WARMING UP.

State Politics Becoming Serious With First Opening of Spring.

That an early spring flood of state politics is the certain result of the present winter thaw in candidacles is the opinion of a great many politicians who are beginning to note a warming up of political booms.

up of political booms. To determine what part they will take in fall and summer activities a number of Republicans met Tuesday evening in the Wilson hotel to talk over coming events and to plan for them. Tonight they will meet again in larger numbers at the kwnyon, and use themes up for discussion will be con-vention dates, the selection of delegates to the national Republican convention, the coming state convention, and gen-eral matters of organization. Last night the Women's Democratic club met to make preliminary arrange-ments for a Jefferson day banquet, to be held April 8, or thereabouts. An invitation has been sent to William J. Bryan to be present, and it is hoped that either he or some other Demo-crat of national reputation will be able to attend.

EXCITING ENCOUNTER.

Special Officer Riley Overnowers Suspicious Character on Brigham St.

Special Officer C. C. Riley who patrols South Temple street to Sixth East, had an exciting struggle with a suspicious character last night and had d narrow escape from being seriously ingame was going on, it was for "club members only." Another place visited was Reagan's, opposite Keith-O'Brien's. The rooms were in darkness. Reagan had closed up. Whether he was scared or not does not matter, but there was no game there. It is understood that he told one of the local detectives that he was at last convinced that the police meant business and had decided to close up. The joint which has been running under Ada Wilson's house on Commercial street is also closed tight, and there is no longer a game there. The same condition of affairs exists at the Miners' saloon. An effort to get in a game at Lavielle's proved unsuc-cessful, but the police are confident of making a case against other houses named by the "News." narrow escape from being seriously in-jured with a "jimmy." Riley over-powered his man and landed him u jail. The prisoner gave the name of James Green and says he is a black-smith. He gave his age as 22 years Riley says he saw the man prowling about in front of the residence of J. D. Wood and when he called upon the man to halt the latter put up a fight. Riley believes the man was trying to The prisoner says that he was not try-ing to break into the residence. Besides the "jummy." Green had a candle on him. The prisoner says that he was not try-ing to break into a house, and that he carried the candle because he had been beating his way on the trains.

HOTEL PORTER STABBED.

Henry Tuttle Badly Cut Up by William Eaton of Ogden.

Henry Tuttle, claiming to be a porter at the Wilson hotel, was stabbed several times about 9 o'clock last nigh during a fight in an alley leading off State street. He claims that William Eaton of Ogden did the cutting. Both men were arrested by Officer Harris and taken to headquarters. Eaton had a knife in his band at the time of the arrest. Tuttle was stabbed in sev-eral places and his clothing was cut to ribbons.

eral places and his clothing was cut to ribbons. Eaton tells a different story than the one related by the injured man. He says that Tuitle dragged him into the alley and began beating him. Fearing he was about to be robbed and per-haps murdered he drew a knife and defend himself. Tuitle declares that he had a row with Eaton and the lat-ter challenged him to go into the alley and fight. He says he accepted the challenge, and that Eaton at once made a murderous assault with the knife. The police are investigating the affair.

Theater-Paul Gilmore is a hand-some young actor, who, without being great, possesses sufficient dash, intellisome young actor, who, without being great, possesses sufficient dash, intelli-gence and experience to make some-thing out of a play, if he only had the play. Knowing that Mr. Gilmore pos-sosses these attributes, it was some-thing of an astonishment to his friends last night to see him laboring through such a distressful conglomeration of trash, as that which the author of "The Wheel of Love" has pitchforked together. The play is really be-neath serious notice, even though it convulsed the galleries last might. With the exception of Mr. Gilmore himself, and Miss Phyllis Young, a girl well known in Salt Lake, and who played a colorless role in generally sweet style, there was no one in the cast that called for much more mention than the play itself. The engagement closes tonight, and let it be hoped when Mr. Gilmore visits us again, it will be in a vehicle better suited to his talents.
