FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, NOVEMBER 22.

Death of a Sandwich Islander.

In the Nineteenth Ward, this city, on Nov. 21st, 1887, Sister Anna Naan, wife of Brother Charles William Naan, died of liver complaint. Deceased was lately of Honolulu, Oahu, Sandwich Islands. She arrived here only a few months ago, and was in failing health before she left her native place. She is highly spoken of as a woman of excellent traits of character, and a faithful Latter-day Saint. The funeral services will be held at the house of Brother Kaulelanamoku, in the Nineteenth Ward, at one p. m. tomorrow (Wednesday). Friends are invited to attend.

Extinct Empires.

As will be seen by an advertisement in this issue, the Salt Lake Theatre has been secured for an exhibition of the five mummies recently discovered in Arizona, and for Prof. C. H. Robinson's lecture on Ancient Races of America. The prices of admission are low, ranging from 50 cents down to 10 cents. We trust there will be a full house on the occasion, for reasons concerning which we will probably have something to say in a future issue. Those who attend the lecture will have an opportunity to inspect the mummies at its close, as arrangements will be made to enable the audience to pass close to them. The lecture and exhibition will be given next Monday evening, Nov. 28th.

Third District Court.

Proceedings before Judge Zane today:

Susanna Lewis vs. Alma S. Lewis, et al.; report of sale approved and commissioners discharged.

United States vs. Samuel M. Butcher; unlawful cohabitation; forfeiture set aside and sentence fixed for Nov. 28.

Murdock vs. Wm. Murdock, decree of divorce granted.

The court gives notice that on Saturday, the 26th inst., at 10 a. m., the court will call the equity calendar for setting trials thereof.

Frank Wright vs. M. S. Ascheim, et al.; on trial before a jury.

R. C. Badger Sentenced.

Yesterday afternoon Rodney C. Badger was called to receive sentence on a conviction of unlawful cohabitation. The Court asked—Will you obey the law in future?

Mr. Badger—Does it compel me to forsake my plural wife and her children?

Court—The law permits you to provide for her and them, but not to live with her. You are liable to be prosecuted if you visit the house of your second wife; keep away and thus avoid trouble.

Mr. Badger—My conscience will not allow me to forsake her.

Court—If you cannot promise to forsake her as her husband, you will be sentenced to six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $100.

From the Northwestern Mission.

Elder Jens M. Jensen, of Richfield, Sevier County, left Utah in April, 1886, on a mission to the Northwestern States. For the first year he labored in Wisconsin, and afterwards in Iowa and Kansas. Generally, in his labors, Elder Jensen found the people very indifferent in regard to the Gospel, but he met with some who were disposed to investigate it more or less thoroughly.

In Wisconsin and Kansas a number of baptisms have occurred lately. The missionaries in Kansas are laboring among a people called Biggertonites, led by a man named Wm. Biggerton. They were formerly a portion of the followers of Sidney Rigdon, and a number of them have been baptized.

Elder Jensen reached this city on his return from his mission on the 21st instant.

Pleasant Grove Points.

George S. Clark, of Pleasant Grove, raised 1,350 bushels of potatoes on two and a quarter acres of land this last season. Many of the tubers weighed five pounds, and some of them 6½ pounds. Mr. Clark has tilled the same land thirty-seven successive years. Who can best this?

The City Hall at Pleasant Grove is being crowded forward. Carpenters are busy putting on the roof. Clark's theatre hall, in the same place, is advancing in like manner. Both buildings will materially enhance the town and fill a long-felt want.

The young men of Pleasant Grove are busy hauling wood from the canons to supply the widows of the ward in fuel the coming winter. Much credit is due the young men for their energy in this matter.

Appraisalment of Church Stock.

Yesterday afternoon Marshal Dyer, as Receiver, had an appraisalment of the stock at the Church Farm. Hon. Francis Armstrong and James M. Kennelly were the appraisers. The list taken yesterday included 26 Holstein cows, 11 Durham cows, 1 Jersey cow, 2 Holstein bulls and 26 calves of various ages; 4 horses, a dump cart and a wagon. The total appraisalment aggregated $8,045. The appraisers did not complete the work, and took an adjournment till this afternoon, when it will be prosecuted further.

In regard to the Church buildings and grounds in this city, we understand that the leases were signed today and are to the effect that the Church retain the Temple block and buildings, pending the adjudication of the suit, on payment of a nominal rent—$1. The Titling Office and Historical Office are also leased until the case is disposed of at a monthly rental of $300.

