Trouble Comes Again-Troubles have again broken out between the board of public works and the Utah Fireproofing company, which has the contract for a number of sidewalk ex-tensions in the city, with the result that the company has again quit lay-ing sidewalks and now has only a small force of men at work excavating for the sidewalks. It was claimed by the chief inspector of the board of public works that the company was not carrying out the specifications in the contract in regard to the manner of laying the cement and was ordered to stop work on Saturday, which it did. The board will hold a meeting tonight and consider the matter and did.

decide upon some plan of action. Narrow Escape-Mike Garben ot North Salt Lake and Mike Matthews of 610 west Ninth North street, tried to cross the Salt Lake & Ogden railto cross the Sait Lake & Ogden rail-road early last evening, with a double team, in advance of the southbound train. The engineer said afterwards that he blew his whistle, but the men in the wagon evidently neither heard or sow, and the engine banged into the tail of the wagon. The ve-blek was reduced to kindlike wood hicle was reduced to kindling wood, and both men were pitched headlong into the ditch. However, they were not very badly injured, and were car-ried through to the city depot. Matthews was hurt about the head and Garben was bruised about the hips, but they were able shortly to take care of themselves. The horses were un-injured and made no attempt to run away.

Mrs. Sansom's Funeral-The funeral Mrs. Sanson's Funeral—The funeral of Mrs. Charles Lewis Sanson was held yesterday, commencing at 2 o'clock, from the Twentieth ward meetinghouse. Bishop George Rom-ney presided, and the ward choir, with Mrs, Lennie Savage Riter and John James, as soloists, furnished the music. The selections rendered ware "There The selections rendered were "There Is Sweet Rest in Heaven," "The Beau-tiful City," "O My Father," and "Near. er My God To Thee." Elders Joshua Midgley, Angus M. Cannon, C. R. Savage, Joseph E. Taylor and Bishop George Romney, all old time friends of the deceased, spoke words of eulogy and consolation suited to the occasion. The opening and closing prayers were by Elders R. F. Neslen and A. R. Wright, respectively. Sons-in-law and grandsons of the deceased acted as allbearers, and internment was in the

this week is betogged with royal robes and purple regalla. It belongs to high class vaudeviile and scatters its laughs and furnishes its thrilis by the score. It starts out with an exquisite orches-tral number whose climax is reached as the curtain rolls up on a scene in fairyland with Ferry the Frog in un-disputed possession of that mystic country. uncanny, antics are sufficient to make the cold sweat stand out in beads up-on one's body, and to those who like that sort of thing, well, they will sure-ly be satisfied. Lillian Ashley, childlike and bland, with a manner demure and a lisp that sticks, made a hit with her juvenile imitations and pleased with her songs and stories. Martin Beck, or some of his lieutenants appear to think that Sait Lake has xylophonitis. If they are wrong in that conclusion, they they are wrong in that conclusion, they will soon be right, as manipulators of the wooden mallet and flat key have been hurled at us in bunches all sea-

Those who held the boards last ion. night do business under the firm name of the Oliveria Trio and are neither as bad nor as good as some others that have been seen here this year. Inci-dentally it is almost worth the price of admission to watch the girl with a mouthful of golden molars mix her gaits of canter, gallop and cakewalk, as she pounds the table in front of her and makes eyes at the Willie boys in the udience.

Unique, clever, able was the protean play "In Self Defense," by Margaret Wycherly, the well known actress, who gave a wonderful exhibition of six distinct and entirely dissimilar though distinct and entirely dissimilar though yet correlated characters. It was such an undertaking as would have been a gigantic failure in hands less gifted. Eut, as it was, success was written all over the effort, and with the result that Miss Wycherly will be a strong draw-ing card during her week in Sait Lake. Charles Sharp the German musical monologist, was not born in the Fa-therland, but he has easily got most of the native Teutons "goting south" when the native Teutons "going south" when it comes to the real dialect. Besides he has a good stock of songs and stor-ies. The Demont trio were the tip of the principle last night and furnished a chapter of acrobatic comedy that will be of the top notch type for a long time to come,

Lyric-"The Power of Truth" by the Lyric Stock company will run the remainder of the week with a special matinee tomorrow.

Grand-A good sized audience wit-Grand—A good sized audience wit-nessed the performance of "A Girl of the Streets" at the Grand last night. There was a great deal of enthusiasm manifested during the entire evening, going to show that the play was en-joyed by the patrons of the house. The place abounds with scenes of a truly startling character and some of the startling character and some of the climaxes are exceedingly thrilling. The two performers to whom most praise is due are Miss Katherine Crego, who sustains the leading role, and Alice Berry as "Dot." The support through-out is good and the specialties of the evening help to make up a splendid entertainment. The beautiful stage ef-fects were a pleasing feature, and the performance as a whole was well up to the standard that the management has The next attraction, commencing Thursday night, will be "My Partner" played by a company headed by Theo-dore Lorch.

