CRIME AND DISASTER.

Blaine and the Grangers.

MANCHESTER, N. H., 5.—The fourth day of the New England Fair opened with fine weather. James G. Blaine, ex-Governor Smythe, Geo. B. Loring and Mayor Putnam entered the grounds at noon, followed in other coaches by many distinguished citizens. Blaine was received with cheers. When the party were seated, the president of the New England Agricultural Society, Geo. B. Loring, introduced Blaine, who spoke as follows:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: It is pleasant to find ourselves in an assemblage where all bear a name of higher honor than any partisan designation, an assemblage in which we meet on the broad plane of American citizenship. The agricultural fair is the farmers' parliament. On this day and on this occasion the most independent class of citizens speak to the world by word and deed for that great fundamental interest on which the republic rests for its security and its prosperity. It has become a trite saying that agriculture is the basis of all wealth, but the full measure of the statement may be comprehended when we remember that in this year of grace, 1884, the total value of the product from the farm and flock in the United States will exceed $3,800,000,000, an amount brought forth in a single year vastly in excess of the National debt at its highest point. We are not in the habit of considering New England as especially distinguished for agriculture, and yet the annual product from her soil is greater in value than all the gold taken from the mines of California and Australia in the richest years of their fabulous yield. The farmer is a true and always successful miner in the extraction of money from the earth, a fact most strikingly shown in the history of California, whose splendid march to wealth and power only fairly began when the energies of her people were turned to the production of bread for the world, instead of gold. The prodigious consumption of 56,000,000 of people is brought strikingly before us when we realize how great a proportion of our aggregate product is used at home, and how small a share is sent abroad. The hundred and odd millions of New England's farm product does not support her own people, and they are compelled to exchange the fruits of their mechanical industry to an enormous amount annually for the means of subsistence so lavishly outpoured from the granaries of the more fertile West, and this fact is but one of many which show the independence of our people and the vast extent of our internal exchanges.

The scene to-day is enhanced in interest when we reflect that throughout the gorgeous autumn which we have just entered, will be reproduced in countless communities throughout our land, from ocean to ocean, from the Northern lakes to the Southern gulf, the richness of the harvest, the contentment and happiness of the people will be shown on fields as fair and by displays as brilliant as those which now delight our eyes and gladden our hearts. Nor will the autumn exhaust the inspiring scenes. When the chill of winter on the northern border of the Union shall make the southern sun seem genial and welcome, our brethren of the cotton region will continue the wondrous story. They invite us to witness at the Commercial Emporium of the South the great triumph of Southern agriculture in the production of that single plant which has revolutionized manufactures. They have the finest of the world, which has enriched the United States beyond the reach of the imagination, and has added incalculably to the comfort, health and luxury of the human race. Standing as I do in a fair of the New England States, it is an agreeable duty to extend congratulations to the New England farmers on the results of this year's labor, and on the general and important fact that at no period in the history of New England husbandry has intelligent labor been blessed with more profitable results than during the present generation. If there be any one who doubts this, I wish he was here to-day and could hear what I have heard and see what I have seen. [Applause.] I heartily congratulate the New England society on the brilliant success of this exhibition, and beg to return my sincere thanks to all for the personal kindness and cordiality with which I have been honored.

At the conclusion of Blaine's remarks he was given three cheers by the crowd, to which he bowed his acknowledgements. Blaine was then escorted to his carriage and driven directly to the residence of Governor Smythe.

The Blaine Suit.

