NEW SOUTHERN HOTEL. CHAS. R. BURKIT, Prop.

The FAMOUS DEVEREAUX HOUSE IS NOW THE KEELEY INSTITUTE.

The announcement is made that the residence of the late Hon. William Jennings, once mayor of Salt Lake City, and one of the financial pillars of Utah 20 years ago—the famous Devereaux house, has been leased by the proprietors of the Keeley Institute.
Few homes in Salt Lake have enjoyed a greater fame for hospitality than the Devereaux. Originally built by Mr. Jennings, it was during his life time and for some years after his death a center of social functions whose brilliancy was unsurpassed by any occurring in the west. Gen. Grant, Gen. Sherman, Lady Franklin, and many other notables were entertained there by Mr. and Mrs. Jennings, and years afterward, the social parties that used to be given in its halls and on its lawns were famous for the scale on which they were attempted and the success with which they were achieved.
There are hundreds of people who need our treatment in order to save themselves from absolute ruin and regain the condition of health and usefulness and respectability lost by indulgence in the excessive use of liquor. The Keeley treatment for drunkenness has been before the public since 1888. Those who have any knowledge of its results need no assurance of the perfect safety of the system and that its administration is equally safe and effective, whether applied in infancy, youth or old age.
There need be no more sleepless nights for the pale-faced wife. No more hours of anxious waiting for the steps that never come. No little voice asking, "Why don't papa come?"

GEN. JAMES W. FORSYTH,

Were Physical and Moral Wrecks.

In command of Fort Riley, in a letter addressed to the Military Secretary of the Secretary of War, says of the Keeley treatment:
We started just one year ago sending men to the Keeley Institute at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., on furlough, and since that eighty-six men of this garrison have been treated. I am not speaking from theory when I refer to the effects of the treatment. I speak from an ample experience from the closest observation. Statements made about the treatment being deleterious to health are base. It is just exactly the contrary. I have seen these nervous, haggard, distressed looking drunks go away from here, and when reporting to me upon their return, I did not need to hear them say they never felt better in their lives, to believe the treatment had been a physical as well as a moral benefit to them. The effect upon discipline here is simply marvelous. I don't want if I can possibly prevent it in any way, to be deprived of the possibility of getting this treatment until every man needing it in my command has had the opportunity to procure it at a price within his means.
F. R. J. K. BAUDEY, LL. D., Professor of Psychological Medicine and diseases of the nervous system in Medical Department of the University of Missouri, writes as follows:
"It has been my good fortune for several years to be thoroughly and intimately conversant with Dr. Leslie B. Keeley's cure of the liquor and opium habits. I consider its success marvellous, more so than any words are adequate to express. I have sent the doctor not less than 100 patients in whom I was personally interested. They have gone to him physical and moral wrecks, and in a few short weeks have returned in vigorous health and perfectly cured, with not the slightest possibility of the least craving for their former vicious indulgence. Most of them remain permanently cured, and if a few relapsed it was only through perseverance and giddiness, perfectly inexcusable. As a physician of thirty years' experience, I characterize as marvellous, absurd and utterly untrue the statements that the doctor's methods ever produced the slightest ill effects. This fact, however, is too well substantiated and generally known to thousands of individuals from all classes of society that the doctor has cured, and too many honest and grateful hearts to need any special refutation."

DRUNKENNESS IS A DISEASE AND CAN BE CURED.
