

WATER MUDDLE GROWING WORSE

Miserable Incompetence of City
Engineering Dept Enough To Disgust Public.

SO SAYS COUNCILMAN MULVEY

Tearing up Curbing and Relaying of Mains on Second Avenue Will Cost Pretty Penny.

The muddle over the water mains on Second avenue was the subject of much discussion before the water-works committee of the city council last night and will be talked over again this afternoon at a special meeting of the committee in the mayor's office. Some time ago the council decided to put in the new water mains along the avenue before it was macadamized. The cost of that improvement was estimated at about $25,000 and as the city was unable to scrape up that amount of money it was decided to only lay the intersections at present at a cost of $8,000 and then lay the new mains inside the curbing so that the macadam would not have to be torn up.

This work was ordered done and was well under way when it was discovered that after the grading had been done for the macadam the old water pipes were only about a foot below the ground and hence the water would be likely to freeze in the winter and tie up the whole system in that district. This fact was not reported to the council until recently and hence all the work that has been done in laying the water mains at the intersections of the street will have to be done over. It was also discovered that the old mains are directly under the curbing and guttering and hence when the new pipes are laid the guttering, which is concrete, will have to be torn up and then relaid after the pipes are put in, all of which means a very heavy expense.

DISGUSTED WITH WORK.

Councilman Mulvey was inclined to criticize City Engineer Kelsey for the condition of affairs on the street and declared that the engineering of the city had certainly been an expensive luxury. He further stated that the character of work done by the engineering department of the city was enough to disgust the people, and that he did not blame them for "holding."

KELSEY ATTEMPTS EXCUSE.

Mr. Kelsey declared that the water-works committee should have known what was being done and the conditions on the street. He stated that the inspectors for the board of public works should have reported the conditions to the board and it should have been stopped by the board. This excuse on the part of the engineer did not suit the members of the committee and a further consideration of the matter will be had at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

A COSTLY JOB.

There is no doubt but that the mains will have to be lowered and the engineer claims that the old pipes are worth lowering as they will not last more than a year. With tearing up the guttering, laying the new pipes at a greater depth and lowering the new intersections which have already been laid, the city will have a costly job on its hands and in its present financial condition the committee is in a bad muddle over the matter.

PRECAUTION AGAINST ACCIDENTS.

The matter of greater precaution by the Utah Light & Railway company at important street crossings to avoid accident was discussed by the street committee last night. Supt. Hunt stated that the company had decided to place signal lights at the intersections of its tracks at Third South and Sixth South streets, where S. J. Jenkins was killed last week, and compel the motorman to slow down to a crawl at all railroad crossings compelling the motorman to stop the cars and look for trains before crossing. With these precautions it is believed by the committee that many accidents will be avoided.

WANT TO HAUL FREIGHT.

The matter of permitting the Utah Light & Railway company to widen its tracks on Fifth South street so as to permit of the hauling of freight to the site of its new shops on Fifth South and Sixth East streets was considered by the municipal laws committee. The attorney for the company, P. L. Williams, stated that about $3,000,000 would be expended by the company in improving the system. New tracks are being laid all through the city and the new shops and barn will be constructed at a cost of $75,000. It is necessary he said to widen the tracks on Fifth South in order to conveniently handle the freight which the company proposes to haul between the hour of midnight and 6 o'clock in the morning. After the shops are completed he declared that the hauling of freight would cease. It was thought by the members of the committee that perhaps the residents of the city would be object to the freight business so the matter of granting the privilege was laid over during an investigation of that phase of it.

AMEND BICYCLE ORDINANCE.

The municipal laws committee decided on the amendments to the new bicycle ordinance suggested by the Federation of Labor. Instead of prohibiting the riding of bicycles on the sidewalk all the year around the committee adopted the suggestion of the federation and amended the ordinance so as to permit riding on sidewalks outside the paved district from Nov. 1 to April 1 each year but only between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. The bicycles must be equipped with a bell at all times and must carry a lantern by night.

ASK FOR CONCRETE CONDUIT.

A number of property owners along the line of the City Creek canal on North Temple street between Fifth and Eighth West streets appeared before the streets committee in support of their petition asking that a concrete conduit be constructed to carry the waters of the creek so as to avoid floods in the future and to prevent seepage. The matter was taken under advisement by the committee.

Cassius Crescoda, formerly Employed at Alta Club, Succumbs to Stroke.

Cassius Crescoda, formerly bartender at the Alta club, died Wednesday night from paralysis. The deceased lived at 531 Bridgeport street, and was aged about 44 years. Three months ago he was first stricken, but partially recovered. He was on the streets Wednesday night, but received a second stroke that night, death ensuing soon afterwards. He is survived by a widow and five children, and also by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Crescoda.

VICTIMS OF THE LAYTON HORROR.