INDIANAPOLIS, 4.—The defendants file with their answer a number of interrogatories, and require that the same be answered by the plaintiff under oath, positively and without evasion, within such time as the court may limit, among which are the following: State when you finally left Kentucky, if you at any time resided there, when you went there, where you were next employed, in what business or calling. If you answer that you left the name of your wife was Harriet Beardwood, state when she finally left Kentucky, and when and where you next met her. Give the place and place of your marriage, and the names of all persons, besides yourself, and where, who were present on the occasion. What acquaintance had you with Jacob Stanwood; what relation was he, if any, to the person you married, and what conversations, or other interviews did you have with him before your marriage concerning the same, and where did such interviews, if any, occur, and what was said and done therein? Was the first child of said marriage born on the 18th of June, 1854? Where did said child die? Where was it buried, and if in any cemetery, give the name of the cemetery? Was there any tombstone or monument erected at the grave of said child, giving the date of its birth, and by whose direction was said tombstone erected? Did not said tombstone bear the following inscription, relative to the birth of the child, viz: Harriet Blaine, born June 18th, 1854? Has any portion of such inscription on said tombstone been erased since its erection? If so, what portion thereof? What acquaintance had you with the work called "The Life of James G. Blaine," written by Russell H. Conwell, with an introductory by Gov. Issiah of Maine, and published by O. Alden & Co., Augusta, Maine, in 1884? Did you read the proofs of said work, submitted to you for revision? Was not the statement made upon the 15th page of said book, as follows: "Miss Gurney died in Manchester, Mass., before the wife of Blaine was born?" Is not said statement a correct statement of the time and place of your marriage? Did you not communicate to the author of said book for his use in said work the date and place of your marriage as aforesaid?

The following statement was last night furnished the Associated Press correspondent at this point by Mr. Shoemaker:

To the Public:

Biased reports have been sent from Indianapolis by certain press correspondents, insinuating that the defendant in the libel suit brought by Mr. Blaine will seek to delay a prompt trial; on the contrary, the defendant is anxious to go to trial at the earliest day in our power to obtain the calendar of the case, and anticipate being ready for an issue before a jury early in October if not sooner.

(Signed) JOHN C. SHOEMAKER.

Hello! Is That You, Victoria?

NEW YORK, 4.—A company of New York capitalists has been formed to establish a telephone across the Atlantic Ocean. It is to be supplemented if the patent rights of the Bell Company permit, by a line from New York to San Francisco. Among the stockholders and directors are John H. Reed of the firm of Bates, Reed & Cooley, F. H. Skinner of Hazen, Todd & Co., Geo. M. Braves, vice-President of the Bank of the Metropolis, Wm. Foster, Jr., formerly president of the Metropolitan Elevated Railway Co., and several Boston capitalists. The company is to use the new Mackay-Bennett cable. The first experiments in submarine telephoning will be made as soon as the Mackay-Bennett cable is extended from Halifax, N.S., to Gloucester, Mass. The distance between these two ports is 350 miles. If the experiments on this part of the international strand are successful, experts and instruments will at once be sent to Valentia, Ireland, and attempts will be made to telephone across the Atlantic Ocean.

Mrs. Lockwood's Letter of Acceptance.

WASHINGTON, 4.—The following is Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood's letter accepting the nomination as the candidate of the Woman's National Equal Rights party in California, for the office of President of the United States: "Harriette L. Stowe, president, Eliza C. Webb, secretary, and members of the party: Having been duly notified of your petition in the convention assembled of August 26, 1884, in nominating me as a candidate for the high position of Chief Magistrate of the United States as the choice of the Equal Rights party, and although feeling unworthy and incompetent to fill so high a place, I am constrained to accept the nomination so generously and enthusiastically tendered by the only political party which really and truly represents the interests of our whole people, North and South, East and West, because I believe that with your unanimous and cordial support, and with the fairness and justice of our cause, we shall not only be able to carry the election, but to guide the ship of State safely into port.

