Raising of Old Glory.

OBSERVED THERE TUESDAY. THE ROCK SPRINGS DEPOT

Recalls an Interesting Incident in Utah History-Speeches by Senator Hawlins and Rev. Mr. Henry.

Brighton, July 21.-The Twentyfourth was colabrated in very ambitious fashion at Brighton. It was a double history knows that it was here on July 24, 1857, that Prest. Young and hundredshad assembled to celebrate the tenth had flung the Stars and Stripes to the breeze from one of the topmost pines perenbouts, and were in the midst of ived bringing the news that John t's army was on its way to invade Territory. Han. Jas. H. Moyle took lead in arranging a celebration of double event. It was on his lot at the historic old flag pine stood in 7, and lies stump still stands in his not yard. Close by this stump he de-ed on creeting a permanent flag pole, young pines of the forest was stripped and otherwise made ready. This morning fifteen or twenty gentlemen responded to Mr. Moyle's request for aid, and took part in planting the big pole. Its height was 60 feet, and it took no small amount of muscle to pot the pole in its place, but with the aid of guy ropes, an improvised block and fackle, crow bars, etc., and with Mr. Moyle himself, Henry Dinwoodey, L. C. Karrick, Elmer Darling, Joe Jennings and Dick Morris acting as overseers, and yelling at the top of their voices at the rest of us, the flag pole was finally and firmly placed in the ground.

At 2 o'clock practically the whole camp, representatives of some 40 cottages and tents, assemble, on Mr. Moyle's front porch and under the trees adjacent to wisness the Stars and Stripes run up to the top of the pole, the Pyper, Whitney, Ensign and peneer quartecte was on hand, and ald-d by Mrs. Plummer they sand "Amer-m," the entire assemblage joining. Mr. Moyle then introduced Senator Rawlins, who, clad in his mountaineer suit, made a ten-minutes' speech, paying a tribute to old Glory and referring to the event forty-three years ago, when Utah's first governor raised the fing of the country for the first time amid those pipes and for the first time amid these pines and peaks. He plunged Mr. Moyle into contasion by intimating that it might be the next Governor of Utah who would repeat the feat today, whereat the au-dience applieded. "The Star Spangled Hanner" then followed, and while the sublime chorus rang out. Mr. Moyle ran the flag up to the peak. 'The Flag

During the flag raising, there were frequent ear splitting discharges of giant powder under the supervision of Deputy Sheriff R. 3. Brighton, and the way the echoes reverberated through the hills, rolled around the valley, and came back upon the ears of the celebrators, was almost awe inspiring to listen to.

The other features of the day have been a baseball game in which Dick Morris and R. S. Wells officiated on op-posite sides, a grand ball at the hotel in the evening, and a bor, fire and must-cals at Mr. and Mrs. Pyper's, at which he quartette sang, and composition, pokles and melasses candy made up

The Rock Springs Depot. The Rock Springs Miner says: "The Springs can have a commodious and comfortable depot. The viaduct over the location of the present crossing, which the council favored by resolution, ought to be pushed through without de-lay. The consideration due property owners on the cast end of South Front demand this. Agent Le sque, on the night of the passage of the ordinance, wired the U. P. authorities, at Omaha, the good news, and as evidence that the railway company has re-opened the de-pot proposition, Attorney Lacey, of Cheyenne, sent today for a copy of the ordinance closing the K street crossing. Our people have acted in good faith with the company in this matter and expect in return due appreciation of the concession granted, and a prampt ful-fillment of their promise to build the rock depot within the next three months."

Russia's Road.

The granting to flussia of a line Viadivostok and Port Arthur, and the adoption of this line as the eastern section of the Siberian railroad, in place of the route first laid out through the Amoor Valley, seems to assure Russian control of this important province. Great progress has been made on the railroad and prospectors and miners have already made their way into its northern section. No apparent opposition had been made to the new enter-prises, and the addition of Northern Manchuria to Eastern Siberia was considered an accomplished fact.
