The case of Merrill and Winger, for Sunday liquor selling, is occupying the attention of the Police Court.

Miss Emily Fairchild and her secretary, Miss Charlotte Robinson, dined with President Taylor at the Grand House to-day.

About forty dollars was realized at the Seventh Ward Council last evening. This sum will be donated to the Sabbath School of that Ward.

It was not James Hardy, but his brother, who owned the vicious heifer which gored Daniel Vincent at Provo. The latter was not much hurt.

Opa, "candlelight" boys, "atchies" and "ams" are advertised for sale on the bulletin board of the 14th Ward Co-operative store. A Hingham clerk thereabouts.

The Engineer says Messrs. Albert Jones and Reed Smoot are called to go on missions to Europe, the former to Great Britain, the latter to Germany. They leave next April 8th.

Residents in the farming districts south of this city are petitioning the State Board of Agriculture against the smelters in that locality. Vegetation and animal life are said to be injuriously affected by them.

It is said that a young lady of this city, being matrimonially inclined and taking advantage of leap year, proposed to a young man a few days ago and has been accepted. The marriage ceremony will take place next week.

The Supreme Court has ordered, in the case of F. Auerbach et al., respondents, vs. Robert Burns, appellant, that various papers now waiting in the record, be filed in court, but without prejudice to appellant's right to object thereto.

In the case of Ogden City, respondent, vs. Robert Burns, appellant, from the First District Court, the appeal has been dismissed, and it is ordered that the respondent recover costs of the appellant. The same action has been taken and order given in the cases of Alfred Andre, respondent, vs. Jacob Rivolt, appellant, and in that of D. C. Booth, respondent, vs. Joseph Horne, J.P., appellant, both from the Third District Court.

LOCAL NEWS.

Notice.—The regular monthly meeting of the First Quorum of Jurors will convene in the court room of 14th Ward Assembly Rooms, on Saturday, Jan. 25th, 1884, at 7 p.m.

A Dead Mute.—A man supposed to be a vagrant with vicious intent was seen prowling around a gentleman's premises in the Eighteenth Ward early this afternoon. The gentleman telephoned to the City Hall for the police, and Officer A. Smith got upon the track of the fellow, who was found to be a deaf mute, harmless and idle, and not the bad character he was suspected to be.

Missionary Work in Minnesota.—Elder A. B. Strickland, laboring with Elder T. S. Woodland in Minnesota, writes from Osakis, Douglas County, on the 20th inst. He sends subscriptions for the Deseret News, and thinks they will do a great deal in helping to remove prejudice in that locality. There were but few Americans in that field, but many Poles, Germans, French, Norwegians, etc. There was no Elder there capable of giving them a hearing.

The weather had been too severe the past ten days to travel in safety, the thermometer ranging from 20 to 35 degrees below zero. He was treated kindly by the people where he called in, and also where he put up with them. Prejudice seemed to give way steadily as they mingled with the people. Most of those they dealt with invited them back.

It was hard to get a hearing at this season of the year. In some instances the school houses were held by religious bigots and the word "No," was a sweet morsel under their tongues. He was well and felt the spirit of his mission. They were laboring with people who lived in the timber.

Seventh Ward Entertainment.—Last evening the Seventh Ward Assembly Hall was crowded in every part with an appreciative audience, and the demonstrations of approval were not only frequent but characterized by a genuineness of a somewhat exceptional sort. The first part of the program, consisting of a literary group of recitations, afforded much gratification to the spectators, more particularly the guitar solo, by Mr. W. Foster, and the recitation of Mr. Burrows.

The performance concluded with the country, in two acts entitled "Savoy Enchantment" and "The Little King," as "Lieut. Kingston," fairly surpassed himself. The admixture of elegance and passion which Misses Millie Foster and Nettie James infused into their acting, cannot pass unnoticed in a becoming recognition of scholastic and dramatic talents. The acting of Mr. J. H. Wallis, as "Lieut. Kingston," produced its wonted effect, and Mr. Van Dam quite outdid himself in the role of "Dennis," the Irishman, and deservedly "brought down" the house many times. In fact, all the participants acquitted themselves in such a manner as would compare favorably with the more pretensions.

THE LAST OF IT.

THE WILLIAM G. YOUNG POST MORTEM EXAMINATION—TESTIMONY OF MEDICAL EXPERTS—VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY.

At 5 o'clock last evening the medical men who had held a post mortem examination on the body of the late William G. Young, which had been removed from the Cemetery to the Catholic Hospital for that purpose, met at the City Hall to give their testimony as to the disease which caused the patient's death. The physicians who took part in the examination were, Drs. Clinton, Benedict, Fowler, Hamilton, Joseph S. Richards, S. B. Young and W. R. Pike.

Dr. Benedict testified to seeing the body after it was taken up and when Dr. Clinton opened the tomb of the dead man. He saw no evidence of small-pox whatever, nor of any other recognized contagious disease. There was not a bruise nor an abrasion upon the head or face.

