FEVER AND AGUE, CHILL FEVER, ETC.—A few months after having commenced the manufacture of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the proprietor began to receive numerous letters from all parts of the Western and Southern States, bestowing the most unqualified praise upon it for having promptly cured the victims of their friends of Fever and Ague, or other forms of malarial or biliousness.

He was repeatedly urged to make known the wonderful virtues of the Discovery in the cure of Ague and kindred diseases. He always replied that it was not intended for a "cure all," and should be recommended to people as a remedy for no more different forms and classes of disease, he feared those who had never tested its virtues would at once claim it among the numerous humbugs of the day. This answer was satisfactory to no one; they argued that the whole country ought to know it at once, and expressed their astonishment at his indifference to the subject. His ear and heart being at all times open to the call of suffering humanity, he has at last, after having received testimony from hundreds who have been speedily cured by it, and many of them, after quinine and all the usual means had failed, consented to make the matter known.

NEWMAN, Jeff. Co., Kan., January 6, 1874.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THE BAROMETER degrees F. in the shade at 1 p.m. to-day. Snowy day.

The Members of the High Council are requested to meet at the City Hall on Wednesday morning, April 1st, at 10 o'clock. d 21.

Telegraph Down.—The Deseret Telegraph line has been prostrated by the storm at various points north and south of this City.

Marching Out.—March came marching in "like a lion" and now, if the old saw is worth anything, how is this for marching "out like a lamb"? Not much.

Inebriates.—Ten arrests for drunkenness were made by the police from Saturday afternoon till this morning. The cause of the increase of fire-water cases was the pay day at Camp Douglas.

Prospective Freshets.—The immense snow deposits in the mountains this season are invariable forerunners of proportionately large and destructive freshets. Every precaution against the contingency of land floodings should be taken in time.

Stormy.—Yesterday afternoon a rain storm set in, and towards evening it turned to sleet and then to snow, and up to this afternoon probably about five to six inches has fallen. Owing to the softness of the ground it has mostly disappeared as it has fallen.

The Utah Mining Gazette of March 23, contains "Map of Dry Canyon, Ophir District," and article thereon, "Resources of Utah for 1873," "Gas Works," "St. Louis as a Mining Center," "Opening of the Mining Season," "Theory of Ore Deposits," "Silk Culture in Utah," etc.

Stealing Case.—Alexander Huston, a colored individual, was arrested yesterday afternoon, on complaint of a woman who lives on Second South Street, on a charge of stealing a pocket book and some money. The complaining witness avers that Huston was the only person who had access to her room, and that he had a key of the trunk from which the property was stolen.

Badly Struck.—The San Francisco Chronicle of March 23rd says, "Miss Neilson is all the rage, and the photographers can hardly supply the demand for her portraits. Bradley & Rulofson have photographed her in a number of attractive poses, and are selling the likenesses by the thousand. Houseworth & Co. have also some good portraits of the favorite."

Swindling Soldiers.—A couple of hackmen were arrested on Saturday, on a charge of swindling or cheating some soldiers. The latter assert that they hired the hackmen to convey them to Camp Douglas, and paid them for the trip, and that after receiving the money they slipped out of the way and could not be found by the soldiers.

The case was set for ten o'clock to-day, but the complaining witness not appearing, and Justice Clifton being out of town, it was postponed.

Dall at Pioche.—We are somewhat afraid Pioche will lose its reputation and simmer down into the desert ways of an old fashioned town. We notice by the Winnebago and Eureka papers that the spring fights and other little amusements have commenced, while here in Pioche we have nothing to get up a sensation. If a fire starts it is put out before it has a chance of being the foundation of a good item. If a man gets drunk he quietly goes to bed. If he quarrels he gets marched to jail on the double quick. Really it is quite dispiriting. —Pioche Record, March 25.

Travel Impeded.—A private dispatch received from Stockton this morning states that the storm westward has been exceedingly severe. In many places between here and Stockton the snow is drifting six feet and travel on the road is rendered next to impossible for the present. There has been no stage from the west to-day. Notwithstanding the unpromising condition of the weather, however, the stage from this City for Stockton will leave here at seven o'clock to-morrow morning.

Woman's Rights.—At least one of them is to sit at ease and look on and titter at the frenzied efforts of the "lords of creation" to bestir the street cars upon the track, for within the past few days they seem to have acquired a peculiar knack of slipping off at will, and gliding into other paths than those marked out for them, either through misbehaviour or feelings of joy at seeing the roads turn up once more dry and smiling from out the slough of despond in which they have been and are again getting engulfed. We have heard of a sufferer through the sportiveness of those cars to the extent of an eight-dollar stoppage; in his epistolary efforts to raise his head as a lever to assist one of them into its proper course, his cranial embellishment collapsed.

From the South.—We had a pleasant visit this morning from Bro. Truman O. Angel, Church Architect, who arrived in this City yesterday at twelve o'clock, from St. George, which place he left on the 15th. He is somewhat jaded, through traveling, at this rough season, over roads the condition of which can only be adequately expressed by the word horrible, but he will be in excellent condition again after a few days' rest. He never felt in better spirits in his life. The men at work on the St. George Temple have only had to desert from their homes seven days during the winter on account of inclement weather.

Brother Angel imparted the necessary instructions to those having the supervision of the various branches of mechanism and pertaining to the building etc., left.

