Those for London Will be Sent via
San Francisco.

New York, Nov. 12.—According to officials of the New York Central railroad, the British government has decided to send Australian mails for London by way of San Francisco and New York, instead of, as formerly, by way of Suez canal. It has been demonstrated that the Pacific and American routes is slightly over three days faster than the old route from Sydney to London, by way of Colombo, Aden, Brindisi and London.

Trolley Car Runs Away.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 12.—Trolley car No. 31, of the Portland Railway company ran away shortly after 9:30 last night. It escaped from the motorman on Thirteenth street near Montgomery street line of the city and suburban company, backed down Montgomery street and on Eleventh to Morrison street. The track on Eleventh street is down grade all the way and long before the car reached Morrison it was tearing along at a frightful pace. It struck a garbage wagon and smashed it, and the driver was somewhat injured. It was going too fast to make the turn at Morrison so it left the rails, ran across Morrison street and crashed into a fire escape. The car was wrecked. Motorman James M. English was thrown from the car and received a scalp wound that is not regarded as serious, though he was so stunned that he cannot tell how the accident happened. No passengers were in the car.

A British Laager Captured.

New York, Nov. 12.—Dr. Leyds' friends, says the Berlin correspondent of the London Times and the New York Times, assert that a British laager containing remnants for the cavalry now on the way from England was captured by the Boers "near Capetown."

The circumstance that this success of the burghers is not known in London according to these informants, is due to the fact that it is not the custom of the British to mention the loss of war material unattended by loss of life.

Setting Canada in Right Light.

New York, Nov. 12.—C. W. Bengough, introduced by Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, delivered an interesting lecture on the imperial institute last night, says the "Tribune's" London correspondent. British ideas on many Canadian subjects were, he maintained, more or less vague, for instance, misconception with regard to climate was deep rooted in England, where everybody was familiar with Kipling's "Our Lady of the Snows." The lecturer laid stress on the value of the Dominion to England as a field for immigration, and the profitable investment of capital. A solution of the British food problem was, he said, to be found in the development of the colonies.

English Justice for India.

New York, Nov. 12.—A dispatch to the London Times and the New York Times from Allahabad says that, at the inauguration of the new North-west province on King Edward's birthday, Chief Commissioner Deane assured the native chiefs that the same canons of justice that prevailed elsewhere in the British empire would be applied to their province. The new administration, he added, would bring them nearer the central government.

The commissioner's speech, says the dispatch, will have a good effect in reassuring the native chiefs of the borderland, who feared sweeping changes.

League of Polish Students.

New York, Nov. 12.—The Berlin correspondent of the London Times and the New York Times says the trial of Polish students has just ended at Poznan.

The court found that a league of Polish students was in existence, with the ultimate object of re-establishing the kingdom of Poland. Its operations were therefore treasonable. The court based its conclusions on the fact that the so-called "Polish national treasure" existed in Switzerland, and that contributions for this fund were collected from the students.

No Success for Leyds.

New York, Nov. 12.—The Berlin National Zeitung, quoted in a dispatch to the London Times, and the New York Times, says Dr. Leyds (who is now in Berlin) and the pan-German politicians will have no more success now than when they attempted Krugerite demonstrations in Berlin.

BOTH FIGHTERS QUIT TRAINING.

Interest in the Heavyweight Championship Contest Increases.

"JEFF" AND GUS TALK SOME

The Champion Says: "I Will Give Him Any Kind of a Fight He Wants"—Gloves Selected.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 12.—Interest in the coming contest for the heavyweight championship of the world continues to increase. Both Jeffries and Ruhlman have practically finished their training and are fit to put up the fight of their lives. In an interview Jeffries said:

"The game can ring any minute for me now, and I will be ready. No fighter was ever in better condition, and though I am confident of success, I know I am not going against an easy game. I have a whole lot of respect for Ruhlman's fighting ability, but I know I can beat him. I will give him any kind of a fight he wants. He can rush the game or he can fight at long range."

Ruhlman and his manager, Billy Madden, are just as confident of victory as Jeffries. Madden figures that his protégé is faster than the champion. "He is the glutton for punishment," he said. "He is strong; perhaps not as strong as his opponent, but he has a clever defense. He is as good a ring general as he can get in blows with his right or his left with equal facility."

"I am not worrying about the rules which will govern the fight," said Jeffries. "I am perfecting my strategy under any interpretation that Harry Corbett might give them. He knows the rules as well as any person living and I am not afraid but that he will give us a fair show all during the contest."

Points that most clothiers never think of.

Points that many clothiers wouldn't dare speak of.

The Beauty OF A DIAMOND

Can be ruined by being placed in a clumsy mounting.

It is our first purpose to sell a perfect diamond of the Correct Color and our next to mount it properly.

We here illustrate the new and popular SECURITY MOUNTING of which we are the sole agents in Salt Lake.

It holds the diamond much more securely than the old style mounting, lasts three times as long, and yet shows more of the stone.

It is essentially a ladies' mounting and in style and finish is in keeping with its requirements.

We highly recommend it to our patrons.