There was a superficial abrasion about middle of the forehead. This was the only mark on the body he recognized as a bruise, and he was simply a black and blue spot which might have been caused in many different ways. Witness exhibited the upper portion of the dead man's skull and a few vertebrae of the spine containing a small section of the spinal cord, and went on to show that the deceased might have come to his death by softening of the brain. He admitted that the pustules would indicate to some, smallpox, but he asserted that there was nothing of the kind in this case. He said, said, had been interrupted at the close of the examination.

Dr. Pike corroborated the statement of Dr. Benedict.

Dr. Richards stated that he had nothing to add to the statement of Dr. Benedict.

Dr. Clinton, quarantine physician, concurred substantially in the statement of Dr. Benedict. He went to the grave and examined the body first, in order to keep too many away if it was found to be a case of smallpox. He was convinced immediately that it was not.

These were the only physicians who testified before the jury, although it is understood that Drs. Hamilton and Fowler were of like opinion with the others in relation to the matter. In fact, it was stated before the jury last night, by one of the doctors in his testimony, that during the post mortem examination there was nothing said by any of the medical experts present, indicating that any of them thought there was any ground for a suspicion of foul play. The jury took the case under advisement and reserved their decision until ten o'clock this morning.

At that hour, having assembled at the City Hall, after a little consideration they agreed upon the following verdict:

Territory of Utah
County of Salt Lake
An Inquisition holden at the City Hall, Salt Lake City, Territory of Utah, on the 24th day of January, A.D. 1884, before Geo. J. Taylor, Coroner of said County, upon the body of William G. Young, there lying dead, by the jurors whose names are hereunto subscribed.

The said Jurors upon their oaths do say that the evidence presented, that he died from natural causes. In testimony whereof the said Jurors have hereunto set their hands the day and year first above written.

JOHN DRECK, Coroner.
FRANCIS E. FLETCHER, Juror.
WILLIAM NAYLOR, Juror.
GEORGE J. TAYLOR, Coroner.

WOMEN OF DESERT.
MRS. CROCHERON'S LATEST ACHIEVEMENT.

A handsome, well executed lithograph bearing the title "The Women of Deseret," and containing the portraits of twenty prominent "Mormon" ladies, was shown at the birthday party of Sister Eliza R. Snow Smith, last Monday evening, and again at the News office to-day, by its publisher and designer, Sister Augusta Joyce Crocheron. The picture is enclosed in a handsome frame of brown and gilt, and is accompanied by a little book of over 140 pages explaining the design and giving biographical sketches of each of the ladies whose likenesses appear in the lithograph.

The portraits are divided into four distinct groups. Those occupying the upper part of the picture are Eliza R. Snow Smith, Zina D. H. Young, M. Isabella Morris, Sarah M. Kimball, Phebe Woodruff and Bathsheba W. Smith. The first four represent the presidency of the women's organizations of the Latter-day Saints.

At the top and in the center of the picture is a crown of glory, in the midst of a cloud, from each side of which extends a hand bestowing rays of benediction. Underneath and arching over the central group of portraits are the words: "O, I am with you, even unto the end of the world." The picture is surrounded by floral and literary emblems, illustrative of the life-work, character or nationality of its original.

The right hand central group is one of four ladies, representing the Young Ladies' and the Primary Associations. They are Elmina S. Taylor, Louie Felt, Mary A. Freese, and Ellen C. Cleveron. To the left is a literary group of the same number, the subjects of which are Emily H. Woodmansee, A. J. Crocheron, Hannah T. King and Helen Mar Whitney. A group of six at the bottom of the picture completes it. The ladies are Emmeline B. Wells, Prescindia L. Kimball, Elizabeth Howard, Romalia D. Pratt, Zina Y. Williams and Louie Wells. Surrounding literature, art, medicine, education, and works of benevolence.

The title of the picture, "Representative Women of Deseret," is woven in conspicuous letters around the portraits in the center of the picture. Various emblems and mottoes, beautifully and tastefully arranged, surround the picture to mention here, decorate the picture which is a veritable work of art in its design and execution. Sister Crocheron, as stated, is the projector and sole designer. The lithograph was done in the East. The portraits are photographs taken at various times and places, and are all of the highest quality. The picture is dedicated to the President of the Latter-day Saints Women's Organizations, Eliza R. Snow Smith, and is a worthy medium of the compliment it conveys.

A GENUINE AFFAIR.
Our readers can rely upon it that if they have any rheumatism in the system, they can by using Britannia become entirely cured. This is no fiction. A great many persons have tried it in Salt Lake City and Ogden, and other parts of Utah whose testimony can be privately obtained, and who say that no remedy ever reached the disease before. It removes pain at once, it conquers the cause of the pain, and removes it, it builds up the general health, it acts kindly on the bowels, and it gives the kidneys a healthy action, and a relish for food, and prevents its souring on the stomach. Just try a bottle, and you will never want to be without it in the house as a family medicine. Sold at Z. C. M. I. Drug Store.
