EDITORIAL NOTES.

Hundreds per day of the peasantry in some of the Russian provinces are dying for want of food. The granaries in many districts are empty, and pestilence as usual follows the famine.

A noted astrologer in New York has cast the horoscope of the presidential candidates and conventions, and gives the nomination to John Sherman. He didn't consider it necessary to name the democratic nominee. According to astrological guesswork, John Sherman will be the next President of the United States.

Some people's idea of communism in this country are the same as the French farmers'. A friend explained to him that, "If all the money owned in France were to be put together and equally divided your share would only be 593 francs, 35 centimes." "Well," says the farmer, "that with what I have already wouldn't be so bad."

It is said that the exports of grain from Russia to other European countries during the months of January and February, this year, were over $5,320,000 bushels less than in the corresponding months last year, showing quite clearly that England, who has heretofore drawn a large amount of her supplies from the Russian provinces, must in the future, as now, look to this country for her supply of breadstuffs.

Here is the condensed history of nine-tenths of the poor creatures who, led astray from virtue's path, join the ranks of fallen women in "Christian" cities. It is told by a leading physician: "Four or five years of high living, luxury and dissipation; two or three years of abject poverty and intemperance; a year or two of agony and suffering in the charity wards of the City Hospital, and a final resting place on the dissecting table of a medical college."

The destructive cyclones which have recently caused so much devastation in the East were very terrible in their effects but are mere squalls when compared with Indian wind storms. The most destructive known in history was in Bengal, in October, 1876, when 215,000 persons were killed by the wind or drowned in a wave which submerged three islands. In the same country, in 1874 a cyclone caused the death of 50,000 people. The cyclone at Richmond, Missouri, in June, 1878, killed 100 persons, and is believed to be the most destructive that has swept the United States.

The United States Patent Office on March 1st abolished the rule requiring models of inventions to accompany applications for Letters Patent. The examiners will hereafter depend solely on the drawings in making up their decision. Where they are unable, owing to the intricacy of the invention, to decide a knotty point, they are empowered to call upon the inventor for a model, but it is estimated, this will not be necessary often, but once in a thousand cases. This will be a great saving to the inventor, and is satisfactory to patent attorneys, but we question whether model-makers will be so well satisfied.

Considerable quantities of vinegar are made from artificial sugar, or glucose, made from refined starch, sawdust, cotton rags. Vinegar thus made contains considerable quantities of sulphuric acid, and hence it may be detected by the same test given for that which has been directly adulterated with the acid, which is as follows: "Purchase at the drug store a dram of chloride of barium, or muriate of baryta, as it is commonly called. Dissolve in a small quantity of water as will completely dissolve it. If the solution is not perfectly clear allow it to settle. Put a tablespoonful of the vinegar in a wine glass, and add one or two teaspoonfuls of the clear solution. If there is any sulphuric acid present, a white powder will soon make its appearance at the bottom and on the sides of the glass."

"A BLASTED HEARTSTONE."

UNDER the old English common law a married woman was little else than the chattel of her husband. If she had property of her own it became her husband's by the marriage. Wherever he went she was bound to follow; if he so required. He was the master, her duty was obedience. As a power in the State the man was everything, the woman nothing. It is the spirit of that common law, which still keeps up the notion of woman's inferiority, and shuts her out from many of the privileges of citizenship. It is this that makes some men smile, as at a good joke, when women stand up for what they consider the rights of their sex; and that prompts the opposition to woman suffrage and the full equality of woman with man before the law.

In this country especially, of late years, the citizenship and legal rights of the fair sex have been more and more recognized and accorded. Professions too that were at one time frowned on as masculine ground have been thrown open to feminine practitioners, colleges permit the graduation of female students, and the domain of politics is no longer sacred to male ambition but is gradually being invaded by the "strong-minded" women of the nation.

We do not intend, however, at present, to take up the general question of woman's rights, or to handle the subject of her wrongs, but merely make these remarks as a prelude to the narration of a new thing in law as applied to the gentler sex. A woman has recently won a suit for damages for the loss of her husband's affections and society. We believe this is the first case of the kind on record. A man, under the old system, could sue for the loss of a wife who deserted him, and recover damages from her seducer, but a woman had to grieve, and weep, and bear it, and had no remedy in civil law against the female cause of her husband's desertion.

Mrs. Caroline Breiman, of Brooklyn, New York, led a pleasant married life until a wealthy widow, Catharine Fensch by name, fell in love with Mr. Breiman, and under a promise of $10,000 induced him to abandon his wife and chestow his attentions exclusively on herself. The deserted wife sued the seductive widow for damages for the loss of her husband's society and affections, and has won her case in a jury trial, after a ruling in the Brooklyn Supreme Court that the action would lie, on the ground that the legal status of women had been materially changed by the statutes of recent years, not only in New York, but nearly all over the Union.

