

"Acted Like a Charm."

This is what Mrs. Mayer, of Baronne Street, New Orleans, says of Brown's Iron Bitters. A "charm" works quietly, surely, promptly, thoroughly and with delightful effect. That is just the way this wonderful family medicine works on invalids who have been suffering the woes of liver complaint, dyspepsia and impoverished blood. Those who know its worth say it is a complete cure for dyspepsia, weakness, malaria, neuralgia, etc.

OBITUARY.

JONES.—There died at Malad City, Idaho, Dec. 28, 1885, of pneumonia, in the 81st year of his age, Isaac H. Jones. The deceased was born August, 1805, in Llandowor, Parish of Veltry, Pembrokehire, South Wales. He was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints February 7, 1843. Ordained an Elder April 19, 1849, in Cymaron Branch, Glamorganshire Conference. A short time after his ordination he was appointed President of that Branch of the Church, where he presided for a period of ten years, during which time many were added to the Church in that locality and a prosperous Branch established.

In November, 1860, he moved with his family to Aberaman, Parish of Aberdare, where he lived until April 16th, 1861, when he migrated with his family to Utah, arriving in Salt Lake City in September, 1861. In the spring of 1863 he removed to Brigham City, Box Elder County, where he resided about 7 years. During his residence here he was ordained a High Priest. In 1869 he removed to Malad Valley, and with his family settled where Malad City now stands, where he continued to live until the time of his death. He was the father of 12 children, the grandfather of 39 children, the great-grandfather of 38 children and the great-great-grandfather of one child. He died as he had lived—a man of unblemished character; of a peaceful and generous disposition; firm in his convictions; unflinching in his integrity to the truth; an unselfish friend to his fellow man in the hour of need and a devout worshiper of Deity. As a husband and father he was a noble exemplar, exhibiting through the career of his whole life those qualities of character which are ever found in men of worth, and although he is dead to earth and the things of time he still lives endeared in the memories of his numerous posterity and many friends, who feel assured that he has departed this life in peace with God and man, and is resting in sure hope of redemption from the tomb to a life immortal and glory ineffable and unending.