Thomas A. Harris Arrested.

Thomas A. Harris is the name of a resident of this city who has been engaged for a number of years as a dealer in coal and kindling wood, and later is keeper of a small boot and shoe store. He is the father of Thos. F. Harris, who was convicted at the September term of the Third District Court of polygamy. This morning Harris senior was arrested on a charge of unlawful cohabitation. The complaint is signed by Deputy Frank, and alleges that, from Nov. 14, 1884, to Nov. 21, 1887, Thomas A. Harris cohabited with two women as his wives. It is alleged that Mrs. Harris and her sister are the ladies whom the accused recognizes as wives. Mrs. Harris' sister has been employed as clerk in Harris' shoe store. The case was set for hearing before Commissioner Norrell at 11 a. m. today, but owing to the absence of witnesses was continued till 3 p. m.

The defendant, who came to this country as a "Mormon," but who, according to his own statement, "don't believe in much of it now," was in custody during the wait. He was very expressive in his denunciation of those who worked up the case against him, declaring that he "never had but one wife, and never even dreamed of getting another. There are them fellows," said he, "they persecute a man for cohabiting and they persecute him for not cohabiting. What is a feller a-goin' to do? Can't he get no protection? If that is the Constitution and laws, I'm a-goin' to have my naturalization papers transformed. I a-lut goin' to be a citizen of a government as persecutes you when you does, and persecutes you when you don't. Why, now, a man can't give his sister-in-law a job to tend store to keep her from starvin' but these fellows get after him. I don't know nothin' more about this thing than that boot. This is the work of that darned Charley Gilmore, I'll bet."

This afternoon the defendant was arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Mrs. Harriet Fountain was the first witness, and testified that she heard a little boy call defendant "Papa;" never heard of defendant having a second wife.

Mrs. Harriet Lee, the alleged plural wife, said that she resided at the defendant's shoe store. The defendant and his wife, who is my sister, gave me a home and light employment, because my health was very poor; I live alone; my maiden name was Smith; my husband, James Lee, and I parted about six years ago; Mr. Harris has never been through the Endowment House; I was never married to him; have never been called Mrs. Harris; am called Mrs. Lee.

Peter Fountain testified that he only knew of defendant having one wife; had seen another lady at defendant's house, but did not know who she was; have seen a little grandson of Mr. Harris' there; I thought the other lady was Mr. Harris' wife because I saw her there so many times; there is a secret room in the house.

Mrs. Hanson was the next witness. The examination had not concluded when the News went to press. It is probable that the defendant will be discharged.

VOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER

Reese Jones Gets Five Years in the Penitentiary.

It was 4:30 p. m. yesterday when the murder case against Reese Jones was given to the jury. The Court, in its charge, defined the various degrees of the offense, involuntary and voluntary manslaughter, and murder in the first and second degrees. The jury were informed that they could convict the defendant of either or could acquit him; if they found him guilty of murder in the first degree, it would be proper for them to recommend that the sentence be made imprisonment for life.

The jurors came to an agreement in about an hour and a half, and the verdict was announced to be guilty of voluntary manslaughter. The full penalty for this offense is five years' imprisonment.

The defendant was called and stated that he was ready for sentence. The court then passed judgment, ordering that Reese Jones be imprisoned in the penitentiary for the term of five years.

THE MOUNTAIN FIRES.

A Flock of Seven Hundred Sheep Destroyed.

The destruction of grass and timber in the mountains east of this city during the past two weeks is a matter of regret. There is no doubt that the fires were started in the brush by reckless persons who either did not know or did not care what the results of their action might be. For fully two weeks the dense volumes of smoke that arose from Red Butte Cañon, and the flames which lit up the northeastern sky at night, have indicated the fierceness with which the fire has raged in that vicinity, hundreds of acres being burned over. The cattle and horses that have been grazing on the hills there have been driven off by the intense heat.

Mr. John J. Stocking, of Fort Herri-man, Salt Lake County, had a flock of sheep on the hills, and last Saturday the flames swept down to where the animals were, and shutting off all avenue of escape, 700 of them were burned to death. The loss amounting to nearly $2,000, falls pretty heavy on Mr. Stocking at the present time. In addition to this damage, the gentleman, about a week ago, lost a stallion valued at $300.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.

A Number of Sentences on Saturday and Monday.