In furtherance of this purpose, I have to say that should it be my good fortune to be elected, and should our policy with its grand platform of principles be successful in the contemplated election, it will be my earnest effort to promote and maintain equal political privileges to every class of our citizens, irrespective of sex, color or nationality, and to make of this great and glorious country, in truth, what it has so long been in name, 'the land of the free, and the home of the brave.' I shall seek to insure a fair distribution of public offices to women, as well as to men, with scrupulous regard to civil service reform, that women are duly installed in the offices. I am also in accord with the platform of the party in the desire to foster American industries, and in sympathy with the working men and women of the country who are organized against free trade, for the purpose of rendering the laboring classes of our country comfortable and independent. I sympathize with the soldiers' widows, and believe in the re-enactment of the arrears act, and in the increase of pensions to widows, believing that the surplus revenues of the country cannot be better used than in clothing the widows and educating the orphans of our nation's defenders. I would also suggest the abolishment of the pension office, its complicated and technical machinery, which so beautifully illustrates how not to do it, and recommend in its stead three commissioners, whose only duty should consist in requiring from an applicant for invalid pension his certificate of honorable discharge; from the widow, proof of marriage, and from the mother, proof of birth. I am opposed to monopoly, in the sense of men monopolizing all of the votes and all of the offices, and at the same time insisting upon having the distribution of all the money, both public and private. It is this sort of monopoly that has made possible the large breaches of trust of government officials, caused bank suspensions and defalcations all over the country. It has engendered and fostered strikes. I am opposed to the wholesale monopoly of the judiciary by male voters. If elected I shall feel it incumbent on me to appoint a reasonable number of women as district attorneys, marshals and judges of the United States, and would appoint any competent woman to any vacancy that might occur on the United States Supreme Bench. I am in full sympathy with the temperance advocates of the country, especially the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, but believe that woman suffrage will have a greater tendency to abolish the liquor traffic than prohibition will to bring about woman suffrage. If the former is adopted, the latter will be its probable sequence. If elected, I shall recommend in my inaugural a system of laws as far as practicable for all the States, and especially for marriage, divorce and the limitation of contracts, and such a regulation of the laws of descent and distribution of estates as will make the wife equal with the husband in authority and right, and an equal partner in the common business. I favor an extension of our commercial relations with foreign countries, and especially with the Central and South American States, and the establishment of a high court of arbitration, to which shall be referred all differencies that may arise between these several States, or between them and the United States. My Indian policy would be first, to have the Government pay them what it owes them, to break up their tribal relations, distribute them their lands in severalty, and make them citizens amenable to the laws of the land as white and colored persons are. While we sympathize with unhappy Ireland and deprecate oppression on one side, and lawlessness on the other, our policy as a Nation does not allow any public expression from our people. Due consideration will be given to the interests of the honest, industrious, home-loving German. Again thanking you for your expressions of esteem, I think I may safely say that I fully endorse your whole platform.

Cordially yours,

BELVA A. LOCKWOOD.

A letter from a Western woman to Mrs. Lockwood says she was selected for President because Elizabeth Cady Stanton was too old, Mary A. Livermore was too opposed to certain classes, Susan B. Anthony was "too much of a spinster, and Lucy Stone was too narrow."

The new candidate to-night wrote a letter to her Western friends asking about the Vice Presidency, and saying that was an important and serious matter.

Death of Secretary Folger.

GENEVA, N. Y., 4.—Secretary Folger died at 4.50 p. m. The only persons present were Mrs. Hart, his deceased wife's sister; Dr. Knapp and his law associates; his family physician, Dr. A. B. Smith and his colored servant James. Mr. Smith and Captain J. S. Lewis had left him but a few minutes previously. Dr. Henry Foster, who had been here two or three times as consulting physician, arrived on the 4.45 train, and was conveyed to Mr. Folger's by Dr. Smith. Mrs. Ernst, the Secretary's sister, arrived by the same train. After the three last named entered, the dying man gazed twice on the attendants, and all was over. Secretary Folger's two daughters are now stretched on a bed of sickness in Washington, and his son, Charles J. Folger, is at Alexandria, Virginia. All have been notified to come to Geneva, the telegraph not being earlier employed, for so sudden a termination of the father's malady was not apprehended. Capt. Folger will arrive this morning.

The Secretary resumed for the last time to Geneva on Wednesday evening the 20th ult. He called his family physician, Dr. Smith, next morning who gave the following statement: [illegible] Great [illegible] bronchial [illegible] of the liver, albuminous [illegible] of the urine, showing diseased kidneys. The Doctor was informed that the Secretary had had hemorrhage of the lungs three times of late before his return. The first was while out yachting with friends at New York, on which occasion he discharged about a pint of blood. Secretary Folger rode out daily until and including the 29th ult., since which time he kept his room, but did not wholly abandon official work. He continued to answer important letters and telegrams till yesterday and seemed reluctant to give up, but he was by no means unconscious of his critical condition. He entrusted to his personal friend, Capt. Lewis, final messages to his family and other directions of a private nature.

