EOISE, Idaho, Nov. 19.—Last Friday night a fire broke out in Shriver's planing mill in this city, which burned the entire structure and all its contents to the ground. The total loss is estimated at $18,000, only a small portion of which was insured. The origin of the conflagration is unknown. The fire broke out about 2:45 in the morning.

CHINESE DENS RAIDED.

The Boise police are making a regular campaign throughout the Chinese quarters of the city, making arrests, breaking up gambling and opium joints and confiscating property. A number of dens were raided last week, one of last week, where Chinese and Japanese were arrested and are now under bonds to appear in court to answer to the charge of gambling. The police found in one of the dens, which was confiscated, $204.30, most of which was in small denominations, principally silver.

In connection with the work of raiding the Chinese dens in this city, the police have begun the work of renovating the lodging houses. Several persons were arrested last week, one of whom was caught again night before last at the Idaho roominghouse, and was taken immediately to the police station. He put up a $5 bond for re-appearance yesterday morning, at 10 o'clock, but before that hour arrived, August Connette had purchased a ticket to Salt Lake City and was fast speeding on his way thither.

WOOLMEN MEET.

The Idaho Woolgrowers' association was in session in this city the latter part of last week, at which meeting some important questions were up for discussion, and some important actions taken in relation to matters pertaining to wool. The real purpose of the meeting was to consider the scheme of the Chicago Wool Warehouse & Storage company, which is being advocated by the National Woolgrowers' association, the object of which is to protect the interests of middle men and commission agents who have combined to keep the prices of wool down. A number of the western states have already accepted the plan and signed up an agreement to see a pound to insure the delivery of 2,500,000 pounds of wool at the Chicago warehouse.

FORESTRY POLICY ASSAILED.

Another important feature of the meeting was the passing of resolutions condemning the forestry policy and pleading for state control. The larger wool growers of the state have received notice of a cut of 20 per cent in the number of sheep allowed on the ranges. This, they say, is a disastrous blow to this industry in the west, and will eventually mean the destruction of the industry altogether.

GOV. GOODING TALKS.

Governor Gooding was in attendance at the meeting, and in speaking on this question, said:

"The sheepmen are thoroughly convinced that unless the people of Idaho come to their assistance in this matter, the live-stock industry in this state will be a thing of the past."

"We are in hearty accord with the policy of conservation of our national resources, but we believe that the great range should be utilized to the fullest extent. Men who heretofore have been friendly to Forestry Photo, have now been thoroughly alarmed over the policy he is pursuing.

"In many cases incompetent men are appointed to supervise the range-men without practical experience put in position to handle great questions of vital importance to the state. The woolgrowers believe that there are enough intelligent citizens of Idaho to protect the natural resources of the state, and that this question is more vital to them than to the citizens of other states. While we recognize the nation has an interest in these great resources, we believe that they can be much more economically administered by the state than by a set of rules and regulations prescribed by a man 3,000 miles away."

AFFLICTED FAMILY.

With one son laid in the grave a few weeks ago and another by his side today, and with husband and two little daughters sick with typhoid fever, Mrs. C. Woodworth of South Boise is the only member of the family who has not succumbed to the dreaded disease. But the sadness of the situation has bowed her down with grief. The father is now unconscious and does not know of the loss of his last son, a bright 17-year-old boy. Very little hope is entertained for his or the two little daughters' recovery.

IDAHO EDITORS MEET.

Among the many guests which Boise has had the pleasure of entertaining during the past week were the Southern Idaho editors, who held a hard business meeting here on Monday, then spent a night and a day in banquetting, bathing at the Nataratorum, taking in the sights, etc. The questions of principal importance which came up for discussion were those relating to proposed legislation by the legislature to meet this winter, the question of a state primary was discussed, and it was found that it had about as many supporters as opponents. No final action, however, was taken on the question. A committee on legislation was appointed to look into all questions of legislation of interest to the association.

SKULL CRUSHED BY CAR.

Robert, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cox of this city, met with a very severe accident at Bogard, about six miles down the Boise valley, yesterday, which may cost the little fellow his life. He was out playing with other children in the yard, when he slipped away from them and crawled through the wire fence to the Boise Interurban railway track, where he was struck by a passing car in such a manner as to crush his skull. The child was immediately taken to a local hospital and operated upon. The attending physicians hold a hope for his recovery.

CLOSES NOBLE LIFE.

Mrs. Alice Wright died at her residence at 11 o'clock last night. In life, especially in late years, she had constantly hoped and prayed that she might die on the Sabbath, and her prayer was fulfilled. She was the wife of Rev. R. B. Wright, who has been a resident of this city for the past 15 years. Her life has been one of great sacrifice and usefulness in the advancement of Christian work, both in these parts and in Illinois, where her husband first entered upon his ministry 31 years ago. Deceased was 55 years of age. The interment took place yesterday from the Congregational church.

