IMPORTANT TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.

It is the duty of all persons before starting on a journey to ascertain by what route they can reach their destination with the least trouble, and if there are two or more roads leading to the same point, to decide which is the safest and most pleasant to travel.

We take pleasure in stating, that the CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY is the oldest, and several miles the shortest, route between Omaha and Chicago. Within the past two years the road has been put in admirable condition, and almost the entire line has been re-laid with steel rails.

The Depot in Chicago is centrally located, and their trains arrive there thirty minutes in advance of all other lines, passengers can always be sure of making Eastern connections.

Close connections are made at Chicago with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, Kankakee Line and Pan Handle Routes, for all points EAST and SOUTH-EAST.

If you are going to Chicago, or East, you should, by all means, purchase your tickets on the Old Pioneer Route.

The Chicago and North-Western. You will find on all through trains Pullman Sleepers, new and magnificent Day Coaches, and the best Smoking and Second Class Cars now on any road in the United States.

EVENING NEWS.

Friday, September 24, 1875.

Local and Other Matters.

THERMOMETER 78 degrees F in the shade at 1 p.m. to-day. Fine.

From San Francisco.—Honorable James Otis, Mayor of San Francisco, is in the City.

Diphtheria.—We are informed that this dangerous malady is somewhat prevalent in portions of Cache Valley.

Gone to Provo.—This morning President Brigham Young and Elder George Q. Cannon left on a visit to Provo. They will be absent for several days.

Two Days' Meetings.—Two days' meetings will be held at South Cottonwood Ward to-morrow and Sunday, under the presidency of Elder John Taylor.

Summer Complaint.—An exchange gives the following remedy for summer complaint: "Beat up the yolk of an egg with sugar and a little milk; keep giving until cured."

Not So.—We are pleased to learn that our informant who stated to us that the boy Marsh, injured by a molasses mill, is not dead, but is doing well, under the treatment of Dr. Young, who is attending him.

Assault and Battery.—Last night Henry Haysgreen, without any cause or provocation, struck Duncan Clark a blow in the face, for which he was fined $5, and an additional fine of $5 was imposed for resisting arrest. He paid the amount. Whiskey was the cause.

Postponement.—Nearly all of the parties whose property was advertised to be sold for taxes Sept. 27th and 30th, have stepped up and settled, and to give the isolated parties remaining, they are very few, a further opportunity, the assessor and collector has postponed the sale till October 30.

Hopeful.—On further examination of the injured arm of Brigham Clayton, accidentally shot yesterday morning, the surgeons find that the limb can probably be saved, and we are pleased to learn this morning that the condition of the young man is also otherwise favorable.

We learn that he was in a boat in a pond, some rods from the bank when the gun was unaccountably discharged, and that after the occurrence he paddled to the shore with one hand, and walked a quarter of a mile, to the house of Bro. Peck.

Concert and Party.—The Scandinavian concert and party, last night, for the benefit of Elder Sanborn, was a decided success, both financially and otherwise. The commodious hall was nicely fixed up with garlands and flowers, and the singing of Bro. Thomsen's choir excellent. Four young ladies, who constituted a quartette, sang with excellent effect. At the close of the concert the seats and benches were cleared away and the remainder of the time was spent in dancing.

Home Manufacture.—Messrs. Taylor & Cutler's store is not only a place where a splendid assortment of imported goods are kept, but it is a regular emporium of home manufactured merchandise, such as cloths, flannels, jeans, linseys, etc., from the factories of Utah, and people who are skeptical regarding the excellence of home productions in that line should call and examine what they have got. Those who do so will discover that they not only compete with eastern productions in price, but also in quality. We reiterate our advice to all good citizens, to sustain home manufacture.

Very Bad Accident.—This morning Joseph Rands, about sixty years of age, met with a very severe accident in the Z. C. M. I. new building, where he was at work. His post was to attend to the wheel barrows on the elevator, which is operated by steam power. The signal for lowering the elevator from the third floor is the ringing of a bell by Rands, by means of a wire attached to the elevator. The bell was struck by the vibration of the beam to which it is attached, and let the elevator down before another Rands was ready. The latter had one on the floor and the other on the elevator, and as the latter went down he was thrown back upon a wheelbarrow, which tipped and threw him off, when only a few feet from the top. In descending he struck across a beam on the second floor, and then descended to the floor below. He fell a distance of about thirty feet in all, eighteen feet after he struck the beam.

