In accordance with a dispatch received by Judge Marshall this morning, from Charles H. Tweed, second vice president of the Southern Pacific in New York, the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Central Pacific Railway company, scheduled for Salt Lake, has been again postponed until May 14. This makes the third time that the meeting has been adjourned to an-

It is understood that when the meeting is finally held that there will be striking changes in the directorate and that the matter of the consolidation with the Harriman Union Pacific interests will be consummated.

When seen this morning W. S. Mc-Cornick, who has prominently interest-ed himself. In conjunction with other leading business men of Salt Lake, in the proposed building of the cut-off of the Southern Pacific into this city, said: "I am not surprised that the meeting has been postponed, for the Southern Pacific people are now walt-ing to hear from their corps of sur-veyors that is now out in the field and daily drawing nearer to Salt Lake Everything points to the fact that the Southern Pacific will come to Salt Lake and make this town the leading rall. road center of the intermountain region. We are anxiously waiting news from New York in regard to the situation, and just as soon as we get definite word in regard to what Salt Lake can do for the Southern Pacific, we will call a special meeting of the representative citizens here to take some definite step in the matter.