Manager Stewart Renews Acquaintance With Miss Gates.

Mr. Stewart, the manager of the Stewart Opera company, requested Manager Pyper to bring Miss Emma Lucy Gates behind the scenes last night, that he might have the pleasure of renewing an acquaintance begun some years ago in New York. Maj. Pond took Miss Gates to the New York school of dramatic art, Mr. Stewart being its associate proprietor and nanager; she wished to be coached in her role in the "Jolly Musketeers," she being about to return to Utah to take delighted to see Miss Gates again and his sincere good will and kindliness was appreciated and reciprocated

Theater—The Stewart Opera com-pany made its first appearance in Salt Lake last night rendering the new opera "The Two Roses." The fact that the company is to be with us for eight successive performances, and that the country travel has not yet begun to ar-rive, must be held responsible for the fact that the house was not crowded. The company made a charming im-pression—better, indeed, than the work which it presented. The scenic investi-ture is most beautiful, and the two acts of the opera, representing first a gar-Theater-The Stewart Opera of the opera, representing first a gar-den scene, and second an old English mansion, were triumphs of the scene painter's art. The costuming of the period, the England of a century and a half ago, was also admirable, and the ensemble effects, when chorus, princi-pals and the orchestra of 15 were heard together, were specially fine. The un-fortunate part of it is that they were fortunate part of it is that they were not heard in conjunction often enough. Of the individual players the princi-pal success was achieved by Miss Ma-bel Day, soprano, who has a high, clear, bell like voice, a graceful personality, and who is an artist of experience throughout. Close on her heels trod Miss Bertha Shalek, another good sing-er and a vivacious actress. Mr. Hayer and a vivacious actress. Mr. Hay-den has a sweet tenor voice, though he is hampered by the defect that attaches to most tenors—a lack of natu-ralness in his acting. Mrt Leslie, the comedian, worked hard, but had little real comic work to do, though he scored best in his several songs, notably in the one devoted to imitating the serenade of the felines. Mr. Ral-ston, evidently the possessor of a good bass voice, had but little opportunity to show it. Mr Stewart, the baritone, after whom the opera company is ortunities, though his manner showed the artist. The chorus was excellent and sang with vim and vigor. The drawbacks, as already intimated, attach to the op-era itself, which is a comic opera with a rather slow plot. Based on Gold-smith's "She Stoops to Conquer," it could only be mildly hilarious, and rather out of touch with the snap and ginger of the demands of the present day. Its music is sweet and fetching, but does not possess the "heft" which a company with so strong an ensemble demands. The orchestral work under Director Nicol was excellent The same bill goes tonicht, and will be followed by "Dorothy" tomorrow aftermoon and evening, and by another new work "Babette," Friday. By that time the conference tide will have set in and a big week's business may be looked for. City patrons, therefore, will do well to secure their seats early in the week.

"You know," Mr. Stewart remarked to Manager Pyper, "we came very near having this young lady with us on this tour. Mr. Cort did his best to persuade her, but she thought, and very proper-ly, that the heavy strain of nightly performances was more than she could bear."

"And she also had an eye on Europe, did she not?" asked Mr. Pyper. "Of course. They all think they

"Or course. They all think they must make their debut in Europe. And there is good reason for that. But," he added, turning to Miss Gates, "Don't tell them over there that you are an amateur and have had no exare an amateur and nave had no ex-perience in acting," for I'll venture to say that you have learned more in your work with your home company, than most of these people know who study dramatic art over there for study dramatic art over there for years. place like the tabernacle." "Perhahps I can," said Mr. Stewart, "Let me see. We will be singing Bab-ette Friday. Why, perhaps I can come over a little while anyway. But we want you to meet Miss Day. And can't you come to the recital to be given our company tomorrow, in this same tab-ernacle? Miss Schalek will sing there, and I want you to bear her. You are and I want you to hear her. You are yourself rehearsing tomorrow? What, you are to sing the Traviata Aria, the you are to sing the Traviata Aria, the Rigoletto duet, "Anglis Ever Bright and Fair," beside old French songs, and a few more? Well." he said, "turning to the little group of listeners standing near, "She is not afraid to attack the biggest, is she?" There were a few more words of good advice and mutual desires to meet occasionally, and then Manager Pyper and Miss Gates took their departure.

SALT LAKERS WERE EASY.

Ely Gamblers Bumped Their Heads in Great Shape.

The members of the Commercial club excursion which returned from Ely, excursion which returned from Ely, Nev., this morning, report among other experiences upon the fashion in which the gamblers touched up one and all. Of course on an occasion like railroad day everybody took in the town and those who had never seen a faro game, roulette wheel or a crap game, together with others who had, were equally anxi-ous to study the workings of the pret-ty little wheel and the ivory ball. From all accounts everybody put up a dollar, just for luck. In teiling the story this morning one
