EVENING NEWS

Friday . . September 21, 1877.

What is a Square Meal?

Among the prisoners arraigned at the Tombs Police Court yesterday, for intoxication, was a rough looking man, whose general appearance betokened a hard struggle with poverty. He gave the name of Eugene Hull, and stated that he was employed as a man of all work in a plumber's shop at the munificent salary of $2.50 per week. The night previous his employer had only given him $1.50 as his week's wages, and he felt so grieved about it that he indulged in too much whiskey, and was found intoxicated by the officer.

"Why didn't he give you your full week's wages?" asked Judge Duffy.

"I suppose it was to make sure that I would come to work on Monday. That's all the reason I know," said the prisoner.

"And is $2.50 all you can make during the week?" asked the magistrate.

The prisoner replied in the affirmative.

"How do you manage to live on that sum?" asked the Court.

"Well, Judge, I make out pretty fair. I don't have a very luxurious bed to sleep on to be sure. A woodpile often answers for one, but a fellow can live pretty good on pork an' beans an' hash an' such things. Now, I know lots of places where a fellow can get a good square meal for thirteen cents."

"What do you call a good, square meal?"

"Well, there's coffee and rolls five cents, all anybody wants to eat. Sometimes when I feel richer than usual I add three cents more for a piece of dec zirt."

The manner of the prisoner touched the Judge. Handing him a silver half dollar he said:—

"There, I discharge you, with the warning not to drink any more. Now go and get a good square meal with this money."

"What, with all this money?" asked the prisoner, looking astonished.

"Certainly; buy fifty cents worth of food."

"Why, Judge, you don't mean that, do you? No man can eat fifty cents worth at one meal. Why, for twenty-three cents I can get a regular 'buster.'"

The earnestness of the man's language caused much laughter. He left the court room still doubtful of his ability to eat fifty cents' worth at one meal.—New York Herald.

A Fatal Chamber.

In a hotel of the Quartier Latin Paris, a lovesick student, ten years ago, blew his brains out. The following year a medical student who failed to pass an examination did the same. The landlord, in alarm, declared that no one should sleep in the room again, and made it a storing place for furniture. One morning a waiter in the house, being accused of a trifling theft, mounted to the room and hanged himself. This led the landlord to relinquish the building. His successor was unfortunate, and soon sold out, and it fell into the hands of a druggist. The new tenant heard the story of the fatal chamber with indifference, but upon his wife it made a great impression. She shunned it to the extent of passing much of her time in the chamber most distant from it. The druggist finally found that this chosen sanctuary of refuge was the room of the head clerk. In a fit of jealousy he swallowed poison and mounted to the fatal chamber to die. The last suicide excited the neighborhood, and the owner of the hotel was requested to wall up the door of the room. He only laughed. The neighborhood was very angry, but its ire was appeased on the announcement that the building was to be demolished, in order to make way for a continuation of the Foubourg St. Germain. The proprietor demanded a quarter of a million francs from the city, but the assessor awarded him only ninety thousand. The proprietor fell sick with disappointment, and during convalescence, he desired to take a last look at his property, which was to fall on the following day. When the workmen arrived to begin the work of demolition the fatal chamber had a new tenant. The proprietor's body was found hanging there.

HIGHEST HONORS

AT THE

CentennialL

World Exhibition,

1876.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS

Unanimously assigned the

"FIRST RANK IN THE "SEVERAL REQUISITES"

of such Instruments!

The MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. have the honor to announce that the Organs of their manufacture have been unanimously assigned "the FIRST RANK in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of instruments of the class" by the Judges at the CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION at Philadelphia, 1876, and are the ONLY INSTRUMENTS OF THIS GENERAL CLASS AWARDED THIS RANK. This is after the severest competition by the best makers, before one of the most competent juries ever assembled.

They have also received the MEDAL, but, as is well known, medals of equal merit have been awarded all articles deemed worthy of recognition; so thus it will be easy for many makers to advertise that they have received "first medals."

The differences in competing articles, and their comparative excellence, are recognized in the Reports of the Judges from which the following is an extract:—

"THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO.'S exhibit of Reed Organs and Harmoniums shows instruments of the FIRST RANK IN THE SEVERAL REQUISITES OF INSTRUMENTS OF THE CLASS, viz: Smoothness and equal distribution of tone, scope of expression, resonance and singing quality, freedom and quickness in action of keys and bellows, with thoroughness of workmanship, combined with simplicity of action."

(Signed by all the Judges.)

The Mason and Hamlin Organs are thus declared to rank first, not in one or two respects only, but in the SEVERAL REQUISITES of these instruments, and they are the Only ones assigned this rank. This triumph was not unexpected, for the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs have uniformly been awarded the highest honors in competitions in America, there having been scarcely six exceptions in hundreds of competitions. They were awarded highest honors and

FIRST MEDALS

PARIS, 1867; VIENNA, 1873; SANTIAGO, 1875

PHILADELPHIA, 1876;

and have thus been awarded highest honors at Every World's Exposition!

at which they have been exhibited; being the Only American Organs which have ever obtained Any Award at any competition with best European makers, or in any European World's Exposition!

NEW STYLES, with improvements, exhibited at the CENTENNIAL, elegant new cases in great variety. Prices very lowest consistent with best material and workmanship. Organs sold for cash on installments, or rented until rent pays. Every Organ warranted to give entire satisfaction to every reasonable purchaser or THE MONEY REFUNDED. ☞ ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUES sent free.
