CHOIR SCORES GRAND SUCCESS

Artistic Rendition of the "First Christmas" Cantata in Ogden Tabernacle.

HEARINGS IN DISTRICT COURT.

Motion to Postpone Libel Suit Denied—School for Deaf and Blind Entertains Distinguished Visitors.

Ogden, May 15.—Many were turned away from the Ogden tabernacle last evening at the rendition of the "First Christmas" cantata by the tabernacle choir. Those who were fortunate enough to get seats spent an evening of real musical pleasure. The cantata is a most beautiful piece of music, and when rendered as it was last evening by the choir, it cannot help but please. To accommodate the large audience the aisles were filled with chairs. Prof. Ballyntyne is deserving of much credit for the artistic program. The choir did most excellent work in the choruses, while the soloists, H. S. Ensign, Fred Graham, Myrtle Baldwin, and Mrs. A. R. C. Smith, were all in good voice, and sang the solo parts unusually well. Prof. McClellan played the accompaniment on the large organ.

DISTRICT COURT HEARINGS.

Effort to Postpone Libel Case—Irrigation Suit on Trial.

William Glasman and the Standard Publishing company now on trial in the district court, before Judge Maughan, in a $10,000 libel suit brought against them by Alice Lewis Richards, are now making a second effort to postpone the trial of the case continued to some future date. Last evening the defendant Glasman filed an affidavit, in the second district court, setting forth that on account of unforeseen conditions that have arisen with several of his most important witnesses, they will be unable to be present at this time at the trial, and that if the trial should continue without their testimony being secured, it would greatly hamper his getting justice. first continuance was asked on the ground that Philip Spear, who, it is claimed, wrote the alleged libelous article, cannot be found, but the court denied the motion at that time. The case was set for trial at 10 o'clock last evening. They are: Joseph R. Boatwright, John H. Warren, George W. Taylor, Gus H. Thorne, Sr., Frank S. Woodcock, Joseph W. Wilbur, Dan Ragan, and Elijah Betts.

A special venire was drawn from the jury box at the instance of Judge Howell. They are: Richard D. Pincock, Joseph E. Taylor, Wm. T. Pickett, Melvin J. Stone, J. C. Nye, Peter C. Poulson, Frederick Wright, Ogden, Joseph Fowers, Hooper, John Herrett, Pleasant View, Henry C. White, Roy.

The case of the Liberty Irrigation company against Wm. Bailey et al is now on trial before Judge Howell in the district court. At the request of the parties to the action the court, stenographer, clerk, attorneys and all concerned this morning took carriages and drove to Ogden valley to make a personal inspection of the canals, Ogden river, at the junction where the water is taken out and other points of importance in the case. While at the valley, the court will spend the day taking testimony, thus saving a great amount of mileage for many of the witnesses. The suit is brought to determine the rights of the parties to the suit to certain waters of Ogden river used for irrigation purposes.

Suit has been commenced in the district court by Ellis B. Stoker against A. E. Stevens and Mary Stevens to recover $250 alleged to be due on a promissory note.

Her voice is full, rich and possesses a wonderful sweetness."

assistant Church historian, with Garrison S. Bastian and Joseph McKersley, of the stake presidency, held meeting in Torrey today, which was very much appreciated by the saints of the Torrey ward.

The Torrey canal has been so far finished as to get the water to town. The great obstacle of crossing the canyon through a pipe is now overcome as the water has been brought across the canyon and the pipe line is a success. Torrey farmers will now be able to irrigate their farming land. This canal has been quite a large undertaking for a small community. It was begun in 1881 but now that the canal is completed to town, and the water brought on to the bench the people feel much encouraged and many bushels of grain will be raised this year.

By next season the canal will be continued on across Sand creek and Torrey will in the near future become attractive to all who are seeking new homes in the Torrey country. It is centrally situated and is adapted to raising of all hardy fruits as well as alfalfa and grain. Torrey is the coming town of Wayne county and will support many families. The very best of building rock is in great abundance, fire wood of best quality is within one mile of town.

The district school has closed for this year.

Heavy frost have injured the fruit to some extent in Torrey for the first time since its settlement.

CLARK STRIKES BACK.

State "Claims All He Said About Water Was True."

F. E. Clark, M. D., state sanitary inspector, again takes up the matter of the water supply of St. George, and submits the following letter in reply to the communication from the mayor of that town, which appeared in these columns a few days since:

"In reply to a letter appearing in your columns of May 10, 1907, signed by George W. Daggett, mayor of St. George, I would say that in very particular my statements regarding the drinking water of the above mentioned town are correct; that most of my information was derived from the mayor himself and the local health officer, Dr. Woodbury. After talking with them I investigated conditions carefully and am prepared to prove everything I may say. 'The water in question was at one time analyzed and pronounced of an inferior quality; it is heavily laden with salts, and it does not flow through corrals, it passes so near them that the drainage goes into the stream, thus polluting the water and rendering it unfit for domestic purposes.'"

