LOCAL BRIEFS.

Hon. John T. Caine continues to improve, and it is believed now that he will finally be entirely restored to health.

Col. Percy Sowers, special agent of the land department, will return from his vacation and resume the duties of his office July 1.

Carter & Dampback of this city have the contract for furnishing the plumbing supplies for the insane asylum at Provo. The asylum engineer will do the work.

Local coal dealers express the hope that the San Pedro people will shortly find a way to build into the Carbon and Emery county coal fields, and open up a big coal trade with southern California.

The funeral of John Schuler Lewis the 34-year-old son of Robert S. and Louise Schuler Lewis, who died yesterday, will be held Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock at 120 South Temple Street.

Clerk C. H. Libby, of the juvenile court at Denver, in the city making arrangements for the funeral, will be given by Justice Judge B. B. Lindsey at the Salt Lake Theater on Friday, June 28.

There will be a civil service examination July 19, next, in this city for the position of draftsman in the land office service, at Phoenix, Ariz., in the office of the surveyor general, salary, $1 per day.

The fruit and grounds of the Park and Library have been completed, and present an attractive appearance. The interior woodwork is being completed, and the building will shortly be ready for occupancy.

Thos. J. Taile, Secretary to Hon. Charles H. Thomas of Denver, while a governor of Colorado, and party of a dozen excursionists, are at the Knudsen, en route back to Colorado from a trip to the coast.

A report from Tremont, Boxelder county, is to the effect that two safes were blown open there Thursday night, from one of which the thieves succeeded in getting the sum of $95. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the crime.

Local dry goods men say that the stiffening of prices in the east is likely to affect prices in this city. Encouraging news, however, is that they are "crushed with death" with orders, and trade seems to be increasing all over the country.

Hon. B. B. House of Fort Madison, Ia., is spending a few days in Salt Lake as the guest of Atty. J. M. Hamilton, on his way east returning from the Portland fair. Mr. House states that he considers Salt Lake's prospects better than those of Portland, and says that he knows of no other western town of which this could be said.

J. H. Peterson has arrived in Salt Lake from a four years' sojourn at George Washington university, Washington, D. C. Mr. Peterson secured his degree of LL. B. at the June commencement, and will now take up the practise of law. He was private secretary to Congressman French of Idaho while in Washington, and intends to take up his practise at Pocatello, Idaho.

Rufus Nell and his sister were found guilty of assault yesterday in Justice Holt's court at Riverton and the young lady was fined $250, but sentence was deferred upon her brother. It appears from the evidence that the two defendants seriously objected to their sister-in-law and family visiting at their house, so they used a buggy whip on her. The case was prosecuted by County Attorney Christensen.

Colonel N. W. Clayton has arrived home from New York via Detroit, bringing with him his daughter, Miss Sybella Clayton, who has been studying music under Senor Alberto Jones and Miss Minnie Clark of Detroit. The former, Mrs. Clayton, a guest of his employer, Lawrence Clayton, son of the colonel, was with the party. Col. Clayton says the weather in New York was insufferably hot, very oppressive, but otherwise he had a pleasant trip.

The Commercial club's special committee on the proposed boulevard put in a good share of yesterday, driving over the route east of City Creek valley, with a view to estimating the cost of completing the way, began some time ago. The members of the committee, as a result, are enthusiastic over the prospects. The mayor, city engineer and other officials are invited to accompany the committee over the route again next Tuesday morning.

The "News" has received from Elder H. S. Ensign in Japan a copy of the Psalmody of the Japan mission, containing the English music and Japanese words to a large number of the familiar hymns. The hymns have been translated into Japanese by Elders Ensign and Frederick A. Cain. The book contains quite a number of selections and will be a decided aid to our musicians. A letter from Elder Ensign states that it is freely used in their Sunday school in Tokyo.

F. K. Farr of Lebanon, Tennessee, was a visitor in Salt Lake yesterday, as a guest of the local alumni chapter of the Kenyon College fraternity. Mr. Farr is an officer of the fraternity and has been on a visit of inspection to the chapters of the west and the Pacific coast. He states that a conclave of the society's members at Stanford University, the University of California, and at Oregon and Washington universities, will be held at Portland this summer.

Last night Sergeant Eddington of the police department arrested a colored woman who gave the name of Martha Butler. She declared that she is only 16 years of age, but she looks to be very close to 30. Sergeant Eddington found the unfortunate woman on Commercial street in the dives there, taking notes, to be found out what she was unable to explain. The officer locked her up in the city jail, and this afternoon he filed a complaint against her, charging insanity.

Deputy Sheriff Isaac Emery arrested Ray Bagshaw last night on First South street and locked him up in the county jail, and he will be charged with grand larceny. On Thursday night Bagshaw got a horse and buggy from Kimball's livery stable and drove to Mountain, where he sold the buggy and the horse. After he was arrested last night, he was positively identified as an employee at the stable. It is said that he has served time on a previous occasion in the state prison for a similar offense.

Word was received in Salt Lake yesterday afternoon of the death of Mrs. Mary Hepworth in Los Angeles, at the age of 75 years. Mrs. Hepworth is the widow of the late Thomas Hepworth of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Hepworth had been very valuable neighbors for many years, and lived here continually until the death of Mr. Hepworth. A year ago Mrs. Hepworth went to California for her health, and at the time of her death there were present two of her daughters, Mrs. E. Cobb and Miss Lydia Hepworth. In this city there have been many deaths recently among them being Mrs. P. Olsen, Mrs. C. Cobb, Mrs. E. Nutt, Mrs. J. Klink, Mrs. F. Blatzacker, and James and John Hepworth.

"You have no idea what a help the newspapers are in fighting adulterated foods," said State Chemist Harms this morning to a "News" reporter. "They spread the intelligence so quickly that everybody gets onto things right off. When the papers printed the facts about the dried kernels in the bacon market fell off, and from that day buying and housewives went to putting up their own sausages. A big dealer complained bitterly to me about the publication of the facts, as it just about destroyed his business in that line." Mr. Harms said he had been continuing his analysis of meat products, and had found them free from adulteration. This is attributed to the freedom with which the newspapers had handled previously the matter of food adulteration.
