The remains of George Guertin were shipped yesterday afternoon by S. D. Evans to Pueblo for interment, after services in this city at which Rev. D. A. Brown presided. The services were well attended by local telegraphers.

Chief Biscayer of the fire department states that work will begin in the near future on the new fire station to be erected on Temple East and Ninth South street. The building will cost $4,000 and will have new equipment worth about $1,000.

The congregations of the two local colored churches listened last evening, to Bishop B. F. Lee of the A. M. E. church, at Wilberforce, Ohio. The noted divine preached in Odd Fellows' hall on Market street, where the local colored population was well represented.

James A. Burnett was examined as to his health at the jail yesterday afternoon by County Physician Whitmore and Dr. Ostermann and was committed to the State Mental Hospital at Provo. The examination was held at the jail for the reason that Burnett was too ill to be taken to Judge Armstrong's court room.

The attention of citizens is being called by the Real Estate association to the bill enacted in the last Legislature by whose provisions the council may give a number of years in which to pay for public improvements with interest on deferred payments set not higher than 6 per cent. This will allow years to come on sidewalk improvements as much as 10 years on street paving.

The old brick residence that has so long stood on the southeast corner of South Temple and Ninth East streets has been torn down and Ware & Treganza have completed plans for the erection there of a 10-room dwelling with central heating. It will be ready for occupancy in January.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman alias Williams, J. H. Keogh alias Anderson, J. F. Morris, the notorious characters they have had a good case against the men. A stranger named E. A. Hutton was buried out of $11 by the men, and it is understood that he has identified them. Keogh has been in jail here before.

Judge E. F. Colborn, who has returned from an extended visit to southern California, says he traveled between Los Angeles and Salt Lake is not only already immense, but is increasing weekly. One has now to sleep six days ahead for a berth, and where the company manages to pack people on the trains seems to be Judge's system.

The idea is that when the two second trains are put on, they will be unable to afford sufficient room for comfortable travel, and that when the winter passenger traffic fairly opens up, it will have to be eventually. Four trains that end in Salt Lake will be properly care for the business offered.

There was a meeting at the home of the committee raising funds for the Wasatch boulevard. It was decided that the work should be done under the direction of the city engineer, the Commercial club letting the contracts.

Mr. A. D. Fowler, J. D. Marwick and Paul S. Wells were chosen a special committee to meet today with City Engineer Ritter and a representative of owners of property abutting on the boulevard. Plans and specifications for the work are to be prepared and when completed will be submitted to the committee on public improvements and parks of the Commercial club for its approval.