"According to Dr. Woodbury, there is and is found to be much kidney trouble resulting from the use of such water. I made the statement that about three years ago the question of instituting a pure water system was voted down by the people; this statement came directly from the mayor and several of the townsmen. I cannot see why the people of St. George should shrink at the truth. It is true that the southern towns in fact the sanitary conditions are much better than in most of the towns of the state, and the only problem of moment is to improve water."

"I stated in my report that there had been no contagion in St. George for two or three years, with the exception of a small outbreak of scarlet fever, which quickly subsided. I have interested myself and shall continue to interest myself in the proposed water system, and have written the prominent citizens of the town personal letters asking their co-operation."

In closing, I will state that any consideration of local pride shall not interfere with my duties as a state officer and that it is my purpose to do all in my power to improve conditions where necessary."

BENEFIT FOR MISS GERBER.

School Teachers Raising Funds to Defray Medical Expenses.

The teachers of the city schools are raising a fund to defray the medical and surgical expenses of Miss Nita Gerber, a teacher in the Utah school, who was badly burned a short time ago. A voluntary assessment of $1 each has been subscribed to by the teachers, and the amount thus collected, until a sufficient sum has been raised to pay the expenses incidental to the unfortunate occurrence.

So badly were the lower limbs of Miss Gerber burned, that it may be necessary for the patient to undergo the ordeal of skin grafting. Should such an emergency arise, friends of the young lady will in a spirit of self-sacrifice, yield their persons to the surgeon's knife for the relief of the sufferer. On the day that Miss Gerber met with the accident, there were a number of teachers visiting the school where she is engaged. As was their wont, the teachers were enjoying chocolate on an alcohol burner that they have for that purpose, at luncheon time. An explosion occurred and almost instantly Miss Gerber's clothing was in flames.

A gentleman who was representing a book firm was in the office of the principal talking business matters, when he heard the screams of Miss Gerber, he ran and smothered the flames with his coat, but already she had been badly burned.

It is stated that the board of education paid Miss Gerber a month's extra salary, and the kindness of the school people in general has been very marked, both in the expense which she is under during her affliction is very heavy. It has been proposed that some kind of a public benefit be arranged, a popular concert, for instance, as it is believed that such a movement would meet with the hearty approval of the public, and it is probable that action in that direction will be taken.

DEATH OF BRIG-GEN. SANNO.

Was Colonel of Eighteenth Infantry at Fort Douglas in 1871.

The recent death of Brig-Gen. James M. J. Sanno, U. S. A., retired, is of interest in this city, as he was colonel of the Eighteenth U. S. Infantry, when that command was stationed partly at that command and partly at Fort D. A. Russell. He was also in temporary command of the department of Colorado for a time. Gen. Sanno, Colorado, was interested in promoting a former surgeon at Fort Douglas who was charged with brutal treatment of enlisted men, and he believed he have had his way, would have transferred the offending officer to Fort Taylor, Dry Tortugas. As it was the latter was sent to the Philippines, where he was given plenty to do at undesirable stations.

Gen. Sanno died at Fort Ouelthorpe, Ga., where he was visiting his daughter. He was born in New Jersey, in 1860. Lieut. Sanno was made captain, and for a time served at Fort Steele, Wyo., and at Fort Douglas, Utah, marching with his regiment from the city to Fort Shaw, Mont. He served on the frontier off and on until 1894, when he participated in putting down the railroad strikes at Chicago. In 1895, Capt. Sanno was made major in the Third Infantry, was lieutenant colonel of the Fourth, three years later, and made colonel of the Eighth, tenth infantry in 1899. While lieutenant colonel he commanded his regiment in the Philippines. He was made a brigadier July 30, 1903, and retired at his own request the following day.

VEATCH SLEPT PEACEFULLY.

And Now There is a Job for Some "Good American."

James Veatch, the nightwatchman at the city and county building, has "retired" and there is a job open for some good "American." The story is going the rounds that Veatch slept while on duty and some one sneaked into the building while he was taking his usual nap and turned the water in the fire hose and flooded the corridors. Veatch was not disturbed in the least but when an investigation was started by the committee on control he "broke." The job pays $15 per month and there are several applicants for the place already. The mayor and committee will make an appointment in a few days.

HANSON CALLED OFF.

Attorney General Withdraws His Request in Prosecution of Sheets Case.

It appears that for some reason unknown to the public in general, Attorney Gen. Breeden has changed his mind in regard to wanting County Attorney Hanson to assist Dist. Atty. Loofbourow in the prosecution of the new case to institute a writ of habeas corpus. On Monday the attorney general wrote a letter to the county attorney, asking him to assist in the prosecution of the case, but yesterday he sent another letter withdrawing his former communication. The letter of yesterday follows: "May 14, 1907. 'Willard Hanson, County Attorney, City. 'Dear Sir—After further consultation, I have deemed it advisable to withdraw the writ of habeas corpus, requesting you to appear and assist the district attorney in the prosecution of George Sheets for conspiracy.'"

(Signed) "M. A. BREEDEN, 'Attorney General.'"
