

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Still lovely weather.
Day has most elegant goods for holiday presents.

Mr. H. D. Johnson purposes soon to remove to Washington Territory.

President Taylor and party go to Davis County to-morrow morning.

Special Stake meetings on the 12th and 13th, in the Assembly Hall.

The next place to be given by the Dramatic Combination is the "Ticket of Leave Man."

Business is dull in the police court. A trio of drunks were the only cases disposed of this morning.

Mr. Frank Armstrong is getting quite stout again and is able to attend to business once more.

The building still goes ahead in this city the absence of frost rendering it a good time for workmen.

The High Council will meet in the Council House to-morrow evening, the 8th inst., at 7 o'clock.

The 35th Quorum of Seventies will meet at the County Court House at 7 p. m. on Monday, the 11th inst. See notice.

Secretary Thomas has gone to Washington on business connected with the Utah Commission. He will soon return.

Captain Wm. Hooper still improving in health, his appetite is good and he is recovering as rapidly as could be expected.

Bill Nye, of the Laramie Boomerang is seriously ill, from malarial fever. His paper speaks discouragingly of his condition.

At Butte, Montana, Supt. A. Wertenweiller, of the Lexington mine, was thrown violently from his horse and seriously injured.

Walter Jenkins, said an Ohio farmer he hustled into her house one morning, "I'm a man of business, I'm worth $10,000, and want you to be my wife. I give you three minutes in which to answer." "I don't want ten thousand old men!" she replied, as she shook out the dish cloth. "I'm a woman of business, worth $10,000, and wouldn't marry you if you were the last man on earth. I give you a minute and a half to get it." And he got it.—Wall Street News.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Solid Steps.—The massive granite steps have been placed at the entrance of the Eighteenth Ward Chapel. One is eleven feet long, the others respectively ten and a half and ten feet.

An Ogden Robbery.—On Monday night a railroad man, while in a state of intoxication in a saloon in Ogden, was robbed of $200, watch and chain, and all his loose cash. No trace of the perpetrators has been discovered. So says the Ogden Herald.

Pipes Laid.—The superintendent of waterworks has just finished the work of laying water mains along South Temple Street, and from there up Pine Street, a distance of two blocks, close to the residence of Mrs. Edward Brain in the Twentieth Ward.

Still Suffering.—O'Toole, who was robbed and beaten some time ago, is still in a precarious condition. We understand that one of the ribs fractured by the kicks of his assailant, was partially driven inward, hurting him severely internally.

Legedmain.—This afternoon we received a call from Professor Diavoli, who has engaged the Theatre for a legedmain and tableaux performance. He promises a fine entertainment, and proposes to give away $50 worth of presents purchased in this city. The performances will be given on Friday and Saturday, December 22 and 23.

Purposes Removing.—Mr. Hadley D. Johnson purposes leaving Utah at an early day and settling in New Tacoma, Washington Territory, on Puget Sound, at the location of the terminus of the Northern Pacific Railroad. We hope he will have success and prosperity in his proposed new home.

Lovely.—The weather in this vicinity is beautiful. The air is balmy. The sun shines and the birds are singing cheerily on the branches. If the present temperature continues much longer the birds will be open to the spring. Instead of being moved into Arctic regions as a philosopher recently predicted, we seem to be drifting toward the tropics.

For Davis Stake.—To-morrow morning Presidents John Taylor and Joseph F. Smith, Apostles Wilford Woodruff and P. D. Richards and Elders Geo. Reynolds and John Irvine, will leave for Davis County. In the morning they will hold meetings at Bonanza and Centerville, in the afternoon at Farmington, and on Saturday and Sunday will attend the Conference meetings of Davis Stake.

Singular Coincidence.—Just as Venus passed over the face of the sun yesterday afternoon the old gilded wooden sun, which used to occupy a conspicuous position on one end of the old Tabernacle, tumbled from its recent position on the window of the work-shop in the Temple Block. The workmen there do not know whether Venus knocked it, or whether it fell in sympathy for the sun in parting with Venus for over one hundred years.

Music and Writing.—Fernando Lara, a young Mexican, who was a professional school teacher in his native country, occupies himself in giving lessons on the guitar and clarinet, being a specially fine player on the first named instrument. He is also an expert pianist, and executes orders for written cards of various kinds. He is an estimable young man, and worthy of patronage. Orders are received for him at the music store of Daynes & Coulter. Give him a chance.

OUR MISSIONARIES.

—Of late a number of brief statements of the labors of Elders who have been in the missionary field have appeared in the NEWS. Some of the experiences noted have been exceedingly interesting. They present features that are not exhibited by any other class of men. They are called from various occupations to proclaim principles they are convinced are true; they endure hardships and persecution with heroic fortitude and bravery, "holding the fort," when threatened with death from the deadly shot-gun in the hands of bloodthirsty mobs. "They tell of exhibitions and manifestations of divine power in protecting and sustaining them by an influence that is remarkable. They attain marked success in their labors, never returning from the harvest field fruitless. Without exception they express their gratitude at having the privilege of carrying the message of the Gospel abroad, as it gives them additional faith in the fulfillment of promises made to them, which never fail when the conditions on which they are predicated are complied with."

A pleasing feature of this department of the work of the last days is the fact that a large number of the Evangelists of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints are young men, many of whom have been born and reared in the community. This phase of the work causes the hopes of those who desire the disintegration of the Church to fall to the ground.

How different is the nature of the work accomplished by the Elders who go without purse or scrip operating and enduring for conscience sake, from the dolings of the salaried sectarian priests who mostly enter upon their ministry as upon any other business of life, to obtain subsistence from it as a profession.

"The Hand of God."—Last evening Elder J. H. Ward delivered his lecture in the 18th Ward chapel, on "The Hand of God in History, from the Great Apostasy to the Restoration of the Priesthood." It was quite interesting, including a large amount of information regarding the rise and spread of Mohammedanism as a religious and political power. The object of the lecture is to show the workings of divine Providence in the histories of nations, all leading events tending to the consummation of the ultimate purposes of the Creator. The matter of the lecture is excellent, and its facts are expressed in choice language, the only element that marred the effect was a tendency to rapidity of utterance on the part of the lecturer, making it occasionally difficult to catch the full force of the meaning of every sentence. The minor defect will, however, be rectified on a repetition. At the close a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered to Brother Ward.

A Catastrophe.—A few mornings since a family in the Tenth Ward were at a loss to discover the cause of a peculiar odor that permeated the house after a rousing fire had been made in the kitchen stove. After counting over the catalogue of smells with which their olfactory nerves were familiar, the household could not decide from what source the unfavorable smell proceeded. Finally, the oven door of the stove was opened, when a couple of unfortunate cats were disclosed. One was barely alive, having saved itself by getting off the oven plate onto the carcass of its companion. The prostrate one was seized by the tail for the purpose of drawing it out, when the narrative separated from the trunk, the roasting process having been completed. The catastrophe adds another casualty to the pathetic catalogue. The incident was an accident, although it looked as if done on purpose.

Mr. Walsh, of Kimball block, has just received another consignment of thirty-three different stoves. They include parlor, cook stoves and ranges. See advt.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876, I was taken with "bleeding of the lungs," followed by a severe attack of dysentery. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of "Dr. Wm. Hall's Balm for the Lungs." I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past.