The verdict was written, and contained this clause, which was the gist of the finding: "In our judgment no amount of money is equivalent to a blasted hearthstone; still we agree to assess the damages at $2,500." We presume that the jury thought that husband was not of any very great value, or they would have made a higher assessment.

Money is no real compensation to either wife or husband for the betrayal of marital obligations. But if it is proper for a man to sue a seducer for damages, and to obtain by law a financial plaster for a sore heart, why should not a woman have the same remedy? We refer to the case not as any endorsement of the cash compensation for a "blasted hearthstone," but as evidence of the progress of woman's cause in the land, and as an illustration of the change which has taken place in public sentiment and legal opinion in relation to woman's rights. A woman's blasted hearthstone is coming up to par with a man's. And this may prove a step towards that simple justice which one day will make man's lapse from virtue and honor equally criminal before the law and in society with woman's weakness and woman's sin.

CLEMETSEAW.

The San Francisco correspondent of the New York Herald had an interview with the now notorious Clemetseaw, just after his arrest for perjury in the Kallioch case, with the particulars of which our readers are familiar. We append the account of the interview, as it establishes without doubt the identity of the too willing witness with the whilom trunk maker of evil repute, who not long since figured in the Salt Lake police court.

"He is an Englishman, about forty-eight years of age. He had in early life been in the British service in the Royal Artillery, and received an honorable discharge. He became acquainted with some Mormons in Woolwich in 1870, and married a Mormon girl. He lost his wife two years later. In June, 1870, he passed through New York with some Mormon immigrants for Salt Lake. He commenced business there as a trunk maker, and supplied Brigham Young's great co-operative institution with trunks enough to serve all the Saints till the millennium. He had trouble with his second English wife, and gave her a Mormon divorce, but lived with her two or three years. Finally, some time last fall, they had a final separation. He had troubles enough. His trunk factory was burned, and he was once charged with robbing a young man's trunk, and the Mormons began to look down on him. Disaster followed disaster, and about the middle of last December he left the city of the Saints to go to Europe. He changed his mind and came here. He went under several names and now turns up in a new role which promises him a lengthy residence in Salt Lake. He drew out for the pastor of Kallioch and 18 Young during the fatal meeting, and speaks with unwavering hesitation. I have tried to find the sixth shot, but have been unsuccessful. Should other witnesses testify as they promise, the trial will be intensely interesting."

BY TELEGRAPH.

AMERICAN.

Bolt From Utah.
CHICAGO, 5.—A special to the Inter-Ocean says: The Tribune's Albany special states that Senator Robertson, who is one of the delegation to Chicago, and Senator Sessons, another delegate, declared today that they would vote for Blaine on the first ballot and as long thereafter as he was a candidate. They would not obey the unit rule. Judge Robertson is prominent and his action is significant. He received strong support at Saratoga in 1879, for governor against Cornell. The number of sympathizers with these two is variously estimated at from 15 to 25.

Kentucky Principles.

LOUISVILLE, 6.—The committee of the republican convention on resolutions adopted a resolution last night reaffirming the devotion of the republican party, favoring the payment of the State debt, in favor of common schools and opposing convict labor where it conflicts with honest tollers.

Only One.

PHILADELPHIA, 6.—M. S. Quay is the only city delegate to Philadelphia who personally proffers Grant.

Loan Secured.

A Montreal dispatch says: Wurtzelo has been sent to Paris to negotiate a loan of twelve millions for the province of Quebec, and reports the mission successful.

After the Indians.

SANTA FE, 6.—Hatch, with every available man, left Alamosa on Tuesday night on Victoria's trail. Captain Madden with two companies should be west of Fort Bayard, and Captain McCall with two companies south of Mogul Mountain. News of a fight is hourly expected.

Miners Fighting.

LEADVILLE, 6.—A dispatch from Gunnison states that Stevens and several prospectors of Silver Lake City, got into a fight with a company of miners and several men were killed.

Big Fire.

BOSTON, 6.—A fire in Beebe's Block, Old St., caused loss to the clothing firm of Whitcomb & Russell & Young of $250,000. The clothing firm of Whitcomb & Russell & Young, Hath & Whittier, who occupied the floor and basement, lost quite heavily.

Injunction Granted.

DENVER, 6.—In the case of Scott Evans against the Highland Club

Mine, Leadville, Judge Hallett, in United States District Court awarded an injunction restraining the defendant from works claimed by plaintiff.

A. T. Stewart's Body.

New York, 6.—It is stated that for six weeks the assistant district attorney has been searching for the body of the man who stole Stewart's body.

