

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

ARRAH-NA-POGUE, LAST NIGHT.—The assembly at the Theatre last night must have been well pleased with the performance of Boucicault's beautiful play of Arrah-na-Pogue. The personation of most of the leading characters, such as "Fanny Power," by Miss Lockhart, "Michael Feeney," by Mr. Lindsay, "the O'Grady," by Mr. Hardie, was fully equal to any former attempt here in these characters; while "Shawn the Post," by Mr. C. Wheatleigh, was very much superior to any personation of this character hitherto attempted on the Salt Lake boards, and was equal to any we ever saw elsewhere, and we have seen some of the leading actors of today in this character.

In watching the progress of the piece last night the actor was forgotten, there being presented, in his stead, the veritable, dashing, jolly, light-hearted son of "Ould Ireland," and none present, in the least capable of appreciating or realizing the events and circumstances of the piece, could help feeling joyous or sad with the gallant "Shawn." The wearing of the green, which was sung with much feeling, and elicited hearty and well deserved applause. Mr. Wheatleigh's personation throughout was true to nature; but in the Court scene he probably made his greatest point.

Miss Ward did not shine as Arrah-na-Pogue; the part has been better played here.

To-night the famous play, "Under the Gaslight," will be presented. Mr. Wheatleigh personating "Snorky," Miss Lockhart, "Laura Courtland," Miss Ward, "Penny Blossom," the remainder of the cast as before.

Of all the plays of the sensation order, none, probably, has been received here with such favor as this. The pugilistic encounter between the "Sixth Ward Chicken" and his diminutive antagonist "Peanuts," the minstrel scene on the pier, and the very exciting tableau on the rails, have all helped to gain for this piece more than an ordinary share of popularity. To-night, in addition to the usual attractions, we understand that in the minstrel scene, the Management have engaged for the occasion a corps of professional street minstrels, including a band of four Italian boys, just from the East, with violins and harps, who will play and sing some favorite popular pieces.

THE JARMAN CASE.—The investigation of this case will continue. In the language of the Counsel for the defense "It still goes on."

THIRD JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT.—The case of the People vs. Wm. Foster, charged with the murder of L. O'Brien, went to the jury this morning; in three quarters of an hour a verdict of "not guilty" was returned, whereupon Foster was discharged.

Court adjourned until 12, when the case of O'Brian and his associates, charged with the murder of C. Russell at Wasatch, will probably be called up.

PAR-VANTS.—Mus-so-que, An-kar-tah and Sear-up, with twelve of their men and a herd of ponies are in our city on their way to pay a parting visit to Wash-lee-kee, of the Snakes, who is in the vicinity of Bridger. The Par-vants want robes, and Wash-lee-kee ponies to move his people north into Canada. Having sold his old home to the Government, he now seeks another where there is more game, and greater seclusion from wicked whites, who he says have not only debased themselves but have corrupted the Indian women, in consequence of which the Indians are losing their hand very fast, and causing a far greater loss than the blankets and other gifts are worth. The Par-vants had planted quite a breadth of grain at their late home that looked well at the time they left.

GOING FROM OUR GAZE.—By reference to our advertising columns to-day it will be seen that Lieutenant W. L. Foulk, of the 37th regiment, who has been stationed for nearly two years at Camp Douglas, is on the eve of his departure for his home in the East. The Lieutenant, who is thinning with the 7th regiment, being about to take place in accordance with recent orders from the War Department, in consequence of which half the officers of the regiment will go East to await orders. The Lieutenant was formerly for a period of fifteen years, Manager and part of the time proprietor of the Pittsburgh Commercial Journal, one of the leading papers in Pennsylvania, and it is probable that on his return East he will again identify himself with the press. By his uniform gentlemanly and friendly course here he has gained the respect of our citizens generally who have had any relations with him; and from our acquaintance with the Lieutenant we feel assured that he will gain the respect and esteem of good men wherever he may reside in future.

"BLACK HAWK" IN THE CITY.—Major Dymock B. Huntington, Indian Interpreter, informs us that, on the evening of Friday last, he had a visit from the notorious Chief, "Black Hawk," who has been the prime mover in the Indian disturbances for the last few years in the southern portion of this Territory. "Black Hawk" said he was sent by the D. C. sides, who live on Gunnison's trail and the Spanish trail, west of Green River. They want peace, and "Black Hawk" said he would have them all—men, women, and children in Gunnison in one moon, so that the Indian Superintendent, Col. Head, and he, Dymock, might go and have a talk with them. He says they will not want to come to Gunnison, because they have nothing but horses they have stolen from the "Mormons" to ride on; they would rather meet a distance from the settlement. However, "Black Hawk" has kept his promise to keep the peace given two years ago; it is very likely that he will bring them. The D. C. sides see what presents the Shoshone Indians, living north of Spanish trail and west of Green River, have got by being peaceful, and they are anxious to reap similar benefits themselves.