Assistant Secretary Coon said that he had received several letters recently from Secretary Folger, in which he wrote rather despondently. In one, alluding to the burden of work in the Department, he said that while he was about useless, still he would pack his trunk and return to duty if he (Coon) felt that too much was laid upon him. A third letter was closed abruptly with the remark that he had set out to write at length, but left too weak and restless.

In regard to the question of filling the vacancy by temporary appointment Mr. Coon submitted the question to the Attorney General on the death recently of Sixth Auditor Kia. The Attorney General gave his opinion that a vacancy occurring by the death of a head of a bureau ought to be filled on the expiration of ten days, either by temporary designation or permanent appointment, and that such temporary designation, if made, would be for ten days. It would follow, therefore, that the vacancy in the Treasury may be temporarily filled by appointment for ten days from the 16th inst., and must be permanently filled not later than the 28th inst., Sundays not being counted.

A meeting of the heads of the Treasury Department will be held to-morrow and draft appropriate resolutions of respect to Secretary Folger.

Newport, R. I., 4.—President Arthur dined this evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ellis at Fairlawn. There were about sixteen guests. The President received the telegram announcing the death of Secretary Folger at 5 o'clock and was greatly affected by the news. He will attend the funeral, and hopes he will be able to attend that of Senator Anthony also. He has telegraphed his condolence to the father of Secretary Folger, and ordered that the flags on Government vessels and buildings in this vicinity and at Fort Adams be placed at half mast until after the funeral. The President had intended to give a dinner to the English admiral Saturday, but that now will probably be indefinitely postponed.

CRIME AND DISASTER.

Missing.

LONG BRANCH, 2.—Frank Patterson, owner of the Opera House, is missing, and detectives are searching for him with a warrant for his arrest. He is charged with having forged endorsements on a number of well known residents of Monmouth County, on notes aggregating over $30,000. Wm. W. Connor and S. F. Hendrickson, of the Red Bank, his endorsers to a considerable amount, have seized all his property and taken possession of the Opera House. Last year he purchased the right to the opera of the "Queen's Lace Handkerchief." He handsomely equipped two large companies and played them in all parts of the United States and Canada under the name of "Patterson's New York Opera Companies, Nos. 1 and 2." The case has caused intense excitement. Patterson leaves a wife and two children.

Lynched.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., 3.—Henry Zorgowinski, the Hungarian who stabbed his daughter-in-law last Monday and then attempted to kill himself, was hanged to a tree this morning by a party of masked Hungarians. The excitement is intense. It is the first lynching that has ever taken place in the county.

Arrested.

NEW YORK, 4.—Frank Frisbie, exchange clerk of the First National Bank of Portland, Oregon, was arrested yesterday on the Pacific Mail steamship Colon, on a charge of having stolen $7,000 from the bank, and was to-day given into the custody of a detective from Oregon, who was armed with a requisition, and requisition papers have also been sent on for Mrs. Frisbie, but Governor Cleveland did not sign them. Frisbie to-day assumes the sole responsibility, and Mrs. Frisbie was released. She and her two children will remain in the city, and Frisbie will be taken back to Oregon.

Fires, Etc.

MEXICO, 4.—There was burned on the steamer City of Merida, at Havana, a valuable collection of Mexican curiosities, zoological and botanical, destined for the New Orleans Exposition. Gen. Diaz, head of the Mexican commission is much affected by the loss, and says it cannot be replaced in ten years.

BOSTON, 4.—The headless body of Dr. Black, surgeon on the Tallapoosa, was found floating in the Muskegel channel to-day.

Binghampton, N.Y., 4, 10 p.m.—Marathon, a thrifty town 30 miles from this city, on the Syracuse and Binghampton Railroad, is in flames. Two blocks are already destroyed. The Binghampton fire department is called on.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO RESCUE PRISONERS AT WARSAW

Three Chinese Armies.

