President Brigham Young:
Dear Brother—I herewith sendy you a report of our labors for the set and three mountain for the secret of the secret so of the system which the milliary could never acquire.
He knew that the Nauvoo Leaglon was drilling, recruiting and arming for an ulterior purpose, and that was to protect the chiefs of the Church and, if necessary, escort them to the mountain fastnesses of Lower Utah should the law ever sect to put its hand upon them for trial and punishment. The population of Lower Utah is wholly Mormon, and the fugitives might there disfy the United States for an indefinite time. It is proof of the alarm of the Beaver district, has also written to the Secretary of War asking for arms for his people.