"Black Hawk" says Tab-by-Uner has lately stolen six horses from the vicinity of Payson and taken them East to trade them off, and he thinks more vigilance is necessary at that neighborhood.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—We much regret having to record an accident on the railroad, yesterday, at Devil's Gate, which resulted in the instant death of So-co Rockwood, an Indian, the adopted son of Brother Rockwood, the Warden of the Utah Penitentiary. The deceased was in the employ of Mr. W. Spofford, and yesterday morning, he and other hands were sent a short distance above the bridge at Devil's Gate to procure a train load of sand. In the process of loading, the track became covered, and two or three of the men, the deceased among the number, were ordered to clear the track, and to follow the train down to the point of unloading, a distance of two or three hundred yards. After having cleared the track and proceeded a distance of about one hundred yards below the bridge they saw the gravel train moving towards Taylor's Mills. They started to run back towards the bridge in order to get aboard some cars, and in so doing, moved. Two of them succeeded in jumping on the cars, but the deceased was jerked down; in falling he caught hold of a standard, trying to save himself, but it broke and he fell on the track, a car passing over him severing his head from his body and breaking both his arms and both his legs. He went to work for Mr. Spofford about a month ago, and was very much esteemed by all of his fellow workmen.

The following short biography of the deceased has been furnished by Warden Rockwood: Seventeen years ago the coming June, while Bro. Rockwood was on a journey South with President Young and party, he purchased the deceased of some Ute Indians at Corn Creek, he and his father, mother and sister, belonging to the Comanche tribe of Indians, having been taken prisoner by the Utes. The Utes killed the father and sister, sold So-co to Brother Rockwood and took his mother prisoner to Sanpete, and So-co never heard of her afterwards. As So-co grew up he showed unusual signs of intelligence, and acquired a tolerable education. He was a member of the Church, and for some considerable time before his death he had been a member of and teacher in one of the Ward Sunday Schools in this city. He always manifested one strange peculiarity—he shunned all members of the Indian tribes; no matter whether wild or civilized, he would never, in the least, associate with or hold converse with them. He had an excellent ear for music, and was very fond of singing, and was probably the most docile and intelligent Indian ever raised in this Territory.

In Town.—Mr. C. E. Squires, who represents the firm of Charles Henry & Co., general Western agents for Stonepappe Roofing, of Omaha, Nebraska. The Sheathing Board and Stonepappe roofing sold by this firm are becoming widely known as cheap and excellent articles for partitions, lining of houses and roofing.

ST. THOMAS, May 9, 1909.
Editor Deseret News.—We are having pleasant weather, with cool breezes particularly at night. Our wheat crop looks promising. I regret to say very little cotton will be raised in the settlement this season owing to the lack of water. The grasshoppers were seen in myriads a few days ago in the air; they were all on a mission flying east. Our people in this settlement are cheerful and happy, living their religion and feeling well on their mission, particularly since the emigration of the wild ducks and geese north. Our town is spreading out on the right hand and on the left. Houses are going up and trees and shrubbery are seen in every direction. The soil is gradually becoming subdued and blessed, so that it now produces vegetables that could not or were not produced a couple of years ago. We finished our six-mile ditch about five or six weeks ago; it works well. This brings into use a very large body of land, some of it very choice. It may be interesting to some of your readers to know that brother Joseph Asa and myself have found a tolerably fair road to Junction City through the mountains without having to cross the Virgin River. A little labor would make it a good road. St. Thomas is emphatically a very healthy, prosperous place, and immigration of the right kind plentiful. The wife of our dear friend Andy Gibbons made him a present of twins, both girls, on the fourth of this month; and there are new arrivals every few days. Our school is "A 1" and is well attended and under the management of an "A 1" teacher. It is astonishing to hear the answers of the children to Bible and historical questions, I do not believe they can be beaten.

EDWIN.

ODGEN CITY, May 23, 1909.
Editor News.—A line from this point may render devoid of interest to your many readers throughout the country who, so greater or less extent have read or become personally cognizant of the rapid change transpiring in the immediate vicinity of the heretofore quiet city of Ogden. Leaving Salt Lake City at 4:15 p.m., by the Wells, Fargo & Co's line of stages, I found myself very unceremoniously dumped out at Taylor's Mills in a crowd of about the hardest looking specimens of humanity that it has been my fortune to meet with. Raining, sloppy, and a general admixture of mud, combined to render the prospect anything but enlivening under the circumstances; and I had about figured out in my mind that the programme for the night would be a pretty rough one, and that the chances were good for almost any kind of a dark deed, that would be duly chronicled, and set off with original wood cuts, in the Police Gazette; when Bro. George J. Taylor, ever ready to perform a good deed, does hang fire on this matrimonial question, came to my relief and offered me shelter and protection. The following morning I got a look at one of Paulman's sleeping cars, and found it all that it had been represented.

A hack-driver, for fifty cents, will finish up Wells, Fargo & Co's contract to "land you in Ogden," and on arrival you find a thriving, stirring railway town, without the usual accommodations to be met with in such places. Houses being built, and tents filled with wares standing on the principal thoroughfare of the city, rents at fabulous prices, and a general busy-burly that would seem to indicate that Ogden is rapidly rushing ahead. The Co-operative Wholesale Store, under charge of D. H. Parry, is in full blast, and doing a good business; the branch store of the 24 district is in operation, and others rapidly perfecting their arrangements for business. Altogether the co-operative affairs of Ogden are in a flourishing condition; and promise much in the future; and as there appears to be a general willingness on the part of the people to sustain and uphold the movement, there is no good reason why co-operation should not absorb the entire mercantile interest of this place and surrounding country.

Ogden boasts of three Sunday schools all in flourishing condition, and doing very much toward training the youth here, who so much need a protection thrown around them, situated as they are.

The Daily Telegraph appears to be incarnating itself into the good graces of the people hereabout; and, judging from the appearance of the office and composing room, they are making a success of their praiseworthy undertaking.

I meet many familiar faces that were wont, in the past, to illuminate Salt Lake City business houses with their genial presence.

Respectfully,
J. MORGAN.
