perform almost anything in the horse line; but, Kentucky does not comprise all the world-even in 'making the best time.' I have a word to say in my next as to the 'in-andin' blood of some of the 'Kentucky horses,'

But, Mr. Editor, I have already exhausted more space than I fear you can spare; and as Mr. Clay's further arguments bring me to the point where I left off in January, I may ask permission of you to reply further in a future number.

Mike Walsh, says the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, "was a man of fine natural talents; and respect. On the other hand, he was inclined to rowdyism, and was too fond of the social glass." In 1847, '48, and '52 he was a member of the New York legislature. From 1853 to 1855 he was a member of Congress. He was also, some years ago, editor of a radical paper called the Subterranean. Subsequent to the close of his congressional career he visited To the editor of the N. E. Evening Post he | yield. once said, "Of all my family, not one has died in his bed-all by accident or violence-and such will be my fate."

One witness testified before the coroner's inquest that he heard the cry of murder three times repeated, in the neighborhood of where the remains were found. Foul play was there, without any doubt.

-THE SALE of liquors on Sunday has been prohibited by the Pennsylvania legislature; heavy penalties being attached.

-HUNGARIAN refugees, who fled to the United States soon after the disastrous revolution of 1848, are returning to their native country, having asked and received an amnesty from the Austrian government. A number of them are men of intelligence and wealth.

-THE FRENCH Count Montalembert, the great opponent of Napoleon, in solemn session has been made an honorary member of the Hungarian Academy of Science.

-THE NEGRO SLAVES of the United States have increased by generation, from less than 400,000 imported, to 3,638 909, including those now free; while, of the 1.700,000 negroes imported into the British West Indies, only 600,000 remai ed to be emancipated in 1833.

-AT TROY, N. Y., Mr. La Mountain is constructing a balloon in which he intends to cross the Atlantic.

-Dr. Dechambre, a man of reputed great intelligence on this subject, says that he objects to marriage between persons sprung from the same stock-"not that they perpetuate in families diseases capable of hereditary transmission, neither certain forms of temperament, meither certain organic proclivities, such as narrowness of chest, or other vice of conformation-that it is manifest that nearness of relationship of itself adds nothing to the chances of morbid heredity, which, depending on the health of the individuals themselves, and of their progenitors on either side, acknowledge the same origin, whatever the nature of the alliance; but, he says, the objection to marriages of this sort is that, "by the mere fact of the non-renewal of the blood, they exercise a peculiar influence in inducing an organic depreciation, fatal to the propagation of the species."

The first statement of his argument, though conflicting with the almost universally received opinion and controverting the very essence of the logic bitherto generally used against the practice of marriages in consanguinity, seems rational; but, has he not used a very lame pretext in his predicate?

-A DUEL epidemic seems to be prevailing in New Orleans-all about Piccolomini.

-THE BAPTISTS are persecuted by the Catholies in Mexico. Rev. J. M. Shaw, writing from Sorocco, says:-

Copen persecution has begun in earnest, and I am not sure of my life a day, but we try to be prepared for the worst. As I was preaching, I was attacked by a mob set on by Catholic priest, and stoned, and driven from branded with a large cross thus X on left shoulder. my stand, amidst shouts and stones, and firing of guns. I received several shots from the guns, but only one did me harm. When I reached the public road, I commenced | and take them away. preaching again, amid a shower of stones, expecting to | 9-1 fall a martyr for the truth, but God miraculously preserved me. I will give you particulars next mail; the excitement is raging very high-the end we cannot see."

The preacher, however, had good pluck. He did not cease his efforts to christianize the heathen of Mexico. He told the mob that he should continue to preach till their shots took effect. In his own language, he "had a glorious time." The Catholics are burning all the Bibles they can get hold of.