1. Schofield Kershaw. 2. Rebecca Kershaw. 3. Rhoda E. Kershaw. 4. Annie A. Kershaw.

The above picture shows the Kershaw family which was the central figure in one of the worst grade crossing accidents in the history of railroads in Utah. The father, mother and two of the sisters were instantly killed by the Los Angeles limited at Layton, Davis county, on Tuesday evening as they were driving home from the Old Folks reunion at Lagoon.

The funeral of the victims occurred this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the West Layton meetinghouse, with interment at Kaysville cemetery.

Last evening the bodies were taken to the family residence escorted by the ladies of the Relief society, who completely covered each casket with roses. Fully 700 people assembled in the vicinity of the house and condoned with the orphans and gave every assistance possible.

The funeral today was one of the largest in the history of Davis county, people driving in from all settlements to pay their respects to the memory of a sterling man and his helpmeet, who met such a tragic death.

A peculiar circumstance connected with the accident is that in each case were the skulls crushed and each of the four sustained broken legs and fractured arms. Death was instantaneous.

the residence, commencing at 12 o'clock. After the service, the bodies of the deceased were taken to the family residence for interment. Mr. Crescoda was also an Elk. He carried considerable insurance on his life.

MANAGER WOODRUFF RETURNS

Finds Eastern Manufacturers Hampered for Lack of Help.

Manager A. Woodruff of the wholesale dry goods department of the Z. C. M. I. has returned from an extended business trip to New York. He found the retail trade complaining of the long spell of rainy and unpleasant weather which had greatly interfered with business. The manufacturers Mr. Woodruff found were still hampered for want of adequate help, and inability to turn out goods as fast as was wanted, while prices keep on the upward path, with no indications as to when and where the limit is to be reached. One manufacturer told the visitor of one instance where a family of nine people were working in his mill, and one of the daughters got married. To properly celebrate this event, the entire family knocked off work for three days, right at a time where every employee was needed at the work. Of course there was no help for it, and the manufacturer had to make the most of it.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

A temple marriage of Wednesday was that of Miss Helena Walsh and Joseph A. Williams, and a reception followed in the evening at the home of the bride's sister Mrs. Webb. The rooms were beautifully decorated in roses, sweet peas and smilax. The bride wore a dainty gown of white muslin and carried bridesmaids. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be at home at 512 Third street.

One of the prettiest of Wednesday's weddings was that of Miss Mervyn and Mr. J. C. Jensen which took place at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Jensen, on Canyon road. The lawn was lit with colored lanterns, and a canvas spread for dancing. Inside the rooms were bright with flowers and vines, the parlor being in pink and white roses and carnations, while the bridal party stood under a canopy and wedding bell of dainty crepe paper. The dining room was in red and white, festoons of red hearts being hung from the ceiling. The four corners of the room, and smilax being brought from the chandelier to the corners of the table which had a centerpiece of red and white roses. Punch was served outside in the green house. The bride wore a gown of white French batiste with lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Bridesmaids, Miss Hertha Jensen, Miss Beale Brooks and Miss Dagmar Orlow, the

FACTS ABOUT FLOUR

Made White by Leaving Out the Part Which Helps Digest.

Modern methods of milling separate the parts of the wheat berry that contain the diastatic element, and the white flour made up almost entirely of starch.

One of the principle elements needed to digest this starch has been left out in the process, and therefore the person who eats much white bread is almost sure to have intestinal troubles, for the starch does not digest properly and must, of necessity, decay, and cause all sorts of trouble.

Grape-Nuts food, on the contrary, is made up of the entire wheat and barley, and the processes of digestion as shown in the human body, are followed as exactly as possible, in a mechanical way, by the use of moisture, time and warmth. No chemicals or other ingredients are used, but simple methods scientifically arranged.

In this way the starch of the grain is transformed into grape-sugar, and the Grape-Nuts food, which appears as a granulated form, shows on the outside of the little granules, glittering specks of this grape-sugar, which is not put on to the food from the outside, but is the result of the change of the starch into grape-sugar which works out to the surface, very much as the sap of the hickory or maple tree will frequently show in the shape of white sugar on the sawed-off ends of logs.

A handful of Grape-Nuts held to the light will show the little glittering granules of grape-sugar, and it is naturally and scientifically predigested, therefore the food agrees with the weakest stomach. It must not be used in large quantities at one meal, for it is concentrated, and overfeeding of even the choicest food is not advisable.

Being perfectly cooked at the factory, the food can be served instantly with cream or good milk. There is a definite, distinct and undeniable gain in nervous energy, and vitality when Grape-Nuts food is used. "There's a Reason."

first being in pale blue and the others in white. An orchestra rendered delightful music during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Jensen will be at home to their friends on Seventh East street between Second and Third South streets.

Miss Emily A. Hooper and M. Rich Porter were married Wednesday in the temple, and in the evening a reception was held at the bride's home, the rooms being bright with a profusion of roses, in red, pink and white. The bride wore a charming gown of white silk and carried white roses, and her going away gown was of brown silk with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Porter left on a late train for the east.

