Daring Raid on the Money Consigned To Pay the Coal Miners at Cumberland.

(Special to the "News.") Kemmerer, Wyo., Aug. 31,-One of the boldest holdups in the history of this town occurred here shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. But for a blunder on the part of the bandits they would have got away with $14,000. In their scramble to get on their horses a bundle of currency containing $13,000 was dropped on the street. The robbers, however, managed to carry away $1,000 without a shot being fired.

The money taken was part of the semi-monthly consignment to the Union Pacific Coal company from Cheyenne professed regarding the affair. The holdup bears all the earmarks of having been perpetrated by men who were familiar with the way the Pacific Express company handled the business. The crime was undoubtedly committed by local men, or at least those who have been in this district long enough to get acquainted with affairs.

Japanese Charged Gallantly and Desperately Trying to Break the Center.

MOVEMENT MET AND REPULSED.

Battle Was Divided Into Two Periods -Casualties Were Not Unusually Heavy.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31, (1 p. m.) \rightarrow first day of the great battle of Liau Yang and the utmost confidence preails here that the issue of the fight vill be a complete victory for den. Kuropatkin. From dawn until dark yesterday the battle raged, first in the center and left and then on the right of the Russian line. The Japanese charged gallantly and desperately in an effort to break the center and then in the diernoon came a movement against the opposite flank. This attack was delivered from the west, but Gen. Kuropatkin had evidently anticipated just what happened, for he not only met and repulsed it, but actually was able by superior force to overlap and envelop the Japanese. Last night both rmies bivouacked in their positions. No attempt was made by Lieut.+Gen. akharoff in his report to estimate the Japanese losses, except to say that they were extremely heavy and the Russian losses were only approximated at 3,000. No Russian general officers fell. Gen. Kuropatkin's forces occupied poattions forming a semi-circle about Llao Yang, the flanks resting on the Taitz river, east and west of the city.

The battle divided itself into two periods. After a preliminary bombardment of the Russian lines on the right and center the Japanese infautry advanced to the attack, charging the Russian center. Although repeatedly checked they came on with buildog tenacity, urling themselves against the Russian positions with the bayonet. There were many bloody hand-to-hand encounters, transferred from the express a truck. In all there were three packages, two of currency containing respectively $3,000 and $4,500, the balance being in silver. As the train pulled out Express Agent Ben Harding and George Merritt, the guard, started to wheel the truck into the depot office where it was to have been guarded until transferred to the train to Cumberland this morning. Harding had hold of the handle of the truck while Merritt was pushing it from the rear.

DROPPED LIKE A LOG.

As the men with their valuable consignment approached the office three men stepped from out of the shadow of the caves of the depot and with an oath requested them to throw up their hands. Merritt promptly backed off and endeavored to draw his gun. The scabbard, however, was large and the weapon did not draw. Seeing he could not bring his pistol into immediate action, Merritt started to run so that he could have a better chance of shooting later. He was not quick enough for one of the robbers pounced upon him like a tiger and struck him a fearful blow on the head with the butt of his gun. Merritt dropped like a log and was unconscious for some time after. SWITCHMEN TO RESCUE.

The shouts of Merritt before he was struck brought Swithchmen Nason and Clark, who were in the yard, to the secene on the run. The desperados just waited until they arrived and calmly told them to throw up their hands and keep quiet. Then the robbers marched the three men into the depot office. Here they told them to lock the door and remain inside for 30 minutes under pain of being shot.

The robbers then ran up the hill and entered an alley at the rear of Keenan's saloon, where they had left their horses. The next instant they were riding away at full gallop.

FOUND $13,000 IN STREET.

In the meantime Express Agent Harding lost no time in following up on foot. When he came to the entrance of the alley he was overjoyed to see lying in the road the two packages of currency, which had either been dropped or thrown away by the robbers.

Just why they abandoned the comparatively light currency in favor of the heavy silver is not forthcoming. It is believed that they either thought that they had secured worthless packages or else were afraid that the currency could be later identified by number or some other characteristic.

SHERIFF ORGANIZES POSSE.

As soon as the excitement had somewhat subsided Sheriff James was notified at Evanston, and he arrived early this morning, accompanied by Deputy Jones. These two officers, with several local men organized a posse and are now in pursuit of the bandits.

The only description forthcoming of the robbers is that they were three in number, all wore overalls and all three were masked and carried revolvers. The ringleader was a big, heavyset, powerful man, the others were respec-

Arthur, Aug. 26. The Japanese flank movement from the west began Monday from Chandiapudzi, three miles southeast of Shakhe, which is 11 milles northwest of Liao Yang.

One of the striking features of the battle was the splendid work of the. Russian artillery, in which arm the Japanese have heretofore excelled. In a dispatch filed last night by one of the Associated Press Russian correspondents he says that a report was, current at Liao Yang that 46 Japanese.

guns were captured during the day. There is great rejoicing in St. Petersburg over the news on the bulletin boards. The dispatches posted there are surrounded by enger crowds. The officials of the war office, although they have not yet received advices in regard to today's events, are in high spirits. The Japanese, who have been continually advancing for a week, are now said to be ulterly exhausted, after yesterday's hard and unsuccessful fighting. and no doubt exists here that if the opportunity offers Gen. Kuropatkin will tot fail to follow up the advantage he has achieved.

The entire absence of news from the Eattlefield of Lino Yang up to noon icday is not explained by any advices from either St. Petersburg or Tokio. It is now midnight in Manchurla, but no word has been received of events occurring last night, when it was announced that the flerce battle that raged all yesterday ceased at 9 o'clock and both armies, had bivouseked. The only surmise to be drawn from this absence of both press dispatches and official reports is that the telegraph line has been cut north of Lino Yang, Gen. Sakharoff yesterday reported that a large Japanese force was advancing northward along the Taitz river, west of the railroad. Such a movement, if accomplished, would interpose this force between Liao Yang, the Russian base, and Mukden, and would cut Kuropatkin's communication north. Added probability is given this surmise by the fact that yesterday the Associated Press received almost hourly dis-