The "Times" Attack on Sherman.

The "Times" article on Sherman yesterday seems to have been flat or rather created sympathy for him. No influential journal notices the attack, and the people who converse on the subject fail to see where the "Times" made a point against Sherman, taking its own story without comment.

No Clear Prospect.

All the journals agree that the results of the State conventions yesterday do not contribute much towards clearing the political horizon for either party or candidate. To-morrow's conventions will be watched with much interest.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE FROM ALL DIRECTIONS.

Grant in Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., 5.—General Grant was tendered a public reception at the State House at 1 o'clock and welcomed to the late home of Abraham Lincoln, whose monument he had visited in the forenoon, by ex-Governor Palmer, who dwelt upon his military and political successes. General Grant made a brief reply in which he said that his travels had convinced him that no nation in the world had a country, a climate, a fertility of soil to surpass just what he saw around the capital of the State of Illinois; that in his travels through our own country, he was happy to say he saw signs of returning prosperity in the sections that were lately in conflict with, and with prosperity a returning love to the flag that floated on the platform by his side. What he desired was that there should be substantial, solid, union feeling in every section of the country, and no matter what the public position of parties were, he desired that they should all feel that now they have a common interest in the country, and are protected by the same flag, and if necessary, should fight for it, too.

Jumped the Track.

PETERSBURG, 5.—A passenger coach attached to a freight train on the Richmond and Petersburg railroad jumped the track and was completely wrecked at Temple's Crossing. Abraham Greenbaum, traveling salesman, lost his thigh and legs badly bruised. The injuries of six other passengers were slight.

A Fatal Fall.

CHICAGO, 5.—Thomas Sherman, proprietor of the Star and Crescent flouring mills, a prominent business man and director of the board of trade of this city, fell down the elevator shaft of his mills from the sixth story, a distance of over 90 feet, this morning and was instantly killed.

Washington's New Governor.

BALTIMORE, 5.—Ex-Governor Newell, recently appointed Governor of Washington Territory, will not leave his home for the Pacific for several weeks, having important private business to transact.

Brought in Disabled.

BOSTON, 5.—The steamer Thiravala, from Shields for New York, arrived to-day in tow of the steamer Samarra. She has over 500 passengers. Her propeller was loose and was lost May 3d, the day following that on which she was taken in tow.

Intruding Into Indian Territory.

WICHITA, 5.—Payne's party is on government lands in Indian Territory. Parties are reported to be at Coffeyville while others are organizing at Fort Sill and in Harper, Boston and Kingman Counties, Kansas.

Accidentally Shot.

NEW ORLEANS, 5.—Corporal Ernst Weisthal, Company I 13th Infantry, was shot to-day and instantly killed at Jackson barracks, by Lieut. Davis while target practicing, the corporal acting as marker.

New Hampshire Republicans.

CONCORD, N. H., 5.—The hotels are crowded to-night with politicians and delegates to the republican State Convention, which meets here to-morrow. As far as can be judged to-night, Blaine will have three-fifths of the delegates. The opposition will be divided between Grant and Sherman. Wm. C. Chandler will head the Blaine list.

Democrats.

It is impossible at this time to exactly state the delegation to the Cincinnati convention elected to-day either for or against Tilden, but from what can be learned it seems favorable for Tilden. No expression of preference was made in the convention, no speech being made except by the chairman, who only discussed general political topics and other officers. Several committees were then appointed.

The delegates chosen are Harry Bingham, John A. George, Frank Jones, Martin V. B. Edgerly; alternates, Joseph Burroughs, John W. Morse, John F. Cloutman, David H. Young. The delegates were instructed to hold to the two-thirds rule. Adjourned.

North Carolina Greenbackers.

GREENSBORO, N. C., 5.—The State National Greenback Convention was held here to-day. Only four delegates were present, one of that number a republican postmaster, Congressman De La Matry did not make his appearance. An executive committee for the State was chosen. J. R. Winston, of Milton, is chairman of the delegates to the National Convention at Chicago, June 9th. They go unopposed. No other business was transacted.

Attaching Sherman.

NEW YORK, 5.—The war against the republican candidate for the Presidency grows fiercer. The "Times" fights Blaine and Sherman as strongly as though they were democratic. To-day the paper has a long detailed account of an attempt to get hold of the custom house contracts by Secretary Sherman's brother-in-law, while the latter was attempting to reform the very custom house mismanaging plainly that Sherman himself was an interested party.

Delaware for Blaine.

DOVER, Delaware, 5.—The republican State Convention will meet here to-morrow. The indications are that though the delegates to Chicago will not be instructed, a delegation unanimous for Blaine will be chosen.