He was taken to the office of the Doctors Richards, when it was discovered that his right thigh was broken, that one of his arms was injured, besides several minor injuries about the body, and his system was very badly shaken.

He was placed in a wagon and conveyed to his home, in the north-eastern part of the 24th Ward.

The Memory of President Smith.—We have been permitted to peruse a letter from Elder Joseph F. Smith, dated at Liverpool, Sept. 7, to his cousin, Elder H. B. Smith, of this City, from which we extract the following:

"The first and almost the only thing I think of is the terrible news of the death of Uncle Joseph. My whole soul seems filled with a great sense of loneliness when I allow my mind to revert to the stern and unwelcome fact that I am to meet him more on earth than the man of God. Already, in my mind, I seek for his counsel and find not to be found, and cannot find him in the old familiar house, in the office, at the President's, on the streets, where he has labored and toiled so much, and I look in vain. Away to the north, on the glowing wings of thought; to the council of the Elders, to the happy meeting of the Saints, so often cheered and lifted up by his mighty strength; into the houses of hope and President of stakes; in the cars, in some vehicle jolting over the dusty roads, through the valleys and lonely canyons; here, there, and everywhere."

"But why seek him where he is not? If we only seek him there, we are doomed to disappointment and regret for his counsel will not come to us again, but we can and will go to him. In the mansions prepared by the Son of God for the true and good, when God, and Christ are, in the midst of the mighty hosts redeemed and sanctified; he is there."

Blowing a Cure For Consumption. Under the head of "Pulmonary Gymnastics," Dr. Burg, of Paris, has published the following curious dissertation, which contains advice which may be useful to all persons who are afflicted with weakness in the chest. He begins with stating the question fairly: "Are declarations, singing and, above all, wind instruments, dangerous exercises for persons of weak or delicate constitutions, and more or less predisposed, by birth, to serious diseases of the respiratory organs?" Most physicians, he observes, will answer in the affirmative; he takes the contrary ground, supported by military musicians, who would not be without their wind instruments. Dr. Burg, it may be remembered, was the first who proposed copper as a specific in cholera, on the ground that workmen constantly handling that metal had escaped the epidemic of 1849 with impunity. In order to establish this fact he had visited a variety of large military bands, and found that the members of wind instruments, of manufacturers of wind instruments. On one of these occasions Mr. Sax gave him the following information, which we here repeat almost verbatim for worth:

"Beside choleraic immunity, our workmen enjoy another—they are free from consumption. Many philanthropists on seeing our young military musicians, and the enormous instruments we make have wondered over the few years those poor fellows would have to live. Well, they are mistaken. All men who make it their profession to wind instruments made at the various factories before sending them to the world, are free from consumption. I have known many of them, and they are on their feet, and who, though their duty obliged them to blow for hours together, enjoyed perfect health after a certain time. I am myself an instance of this. My mother died of consumption; eight children of hers fell victims to the same disease, and only three of us survive, and we all three play on wind instruments. The day is not far distant, perhaps, when physicians will have recourse to our method, and in order to conquer pulmonary diseases."

After this we shall have everybody blowing his own trumpet, loudly and persistently, to ward off consumption and all kind diseases.

A New and Important Stamp Ruling.

The late Commissioner of Internal Revenue, under date of April 12, 1875, "concerning the stamp tax upon bank checks, drafts, orders or vouchers," etc., it was held that drafts or bills drawn in the United States upon a foreign country need not be stamped, not being "vouchers" in the meaning of the law while in this country. That ruling is in force and after this date reversed.

The statute in question, section 15 of the act of February 9, 1875, imposes a stamp tax of 5 cents upon every "bank check, draft, order or voucher for the payment of any sum of money whatsoever, drawn upon any bank, banker or trust company."

Drafts, bills, checks or orders drawn in the United States upon a foreign country, however, are not "vouchers" while in this country, appear to me to be clearly within the meaning of the statute, and therefore exempt from the stamp tax. They are drawn upon a bank, banker or trust company, and there is nothing in the law limiting the stamp tax to the country of the bank, etc., upon which the paper is drawn.

Collectors will at once notify the banks, bankers and trust companies in their several districts of this change of ruling, and will require the payment of the stamp tax on drafts or bills drawn on, from and after this date.