SUGAR BEET RAISERS

RECEIVE BREAD MONEY

Special Correspondence.

SUGAR CITY, Nov. 19.—The weather for the past week has been delightful; the days are quite warm for this time of the year, but the nights are cold. The cold has retarded the digging of beets some, but as most of the beets have been dug there is not much concern about the few acres that are still in the ground. There are about 125 acres of beets still to be harvested. The run at the factory is progressing nicely. On the 14th inst. all the beets at the auxiliary plant at Parker were cut, about 18,000 tons. Cutting is going on at the main plant. There has been a large harvest and it is expected that the run here will last until the middle of January.

Dr. Hooker is expected here Sunday to inspect the plant. Manager Mark Austin and Manager M. H. Eichel have gone to Nampa, to meet Dr. Hooker and accompany him on his tour of inspection in this state.

The 15th inst. was the first large beet pay day and the effects are seen in all avenues of business. The farmers received a large amount of money and most of the money will be spent locally. It is a sight to see the number of wagons unloading grain at the two warehouses here. Grain is piled everywhere and several carloads are shipped every day. The road between this place and Teton is lined with loaded grain wagons from morning till night. The wagons come from the basin and all the surrounding country. It is evident by the vast amount of grain that is being shipped, that a railroad to Teton Basin is badly needed, and when the decision is made to build the road, it will be hailed with delight by many residents of this section and Teton Basin.

The depot employees are kept busy early and late as large shipments of goods are being received from time to time. Yesterday a string of over 20 wagons was seen loaded with goods for one merchant in the basin.

The public schools are doing good work. The high school that was opened this year is meeting with success and many of the young men and women are taking advantage of receiving a higher education than the grade schools here. Mutual Improvement Associations are meeting with good success. There is an average attendance of from 75 to 100 and much interest is being taken in the work.

O. M. Van Tassel, manager of the Van Tassel Bros' store, has been confined to his bed with pneumonia. He is getting along nicely at present.

TETON STAKE CONFERENCE

IS HELD IN DRIGGS

Special Correspondence.

DRIGGS, Nov. 18.—The quarterly conference of the Teton stake convened Saturday and Sunday in the stake house. Elders O. F. Whitney and Jos. W. McMurrin were in attendance. Both speakers occupied the pulpit at each session of the conference.

Elder McMurrin gave a powerful discourse to the divinity of Joseph Smith's mission.

Whitney delivered a most intelligent and instructive address on the doctrine of Mormonism. A large turnout assembled, particularly on Sunday. The report given by the heads of the auxiliary organizations were favorable.

The Mutual session was the most ideal of any that have been given in the stake. All of the numbers were representative of the workings of the M. L. A. The program was commented upon by Elder McMurrin as being one of the best he had heard in his visits through the state. The numbers, numbers given by the Pratt ward and ladies' quartet, and David Smith's solo were very creditably rendered.

Chas. Chennington and Artie Penfold were returned to the M. L. A. Temple last Wednesday, a crowd of young people gave them a most noisy reception on their return to the ward. The weather has been fatal for more than a month past. Threshing will last for about two weeks if the weather continues to remain as it is.

Three new dwellings owned by J. H. Floyd, E. J. Thompson and L. D. Kilpack, Jr., are nearing completion.

FARMERS DIG BEETS FROM FROZEN GROUND

Special Correspondence.

RIGBY, Nov. 18.—This place is enjoying very pleasant days, with cold, frosty nights. The ground is frozen so hard that the few who have not yet got all their beets up are having a hard time digging them. In the afternoon, however, they can manage to dig up a few. About the usual amount of storing beets, potatoes, grain, and hogs, has been going on since the first of October, and around the depot and elevators, a busy scene has been going on. The fine store of Mr. Smith from Poplar, built of cement blocks, is almost completed. R. K. Homer is finishing a very neat residence in the western part of town. Mr. Peck is making an addition to his opera hall, which will make it one of the most commodious in the valley.

Among the recent births are a son to Principal and Mrs. M. J. Hammond on the 15th inst., and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Grover on the 16th.

The Bell Telephone Co. is putting up new wires on its line from Idaho Falls to Rigby, and the Idaho Power & Transportation company is extending the electric line.

FOUNDERS' EXERCISES AT ONEIDA ACADEMY

Special Correspondence.

PRESTON, Nov. 13.—Waving banners and colors of rival classes, college yells, and various other demonstrations of school patriotism were some of the characteristic features of one of the most successful Founders' day exercises yet held in the Academy.

Never before in the 21 years of its history have the students displayed greater interest and enthusiasm in a school program than upon this occasion, yet at no time could it be said that their demonstrations were carried to a point of over-enthusiasm.