The following business was transacted in the First District Court at Ogden on Saturday:

U. S. vs. John Jenkins, unlawful cohabitation; defendant was sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for six months and fined in the sum of $300, and ordered to pay the costs of the court.

U. S. vs. Hans Funk, unlawful cohabitation; defendant was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $300 and the costs of the court.

U. S. vs. Ole Hansen, unlawful cohabitation. Upon being questioned by the court as to his future conduct, Mr. Kimball, attorney for Mr. Hanson, said: "I am authorized by Mr. Hanson to say that it is his intention to continue that mode of life during the future, and if your honor sees any mitigating circumstances in that, if your honor sees it in that way—" Court: "Mr. Hanson is it your intention as your attorney has said to live in obedience to the laws in the future?" Hanson: "Well, I have tried to prove that I have done it in the last year, but so far as that is concerned that is my intention, but I don't like any promise." Mr. Kimball said that he had spoken according to the understanding given him by the defendant of his future intentions. Court: "The judgment of the court is that you be confined in the Penitentiary for a term of 5 months and pay a fine of $100 and costs, and stand committed till the fine and costs are paid."

U. S. vs. Richard Frye, unlawful cohabitation; defendant was sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of six months and to pay a fine of $300 and costs.

U. S. vs. Henry Humes, unlawful cohabitation; in this case an order was made postponing sentence until Nov. 20, 1887.

U. S. vs. Jens Christensen, unlawful cohabitation; defendant was arraigned and pleaded guilty.

Mary C. Larsen vs. N. E. Peterson et al.; the hearing of the motion to set aside the default in this cause was continued until next term.

The following is a record of the business transacted yesterday:

Peter Lamprecht was admitted to citizenship.

U. S. vs. P. A. Nielsen; order dismissing cause and discharging defendant.

The People vs. P. A. Nielsen; order dismissing cause and discharging defendant.

The two foregoing cases consisted of charges of robbing the U. S. mails and forgery, respectively, and there was no evidence to convict the defendant, hence his discharge. Mr. Nielsen is a well known citizen of Logan.

U. S. vs. John Bergen; sentence postponed, as the defendant sent in a doctor's certificate showing his health to be too poor to enable him to attend court.

U. S. vs. John Martin, unlawful cohabitation; sentenced to pay a fine of $100. C. C. Richards, Esq., attorney for the defendant, stated that his client was in a very precarious state of health, and produced the certificates of physicians showing the man's condition. Upon this representation, Mr. Richards asked the leniency of the court in his behalf. Taking into consideration these facts, the court merely sentenced the defendant to pay a fine, and did not exact any imprisonment.

U. S. vs. Peter Barton, unlawful cohabitation. The defendant entered a plea of guilty after which C. C. Richards, Esq., briefly stated that Mr. Barton was in straitened circumstances, and had very recently lost his plural wife by death. After a number of questions had been asked the defendant by the court, Mr. Barton was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and to imprisonment for six months.

U. S. vs. Ralph Smith, unlawful cohabitation; the defendant was arraigned and pleaded guilty; waived time for passing sentence, and when asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed, replied in substance, that he had thrown no obstacles in the way of the carrying out of the law in his case, and as it had been many years since he married his last wife, he asked the court to be as lenient as possible with him in regard to the fine. After a number of questions had been asked by the court, Mr. Smith was sentenced to six months' imprisonment, and to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

D. Ryan vs. Francis E. Roche; order for judgment.

Harvey Booth vs. Edwin Crawford; hearing of motion for modification of injunction.—Ogden Herald.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 23.

Harris Discharged.

In the examination into the charge of unlawful cohabitation against Thomas A. Harris, yesterday afternoon, no testimony was adduced throwing even a suspicion on the defendant as to his having two wives, and on motion of Mr. Clarke he was discharged.

Pardoned.

Last evening Marshal Dyer received a dispatch from Washington, informing him that President Cleveland had pardoned William Felstead, an old gentleman who was sentenced about a year ago by Judge Zane to three and a half years' imprisonment for polygamy. Mr. Felstead is a "Mormon," and is now in his 74th year. He was released this morning.

First District Court.

The following business was done in the First District Court at Ogden yesterday:

John J. Kelly and others vs. A. J. Kershaw, et al.; motion to compel the marshal to make returns, and motion to set aside sale.

The People, etc., vs. Niels C. Petersen, assault; demurrer to the indictment withdrawn.

The People, etc., vs. Robert McDade and others, robbery; arguments on demurrer and demurrer to indictment sustained.

