

SALT LAKE WILL EXHIBIT AT OGDEN

Local Manufacturers to Occupy Space at Intermountain Four State Fair.

OPENING SET FOR SEPT. 6.

Senators Clark and Smoot, Governor Spry and Congressman Howell To be Present.

The Intermountain Four State exhibition to be held at Ogden, Sept. 6-11, bids fair to be the most elaborate and interesting yet undertaken in the Junction City. Usually only the northern counties of the state have taken part, joining with the counties of Idaho, Wyoming, and Nevada having membership in the association. This year a number of Salt Lake manufacturers will join with their fellows of Ogden and an extraordinary exhibit of the products of Utah's factories and mills will be the result.

The management of the Ogden fair has been very liberal in the matter of providing space and facilities for Salt Lake exhibitors. Secretary D. F. Collett of the Manufacturers' association of Utah visited Ogden yesterday in the interest of the intended exhibits from here. The proposition was heartily welcomed by the management of the fair, and the representative was given carte blanche in the matter of choosing space.

"If you see any ground you want, take it," said President William Glassman and Vice President Dr. H. M. Rowe. "If you would suit you in any ready spoken for, the Ogden folk will gladly relinquish in favor of Salt Lake."

The assurance was amply verified when Ogden exhibitors were told that a change of space was in some instances desirable. Without a single exception the answer was "all right, go ahead, and give us the next best you get."

FIRMS TO EXHIBIT.

Among the Salt Lake firms that will exhibit at Ogden are the following: Z. C. M. I. factories, J. G. McDonald Chocolate Co., Mount Pickle Co., Utah Consolidated Flaxseed Co., Cache Valley Condensed Milk Co., Maxfield Vinegar Co., and others.

The holding of the Four State fair has been placed in a position where it will not interfere with the state fair to be held in October. The early exhibit made it rather difficult to provide a good racing meet, but extra hard work and the offering of big purses has enabled the preparation of an interesting harness and saddle program. As high as $1,000 is possible to a single horse in two harness contests. The Ogden track is one of the fastest in the west.

OPENING DAY SEPT. 6.

Ogden labor unions are joining with the fair people for the opening day Monday, Sept. 6. On that occasion there will be present Senators C. D. Clark of Wyoming, and Reed Smoot of Utah, Gov. William Spry, Congressman Joseph Howell, President W. M. Figgott of the Utah Federation of Trades, and others. A special rate of two cents a mile has been obtained from all Utah points.

GENTRY SHOWS COMING.

Trained Animals Take Part in Fairy Tale Acts in Parade.

When a wild west show comes to town the younger generation at once becomes a band of cowboys, but when the trained animal show drops in it comes to leave in its wake a countless army of juvenile animal trainers. That is what the elder people may expect to find next week because Gentry Brothers shows are to play in Salt Lake City Monday and Tuesday. Gentry Brothers shows comprise that part of the canvas world that appeals especially to children. Since its inception more than a score of years ago that has been the aim of Gentry Brothers. When the show comes to Salt Lake many who were children when it first dropped in will take their own little ones to the show. The mothers and fathers of today were the children of the day when Gentry Brothers began their successful career. So strongly do Gentry Brothers cater to the little chaps that in the parade is a gaily colored chain of chariots presenting Mother Goose fairy tales. The actors in these little tableaux are educated dogs, and the chariots are drawn through the streets by horses almost as small as the dogs.

While in Salt Lake next Monday and Tuesday Gentry Brothers shows will be quarantined at Eighth street and Main street. There will be two performances daily.

SOUTH AFRICAN GIRLS.

Dutch Women Are Strong and Handsome and Await Their Day.

The day of the South African girl has hardly arrived yet, but when it comes, says a writer in the Queen, let the Americans see to their laurels, for they will have dangerous competitors in the field.

The Dutch women of the Transvaal are tall and splendidly developed, and there are the two distinct types—the Dutch, with golden brown hair, gray or hazel eyes and creamy skin, and the brunette of French descent, with dark eyes and hair and rich coloring. But both types are on a larger scale than their European antecedents. The sun of South Africa is a great vitalizer, and the children of that land of vast spaces have more room to grow and develop in, and they lead from their infancy such an out of doors life that they are bound to be an improvement physically on their sisters of the northern hemisphere.

Dutch women of South Africa always accompanied their husbands in their large hooded, slow-moving wagons. Their domestic existence tended to be careless of habits and of dress, but it developed in them an infinite capacity for persevering effort, a strength of character, a stubbornness, as well as great vitality, all of which excellent qualities go to the making of a strong action.