The marriage of Miss Mabel Hewlett and Guy Arnold Wilson was solemnized on Wednesday in the temple, and a luncheon followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hewlett and in the evening a reception was held for the members of the family at the new home of the bride couple. The rooms were bright with flowers and ferns, and the bride wore a handsome gown of white.

A quiet home wedding of Wednesday was that of Miss Ethel Scrampton of this city, and Norman E. Campbell of Oakland, Rev. P. A. Simplin performing the ceremony in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left for California.

Another ceremony performed by Rev. P. A. Simplin Wednesday was that of solemnizing the marriage of Miss Ida Jaensch and Frank Beckstead, the event taking place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Jaensch, which was prettily decorated for the occasion. A large reception followed with a number of intimate friends assisting.

Another pretty wedding reception was that of Miss Lottie Griggs and Thomas Varley, the ceremony having been performed in the temple during the day. The rooms were bright with roses and beautifully decorated in white and pink. A number of friends assisted. Mr. and Mrs. Varley will reside at Park City.

Miss Valentine Murphy and John A. Mallia were married Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guernsey, a pretty wedding supper followed the ceremony which was performed by Father Kieley. Mr. and Mrs. Mallia left later for a trip to California, after which they will go to Nevada to reside.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Free a reception celebrated the wedding of Miss Jennie Du Chene and Harold Kieley, the bride being bright with June flowers and a number of friends and relatives being present. They will be at home to their friends after Aug. 1 at the corner of Seventh East and Thirtieth South streets.

Among the many temple weddings of Wednesday was that of Miss Carrie Jones and John A. Brown, both of Wellsville. They will leave for a short visit with friends in Cache valley and will be at home in this city after July 15 at 924 Tenth East street.

Word has come from Pacific Grove that Miss Rebecca Morris and Robert Gwynn Officer, whose engagement was recently announced, will be quietly married tomorrow, June 29, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hattie Pickett, at Pacific Grove.

The wedding of Miss Emily Grindall and Mr. W. N. Latimer took place last night at the home of the bride, with Rev. P. E. Simplin officiating. The rooms were bright with flowers, the parlor being in pink roses, the library in the same colors and the dining room in red poppies. A wedding supper followed for the immediate relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Latimer will be at home after July 15 at 533 Third street.

A beautiful home wedding of yesterday was that of Miss Marie Silver and Clarence Q. Cannon, the bride a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Silver, and the groom a son of Mr. Sarah J. and the late President George Q. Cannon. The rooms were decorated with a profusion of June flowers, the parlor having a canopy of pink roses and smilax, under which the bridal party stood, while roses were all about, and the dining room being especially decorated with the same flowers brought from the chandelier to the corners and fastened with pink bows, while a beautiful centerpiece of roses completed the effect. The bride wore a charming gown of white net over tulle, with trimmings of real lace and carried bridesmaid. Her bridesmaid, Miss Leona Silver, was in pink and carried pink flowers. The grounds were illuminated with colored electric lights and lanterns, and there was delightful music during the evening. About 100 guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. Cannon will be at home for the present at 184 A street.

One of the prettiest affairs of the season was the cherry luncheon and card party given by Mrs. George L. Savage this afternoon in honor of her sister, Mrs. J. O. Duke, the entire affair being carried out in the cherry idea. In the parlor was a small cherry tree, the branches filled with blossoms, while clusters of cherries were also tied to the twigs. Bunches of cherries tied with ribbons hung in the doors and archways, and in the dining room a large basket of cherries was used for the table centerpiece, and bunches of cherries were at each plate. The place cards were in hand-painted cherries, and there was a cherry salad, and ice cream decorated with the pretty fruit. In the card game the tables were also in the cherries, and the prizes were plates hand-painted in cherries. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. A. H. Snow, Mrs. W. G. Tuttle, Miss Valois Peirce and Miss Geneva Savage.

AT THE RESORTS

Utah County Bands at Lagoon—The San Pedro has contracted to carry the Utah county bands to Lagoon July 15, on the occasion of the annual picnic of those organizations.

Butchers at Lagoon—More people visited Lagoon yesterday than on any day this season, and that is "going some." The occasion was the annual outing of the Butchers and Grocers' association. The crowd is variously estimated at from 12,000 to 14,000, and it is safe to say that about half of the number failed of being fed at the association's expense, so much was the throng in excess of what had been expected. The beef consumed amounted to something like 2,700 pounds while the loaves of bread ran well into the thousands, then there were barrels of pickles and other viands. A match game of baseball between teams from Provo and Ogden was the feature of the day's exercises.

Choir at Saltair—The tabernacle choir and Stephen's Juvenile choir are at Saltair today, enjoying their annual outing. June 28 is Prof. Stephens' birthday, and it is in his honor that the excursion was taken, although the guest of honor is not present, being now in Europe. At 3 o'clock the children's part of the program commenced, and at 6:30 this evening the tabernacle choir will render their part of the exercises. Both organizations are under the leadership of Horace S. Ensign.
