedule of the floor and with a view to eliminating from the corporation tax amendment authority by which corporations may own the stock of other companies, introduced a modified form of the original text of the measure.

In connection with the same amendment Mr. Culberson proposed a modification which the information furnished by the commissioner of internal revenue concerning corporations shall at any time be available to either the house or senate or any committee of either party.

Expressing some impatience over the delay, Senator Aldrich forced the taking up of the schedules at the first moment.

"Cotton bagging" was the first item to be considered. Mr. Aldrich accepted an amendment placing it on the free list. The amendment was offered by Senator McLaughlin and covered bagging for cotton, gummy cloth and similar fabrics suitable for covering cotton. It had been expected that the southern senators would demand much time for the discussion of this question and there is no doubt if he accomplished nothing else the chairman of the finance committee vastly expedited the final disposal of the schedules when he permitted the amendment to prevail. The amendment was agreed to and it was immediately followed by an agreement to the entire paragraph which has included binding time in the free list.