LONDON, 4.—Advices from China state that three Chinese armies are marching to invade Tonquin, one from each of the three southern provinces of China. The army from Kwang Si numbers 23,000, that from Yunnan 20,000; that from Kwang Tung likewise 20,000. The Yunnan army will join the Black Flags at Lao Ki on the Tonquin frontier. There are said to be 10,000 Black Flags at that point. These combined forces will march down on Red River and take Hang Hoa. The Kwang Si army will march into Tonquin by way of Cao Binh, and in company with a portion of the Canton army, now at Langson, will attack Bacninh. Six thousand French hold Hanoi; Hang Hoa, Sontay and Bacninh.

Admiral Courbet will open negotiations in China until M. Patenotre, French Minister to China, has made a report of the political situation at Pekin. Telegraphic communication north of Shanghai ceases at Tsingtau, on the great canal. Reports have reached Shanghai through Tchefoo that the opposition of the Chinese to the parties in power is reaching a pitch of civil war.

Bombarding Kelung.

The French have renewed their bombardment of Kelung.

Bismarck Wants a Finger in the Pie.

La Nation makes the following statement on diplomatic authority: "Bismarck has agreed to give France his support and influence in Cochin China in the attack upon China, on condition that the treaty with China of 1860 be revised so as to enable Germany to obtain equal concessions with France. Bismarck has demanded the Pekin Government to give Germany such concessions at Shanghai, but the request was refused on the ground that the consent of all the contracting parties to the treaty of 1860 was required. Bismarck also aims to form a naval and trading station at Cape Bisang Tong, south of the Gulf of Pechili."

The German African Association.

BERLIN, 4.—The [illegible] of Prince Joseph of Saxe-Coburg Gotha, who received a fracture of the skull, is very grave. The wound is sufficiently large to admit a finger. A tumor, in consequence of the fracture, has appeared on the Prince's thigh.

German Africans.

HAMBURG, 4.—Boisen Halle announces the formation here of a German African commercial association with a subscribed capital of 500,000 marks. The object of the association is to extend the commercial relations of Germany on the east coast of Africa, and found fresh colonies there.

Conspirators Baffled.

VIENNA, 4.—The Warsaw correspondent of the Tagblatt says: An attempt was made on the night of August 31st to rescue from the citadel Jude Bardofsky, Vencel Jonochech and other political prisoners. The conspirators raised the constantine gate of the citadel from its hinges, and penetrated the corridor. The noise made by the assailants attracted the attention of the officials, who rushed to the spot, but the would-be rescuers escaped, leaving behind their crowbars, files, sacks and ropes. The prisoners were clothed and ready for flight. The officers connected with the citadel are suspected of complicity in the plot.

AYER'S PILLS.

A large proportion of the diseases which assail human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS act directly upon these organs, restoring their healthy action, and thus cure the diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dysentery, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these PILLS by eminent physicians in regular practice, shows unmistakably the estimation in which they are held by the medical profession.

These PILLS are compounded of vegetable substances only, and are absolutely free from alcohol or any other injurious ingredient.

A Sufferer from Headache writes: "AYER'S PILLS are invaluable to me, and by their constant use, for many years, I escape suffering from Headache, and your PILLS are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels and free my head from pain. They are the best cathartic pill we have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak in their praise, and I always do so when occasion offers."

W. L. PAGE, of W. L. Page & Bro., Franklin, Richmond, Va., June 9, 1883.

"I have used AYER'S PILLS in numerous instances in my family, and have found them a prompt and effectual remedy. We generally keep them on hand in our house, and prize them as a safe, sure, and reliable family medicine. FOR DYSPEPSIA they are invaluable.

J. C. HAVES, M. D., Marion, Texas, Sept. 27, 1882.

The Rev. Francis N. Harlowe, writing from Lynn, Mass., says: "I have used, upon which to rely, in the case of myself and family, for many years, AYER'S PILLS. They have always answered the purpose, and have really improved my general health."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Hoarseness, Asthma, and Consumption. For Children, Mothers, Singers, Speakers, and Preachers, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best remedy in the world. Keep it in the house. Prompt use of this medicine will always save many times its cost, and often save life itself. Every family should have a copy of Ayer's Almanac, containing valuable information and directions for the cure of the various complaints to which we are subject. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, Ayer's Pills, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Ayer's Ague Cure, Ayer's Hair Vigor, Ayer's Cathartic Pills, Ayer's Almanac.