At the preceding night contending classes vied with each other to see which should gain the summit of the roof and decorate the building with their colors. The Missionary class was the first to reach the heights and to fortify themselves against the invincible forces of the other classes. It had been reported were approaching with a re-enforcement of fourth year normals.

The attack was made, but when the early morning dawn appeared the colors of the normals were seen floating triumphantly in the autumn breeze.

Promptly at 9:30 o'clock the students and teachers met in their several class rooms from which they marched to the Assembly room, artistically decorated with autumn leaves and class colors. Here an excellent program was rendered. After a song and an opening prayer a beautiful anthem was rendered by the academy choir.

President Johnson delivered an address of welcome, and expressed his pleasure in meeting so many students, teachers and friends, and especially to be favored with the presence of Elder Grant and Elder Cowley.

A violin and piano duet by Prof. Otto and Mrs. Eva Johnson was next rendered in a most artistic manner. Other numbers were presented, including a vocal solo by May Borham, and a mixed quartet by members of the music department. An address by Elder Matthias Cowley was next announced. For nearly an hour Elder Cowley held the audience spell bound by a most powerful and splendid discourse upon the life of President Johnson.

F. Smith, whose birthday celebration happened to be coincident with a valuable address was given the young people as to the kind of education most profitable to them. That kind which will develop noble character. He encouraged them to emulate the example set by President Joseph F. Smith and other righteous men.

After a closing anthem by the choir benediction was pronounced and the meeting adjourned till 2 o'clock p. m.

The afternoon session commenced at the appointed time with the assembly room filled to its utmost seating capacity. Following the opening anthem and invocation, the academy orchestra accompanied by the choir, rendered in most feeling manner, the selection "Jesus Lover of My Soul." When the next number, a comic recitation by J. S. McCann, was announced, the room was filled with a loud and hearty laugh. Mr. McCann related in an original sketch a few incidents connected with the history of the academy. A piano solo by Jennie Tanner; a piano duet by Laura Cowley and Lulu Johnson; and a quartet by members of the music class, and a vocal duet by Mrs. D. P. Thomas and Prof. Otto, each deserve special comment for the excellent manner in which they were rendered.

The special feature of the afternoon was the Founders' day address by Apostle Heber J. Grant, who, with numerous illustrations, pointed out in a very vivid manner the real way to success in life. He said that the great keynotes to success are work and perseverance along honorable and legitimate lines. He encouraged the students to appreciate the great advantages of education which they enjoy and to some day return the favor to their institution of learning by presenting it a gift of some useful kind.

President C. D. Goudard, in behalf of the stake board of education, made a few timely and well directed remarks which were followed by a closing chorus and the benediction.

At 4 o'clock a very exciting game of basketball was played between the second year normals and a team selected from the rest of the school. The high-spirited indefatigable third years met their "Waterloo" by a score of 13 to 14.

The closing feature of the day's celebration was a grand ball in the evening at the Opera House.

ON ART FACTS.

"As there are few real judges of literature, so there are few real judges of painting. Put in the average reader's hand a book by an unknown writer, and he will be quite unable to tell whether the work is good or bad. But before the million collectors of unsigned paintings, and he, too, will be at sea. Hence the feeblest canvas of a great dead master is sold for a high price. And so it is with the art of the painter. The artist is a worthless will fetch $100,000 easily, while the canvas of an unrecognized and struggling genius, fresh and beautiful from his studio, fetches at most a few dollars."

Edward a dealer talking to a painter and sculptor the other day," he said. "His talk sounded absurd and wicked. After all, though, it is hard to dupe our millionaire collectors? They are duping us when they profess a knowledge of art that they don't possess."

"Get that bust thrown back on your hands, old man," said the dealer to the artist. "I don't wonder at it. Your busts lack dignity and classic grandeur. Pictures lack mellowness and the rich bloom of true color. Tell you what to do. Cut the bust's nose off, chop away part of the chin, dust the head here and there, pour acid all over it, and bury it in your garden for two months. It may come up as an antique. And for your 'last landscape' you'd better rub it all over with brown, slap on a lot of dirt, and put it up in the gallery chimney a few weeks. I shouldn't wonder if I worked it off as a Sebastian Van Dyck."

DON'T BLAME HER

For she cannot help it. Women are often cross, irritable, hysteric, and declare they are driven to distraction at the slightest provocation.

Men cannot understand why this should be so. To them it is a mystery because in nine times out of ten this condition is caused by a serious feminine derangement.

A remedy is necessary which acts directly upon the organs afflicted, restoring a healthy normal condition to the feminine system, which will quickly dispel all hysterical, nervous and irritable conditions. Such is

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

The following letter serves to prove this fact.

Mrs. Mattie Copenhagen, 315 So. 21st St., Kansas, writes:

"For two years I suffered from the worst forms of feminine ills, until I was almost driven frantic. Nothing but morphine would relieve me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness and made me a well woman."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration.

Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham
