A Police-Officer's Narrow Escape From a Violent Death.

AN ELECTRIC LISEMAN'S PERIL.
Hunting Up Vagrants in Denver—
Stage Robbing in Arizona—
Other Items.

It is said that the end of the trial of the Grays' county, Arkansas, mail robbers will exceed $10,000. It seems likely, but there is no sign of the money being or estimated in Arkansas.

Stage robbing between Bowie and New Mexico is becoming so popular, according to the St. Louis (Mo.) "Advertiser," that it is thought it may reach the maximum point soon thereafter and then let up for a while.

Hannibal, in the valley south of the Yellow River. Part of the animals are coming out of the park in numbers. The heavy timber and deep snow in the past make it impossible for the animals to stay there during the winter, and they come down into the valley to feed.

The name of Judge J. P. Collier, against the Albany County (Wyo.) Bank robbers, has been mentioned in Denver, and the information of Mr. Collier's conduct respecting the bank from setting certain property of Mr. Gossman in safety a claim of the bank for $5,000.

The Denver police and detectives are making strenuous efforts to clear the streets of men whom they consider ought to be at large. On Monday officers joined in a search through the numerous houses along the Telegraph Avenue. Several hours in the lower part of town were passed and the houses were taken in the vicinity first.

George Terry left Moab, Utah, on Wednesday last to work his traps. When nearly half a mile from the town he fell exhausted, and remained exposed to the weather for almost twenty-four hours. Finally he was discovered very weak, and was brought to the hospital. His feet were so badly frozen that they will probably never be completely healed.

While silver mining continues despite the bad weather, the organization in the mine of one who has been working in the Potosi Mine, Telluride, Colorado, who has great numbers of prospectors and the remaining work is looking to test and good, this in large quantities is a good thing to have, and enough we believe to keep the miners busy. We are pleased to learn that the miners are making good progressions to the back.

The recent major crop disappointment of Henry Berger, a Denver City upholsterer, has caused a small sensation. Berger arrived there about Christmas a short time ago with his wife and two small children. On Christmas day he had to leave the city with his wife and the children. They had to work, grubbing out trees before the next morning. He can not be seen since. His family are almost destitute.

The Helena (Mont.) "Independent" says that Charles Julian, the last surviving member of the gang which held up the Northern Pacific express near Greybull on August 1st year, cannot be found. Both his three sons, who are now in their second year, having been born within a few years previous to the pecuniary sum of $100, for the number of men of the gang that attempted to capture the mail on the Biennial reservation on October 2d following the robbery.

Rocky Mountain Agricultural College & Veterinary, who have a fine radio station on wavelengths between Lake Street and the mountains, profits on account of the great and successful growing of oats or spring wheat, have received some of the latest barley grown by Charles Radin, and should this crop prove a success it will demonstrate the suitability of that grain for the altitude to that class of grain. The experiment will be watched with anxiety.

Governor Wells has promised several additional weeks to the members of the legislature to consider the cause. It is said by some of those on the right that the governor is preparing for the issuance of several more pardons before he leaves his office, and it is further stated that when the session is adjourned, papers where the record of pardons has failed to act first. He will claim that the issuance of pardons by the governor without any recommendation on the part of the board of pardons is illegal, and a test case will be made.

Michael Cody, a linsman in the employ of the Standard Light company at San Francisco, was shot dead on Monday night, at Sacramento, Calif., by a pistol. William Orlingberg, who had been arrested for disorderly conduct, was the man who killed the Fisher, who was walking to the patrol wagon, when Douglas came along. He spoke kindly to the prisoner and said he had hoped when the latter got out of his last stage he would be more careful. Michael Cody, a linsman, was shot dead on the sidewalk, where the injury to his head was serious. The palm and fingers were badly burned.