U. S. vs. Rudolph Hochstrasser, unlawful cohabitation; sentenced to six months' imprisonment, and to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

The case of James Allen vs. Allen Johnson; hearing on demurrer to complaint. This is a suit for $2,000 damages. J. D. Lomax represents the plaintiff, and George J. Marsh is attorney for the defense.

The following cases were set for trial on the dates named:

November 22.—Ogden City vs. Ben Garr; Ogden City vs. Ling Chung; Ogden City vs. Quang Dan Lung and others; Ogden City vs. Hop Siag and others; United States vs. Hong Wah.

November 25th.—The People, etc., vs. Z. Lentz; The People, etc., vs. Z. Lentz and others; Ogden City vs. John McLaughlin.

November 28th.—United States vs. Mark Bigler, C. F. Schade, Jens Hansen, and John Felt.

November 29th.—United States, vs. C. B. Robbins, Jens Petersen, and Frederik Jensen.

November 30.—United States vs. Francisco Darphy, Alex. Parry, and Wm. Griffin.

December 1st.—The People etc. vs. Dan Parry; the United States vs. Jens Christensen.

December 2d.—United States vs. James Hancy, Sewell Lamb, and C. Gasberg.

Bank Burglars Held.

The examination of Allred and Justensen, for attempting to rob the First National Bank of Nephi, resulted in both men being held to answer to the charges of assault with intent to commit murder and assault with intent to rob. Bail for the first named offense was placed at $10,000 and for the other at $3,000. Justensen was also required to give $1,500 bail for grand larceny. In default of bonds both men were committed to jail.

Indictments Dismissed.

In the Third District Court today, on motion of District Attorney Peters, seven indictments under United States laws were dismissed. All of them were found under the old anti-"Mormon" realm. They were three segregated indictments for unlawful cohabitation against Royal B. Young; two against H. J. Foulger and one against Jesse R. Turpio, of the same class; and one charging E. Brain with adultery.

From London.

Elder John V. Long, of this city, returned a few days ago from a mission to England. He left Utah in April, 1886, and labored first in the London Conference, for a few months, and afterwards in the Sheffield Conference, for the remainder of the time of his mission. The condition of the latter conference is quite favorable, there having been nearly or about fifty baptisms this year. The Elders in this conference have had considerable opposition to contend with this summer, due mainly to the efforts of the notorious Jarman, who conducted a vigorous crusade against the Saints in that region. His efforts resulted in creating a spirit of inquiry which, in turn, has resulted in a number of baptisms.

TWO DEATHS.

An Elder's Wife Died While He is on a Mission.

"W. H.," writing from Huntington, Emery Co., Nov. 22, says:

In September last, Brother Peter Johnson, of this place, received word from Ephraim, Sanpete County, that his daughter Mary was very sick. He immediately went over, taking with him his wife, his eldest daughter, Catherine A., and some smaller children. A couple of days after they arrived there, his daughter Mary died, which was a source of great sorrow to the family. But the end was not yet. After the funeral at Ephraim, Brother Johnson and family returned to their home at Huntington. A couple of days after they arrived their daughter Catherine A. took sick and, after an illness of about ten days, died on October 15th. What made the matter worse, Sister Johnson's husband was absent in the Southern States on a mission. Below is a short sketch of Sister Johnson's life:

Catherine A. Johnson, daughter of Peter and Catherine Johnson, was born at Ephraim, Sanpete County, June 28th, 1862. She went with her parents, when four years old, to Fountain Green, in the same county. She lived there until the fall of 1880, when she, with her husband and family, moved to Huntington, Emery County, Utah. She was married June 14th, 1878, to Joseph E. Johnson. Before she was married and afterwards she took an active part in Sunday schools, choirs, and other labors that were a benefit to the youth and a pleasure to the Saints. She was secretary of the Y. L. M. I. A. at Fountain Green, president of it at Huntington, at which place she was also secretary of the Relief Society. She leaves a husband and two children, and died in full faith of coming forth in the first resurrection.

At Anasone, Asotin County, W. T., November 21st, a fatal shooting occurred between two neighbors—W. H. Grayson and Matthew Witz. The parties had some trouble over money matters. During the quarrel Grayson, who was armed with a loaded shotgun, fired on Witz. The charge took effect in Witz's left side and back. The wound is said to be fatal but Witz is yet alive. Grayson immediately surrendered to the authorities and is now in jail at Asotin.
