The Secretary of the Navy Talks About Populists and Silver.

A BLOW TO THE SHERMAN LAW.

The Crisis Reached.—Some Currency Should be Given to the Country.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—Secretary of the Navy Hartwell, who is thoroughly familiar with the Populist movement in the South, said today that he thought the Populists were not now making any progress in the country, and the teachings of those engaged in the agitation would not have any influence in shaping the policy of the Democratic party. Speaking of silver, the secretary said: "I think that the stoppage of the free coinage of silver is the greatest mistake given by the Sherman law and the free coinage of silver. The free coinage of silver in India has been pointed to as an object lesson by the advocates of free coinage in this country. Now, the change in the Sherman law will stop the free coinage of silver. It touches both the arguments that silver currency was a benefit to the farmers of India, and that exchange was at a system for the benefit of England."

"Do you think the silver question presents serious danger to the Democratic party at this time?" was asked.

"I think we have reached a crisis, and the party in power will be judged by the wisdom they show in giving the nation a sound currency."

President Cleveland intends to leave the city within a few days for a long stay at Hubbard Bay, and beyond the cabinet officers are straining matters.

A PRECARIOUS DECISION.

Assistant Secretary Heybold of the interior department today made a panacea decision which will be welcome news to a large number of women who now live in constant fear of being compelled to leave their homes during the late war. They are to be placed on pension rolls. The question arises upon a communication from the commissioner of pensions to whether these women who superintended the care of the sick and wounded were entitled to pensions under the provisions of the service act. Assistant Secretary Heybold held that these persons are entitled to pensions.

A Sister Passes.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Senator James of Nevada died this evening.

"I do very much if the Sherman act is repealed at the extra session. It certainly cannot be wiped out unless a sufficient majority to do so can be found in Congress. Success in electing Congressmen in the next election will be decided by the result of the extra session."—The Herald.

Breaking Shipments of Silver.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—The collector of customs at El Paso, Tex., has been instructed by Assistant Secretary of State to discontinue all shipments of silver, including silver bullion, from Mexico exceeding $100 in value; also to be imported or to many unless accompanied by a certificate of export from the port of shipment, unless the amount shown by a bill of lading or a declaration made before the consular officer at the port of shipment that it is to be forwarded as money or medium of exchange at a fixed value per ounce, and not as merchandise.

HARRISON SILENT.

We Prefer not to discuss the Sherman Law.

New York, June 29.—Ex-President Harrison, who has been silent when asked how he accounted for the sharp rise of silver since the passage of the Sherman law, he said he would prefer not to discuss that subject. "But everybody knows," he said, "that the Sherman law was only an expedient and was based in preference to something worse."

The ex-president thought a great deal more blame was laid at the door of the Sherman law than it deserved, but the real regret might tend to restore public confidence. It only by working upon the imagination of the public.

NOTES TO PHILADELPHIA.

New York, June 29.—The condition of affairs in Philadelphia banking circles is becoming more marked. Another wire advised received from Philadelphia to-day says: "At New York exchange to-day only 100,000 dollars left on a dollar. Several large banks in this city have large balances owing them at Philadelphia banks, which the latter are unable to remit on account of the fact that to procure New York exchange or carry forward a balance, the York bank has $750,000 tied up in Philadelphia in that way. Another has $600,000, and another $500,000, and the condition of the Philadelphia banks is becoming a serious one."

The Philadelphia exchange is to be charged on all Philadelphia exchanges received from dealers here.

Treasury in a School.

DETROIT, Mich., June 29.—There will be no graduations from the Indiana State Normal school tomorrow as the entire graduating class of sixty-nine left on the same today, refusing to yield to the trustees. The graduates were declared off. The board of trustees subsequently submitted an ultimatum that they observe their recent actions on the students and return to the university. The ultimatum was rejected. The entire class refused to sign the statement, passed up their effects and left the building. Students who sympathized with the graduates did the same thing.

There were waiting outside of the annual meeting of the alumni this evening. The opponents of the trustees and faculty tried to pass a resolution condemning them, and calling on the governor to appoint a master of all the schools. This was defeated, but afterwards a resolution was adopted appointing a committee to draft a law for submission at the next meeting providing for one of the alumni to be appointed on the board by the governor.

A TRAIN ROBBED.

He Explicitly Not the Wrong Conductor.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., June 29.—An unusual number of passengers were on the train, a fresh-looking character, the bartender passenger train at Oklahoma City, carrying a large parcel. After the train was well out of town he went into the toilet room and removed himself with a revolver and his hand. He told the conductor and companion to him to stop the train and then entered the engine to shoot at the engine. As they stepped to the ground the bullet allowed the gun to slightly shift. The conductor, who had been with him, shot him in the head and left him unconscious with his own gun. He was placed in jail at Wichita. He was equipped with two sticks of dynamite under his gun.

RANGED IN ENEMY.

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 29.—Governor Alfalfa's speech yesterday afternoon was not well received in Naperville, Ill. Some people in that town last night hung a sign of the governor across the principal street and it was not taken down until this morning. The governor was in this city. "I think we have reached a crisis, and the party in power will be judged by the wisdom they show in giving the nation a sound currency," he said. The speaker stopped with the consent of India, it touches both the arguments that silver currency was a benefit to the farmers of India, and that exchange was at a system for the benefit of England."