The present generation can be divided into two distinct classes—the inhabitants of the veld and those of the towns and villages—and while the fundamental characteristics are the same, yet, tenacity, level-headedness, independence—still, there is a wide difference between the Boer woman of the country and the educated Dutch woman of the towns.

The former on reaching the age of 30 are large, fat, and heavy. They marry very young and have patriarchal families, and over husband and children they wield a great sway, an influence very much greater than that of the English woman.

Wide as the poles asunder are the educated Dutch women of the towns, or those indeed of the country, who have been sent to Cape Colony or to Europe to school. As adaptable as the Americans, with decided mental ability, they are full of common sense, of good-tempered gaiety, and an inherent sense of humor.

A girl who has been to a good school in South Africa and afterward in Europe has something most charming and fascinating about her. Handsome, vigorous, capable, with a clear idea of what she wants and how to get it, she carries a pleasant and useful way for herself through life.

After out-of-door life has made her strong and healthy and she sees the advantage of a certain amount of exercise. Since the war, if not before, she has taken a great interest in politics, as well as in the work of her father or husband, and in philanthropic matters she displays strong organizing ability. She has not yet developed the "female bachelor" ways of independent English womanhood, for in South Africa in every colony there is a large surplus of men, and the Dutch girl invariably marries young and her husband and family ever after.

SANPETE STOCKMAN SAYS ALL PROSPER

Open Range Has Been So Good All Summer That Growers Are All Feeling Happy.

(Special Correspondence.)

Kansas City Stock Yards, Aug. 18.—

The fall movement of cattle to market is expanding toward its culmination which will come in September, and the market is slightly lower than 6 weeks ago. The run for 25,000 head here today, including 3,000 calves, presages another heavy week, and prices are weak to 10 lower today, although with good life to the trade. The outlook for killing cattle is better than a short time ago, but stocker and feeder trade is suffering temporarily on account of dry hot weather in some sections, which threatens crop prospects. Rain is promised from Washington for the dry sections the middle of this week, which will be of great benefit to the market. Arrivals include a fair number of cattle from the panhandle country, cows at $3.10 to $3.50, stockers $3.50 to $4.50, calves $4 to $7. Calves are 25 to 50 cents higher than a week ago. A train of Colorado from Grand Junction was here last week, beef steers at $4.40 and $4.60, feeders $4 to $4.25, cows $3.45 to $3.55, none of this shipment above medium class or fresh. Good weight Kansas grass steers are selling at $5 to $6.25, similar to steers now coming out of northern Colorado to market. Sixty per cent of the quarantine cattle have been marketed for this season, and unless favorable market conditions continue, a good share of the balance will be held and fed through the winter, which means that receipts of cattle at the markets will so adjust themselves this fall as to insure fairly good prices all fall.

Sheep and lambs are coming pretty freely, and prices are holding up good. Lambs sold here of last week, and another shipment of the Peery lambs, from Utah, was here today. The lot today was lighter than those last week, but the quality was better. INVITED TO DIXIE EXHIBIT.

The Washington County Commercial club has sent a pressing invitation to Gov. William Spry and official staff to be present at Utah's Dixie exhibit and festival which will be held at St. George on Sept. 10. The letter of invitation states that sports and other exercises will extend the program over two days, and that a special single fare has been arranged from Modena by stage.

WILL DISCUSS SMUGGLES.

An important meeting of the Salt Lake County Horticultural society will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon to discuss the smudge proposition. Invitations have been extended to all fruit growers in the county to be present.

LOCAL MARKETS

There is a fall of 10 cents in the wholesale prices of flour in this city, the retail market being at present unaffected. Otherwise there is little change. The receipts today, include a carload of fine watermelons from California, a car of Washington state alfalfa, Bell Flower and Red June apples from western Colorado, and Utah tomatoes which are in fine shape. Prices of hay do not fall any lower, although the crop clear to the Missouri river has been immense, as dealers say growers have stacked the hay up intending to hold it for stiff prices. A New Edition THE CASTLE BUILDER

Has been adopted as one of the books to be read by the Mutual Improvement boys during the coming year—

Why?

Because The Castle Builder is a clean, sweet story—full of beautiful word pictures and elevating thoughts.

It is Interesting—at the same time it breathes the faith inspiring spirit of the Gospel.

It deals with life and scenes in the land of the midnight sun. A love story runs through the whole book.

The Castle Builder was written by Nephi Anderson, the foremost story writer in the Church.

These are some of the reasons why not only M. I. A. boys should read it, but their parents and sisters also.

The Castle Builder is a large, beautiful book bound in blue cloth and gold—and it sells for only 75c at the