Attack Successful.

NADRID, 23.—Serrano's attack on them feeling determined to push along the work.

A Mistake.—That man must have possessed a superhuman amount of moral courage who, after indulging in an agreeable roll in the slush on South Temple Street to-day, wanted to embrace a few persons rendered miserable enough by the present state of the weather. His friendly feelings met with no echoing response in their bosoms, but in no very mild terms he was requested to repair to regions which shall be nameless. The ingratitude of this world seemed to be too much for the poor fellow, as he fairly tottered under it. It was very perceptible that the courage some might have mistaken for moral was Bourbon.

A Joke.—In promenading East Temple Street the other day, a party was somewhat bothered to ascertain the attraction which centered in two boards opposite the agent's office, for all sorts of persons were fussing around them, like bees around a sugar cake. Upon drawing within the circle the party heard such exclamations as the following: "A genius in our midst!" "Schooner master abroad!" "Nineteenth century enlightenment!" The placards have now vanished, "as a freak in the wind," or the agent has disposed of the "very choice and beautiful Locksahin near Second South Street, with fore rods Fruntage." A little learning is dangerous.

Theatrical.—The passion should wait on the judgment," at least in the case of those who have a penchant for applauding, and whose applause seems to possess the faculty of being always de trop, dropping in at all manner of unseasonable times and places, either when an actor is trying with all his energy to make a happy hit, or the audience is breathlessly awaiting the climax or denouement to a scene. Applause coming in at the right moment is eagerly sought by ambitious artists, as it shows they possess an intelligent and appreciative audience, while the former is classed amongst the petty nuisances. Persons possessing the above failing, if they cannot depend upon their own judgment, should at all events curb their weakness and wait upon the judgment of others. It is always much safer for cases of this kind to be with the majority. For should they happen to be wrong, individual folly would not be so readily noticed. Everything in season. A party appeared to delight in being singular in his demonstrations of approval at the Theatre on Saturday night to the annoyance and discomfort of performers and spectators.

THEATRE.—On Saturday evening, Miss Katherine Rogers appeared as "Leah" in the fourth act of "Leah, the Forsaken," and enacted the famous cursing scene with fine effect.

Then followed the comedy of "An Unequal Match," which was played in a manner highly satisfactory to the audience. The brilliant scene in the third act was admirably played. Miss Rogers' assumption of the character of a woman of society, a woman of the world, as on the preceding evening, was truly exquisite. It was one of those things upon which splendid histrionic reputations are built, one of those representative parts which, once seen, are engraved on the memory to remain distinct for many, many years, a thing of beauty and a joy for ever. The other characters were creditably sustained, and Mrs. Croble is to be commended for the manner in which she assumed, on short notice, the role assigned to Miss Adams, who was too sick to appear.

This evening Tom Taylor's celebrated four-act drama of the "Ticket-of-Leave Man," Miss Walters as "May Edwards," Mrs. Ren as "Mrs. Willoughby," Mrs. Croble as "Sam Willoughby," Mr. Sawtelle as "Hawshaw," Mr. Croble as "Bob Brierly," Mr. Thorne as "James Dalton," Mr. Vinton as "Melter Moss."

The programme concludes with "Paddy's Mischief," Mr. Croble as "Paddy," Mrs. Ren as "Mrs. Foster."

On Tuesday, for the benefit of Miss Jean Clara Walters, "Margaret of Burgundy" and "Brougham's Burlesque of 'Rochester'."

TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES.

EASTERN.

More Troops En Route.

SUSQUEHANNA DEPOT, 30.—One thousand more troops from Philadelphia, are being ordered, and will reach here at half past nine this morning. If the men decline the proposition of the company at their meeting, the sheriff will at once resort to force.

Later.—The officers rejected Vice-President Clark's proposition, by a vote, noon 14, yeas 11, nays 11. Eleven o'clock. The paymaster commenced paying the men under escort. The men were dispatched, guarded by four hundred soldiers, two miles out of town; the strikers offered no resistance to the troops.

Vice President Clark met a committee of the strikers and refused further concessions. The company intend to start all the trains to-day under the protection of the military.

Movement of Trade Unions.

New York, 23.—The Trades Unions here have united in an appeal to the labor organizations of the country to take upon making eight hours a day's labor, and to hold mass meetings on the 11th of May to express opposition to the contract system on government buildings.

Appropriation to Capture Outlaws.

St. Louis, 23.—The House of Representatives has passed a bill for an appropriation of $10,000 to enable the Governor to capture the outlaws in the western portions of the State.

More About Livingstone.

LONDON, 23.—The steamer Matawa arrived off Dover on Saturday. Arthur Laing and Jacob Wainwright were on board, with the remains of Livingstone. The accounts of the death of Livingstone are as follows:

"He had suffered with chronic dysentery for several months, and though well attended, he was finally confined to his bed at Moulilla, and died May 4th, 1873, after four days' sickness."

His remains were salted, and dried in the sun for twelve days. The chief Kitumbo had before him the remains and drums beaten and guns fired in respect to the dead. The journey was commenced at Unyanyembe with the body in a bark coffin, and thence the remains were carried to Zanzibar. His letters to Stanley are in the possession of Webb, the American Consul at Zanzibar, and will be delivered by him in person. All Livingstone's papers and discoveries, sealed and addressed to the Secretary of State, are in possession of Arthur Laing.
