

CHARM OF VICTORY WITH HIGH SCHOOL

Red and Black Youngsters Add Baseball Pennant to List of Trophies.

FOUR GAMES EASILY WON.

Remaining Games Are Not Enough To Cut Down Lead, Even If All Are Lost.

The charm of perpetual victory seems to still hang about the Salt Lake High School, and in a baseball victory last night, the youngsters of the team made it impossible for any opponent to overtake them in the race for the pennant.

Four successive victories are now to be charged to the High School account, and the games scheduled can be lost in a bunch without cutting down the percentage enough to make a losing proposition.

The game yesterday was with the College Institute, and the score was 15 to 5 in favor of the High School. The result in detail was as follows:

FRISCO FIGHT FANS MUSTER IN GOTHAM

Droves of Sports Headed for New York, Where Game Is Reported Open.

SALT LAKE IS NOT POPULAR.

Action of County Attorney in Preventing Island-Corbett Affair Causes Fighters to Move On.

The question of what is to become of the fights of the matted fist, who were assembled in San Francisco, is being answered by the purchase of tickets by the leaders of the drive, for New York.

With them will go probably a few sporting editors, who have found the San Francisco of the future pretty meager in promise of fat writeups and salaries.

With just ashen, and the prospect of three or four years of rebuilding to recover the old position, the sports men, and all save for deserting the old standing grounds, and hitting out for other pastures.

Salt Lake would have looked good, had the Hyland-Corbett affair been pulled off, according to schedule. As it is the town looks like a white chip, and the gentry are passing right along to Gotham.

There a five-round affair went the other day, on "club membership" admission, and was declared legal. This seems to open the game, and on the same promise, the old trust magnates are acting.

THE NEAR CHAMPIONS.

Slizing up the situation, W. W. Naughton, the well known San Francisco writer says:

It is said that Tim Hirst and his associates have proposed control of Madison Square Garden, and are reaching out in all directions for high game fighting.

In all probability the contest will be limited to four rounds and the services of a referee will be dispensed with.

This is the style of fighters that prevails in Philadelphia and it is very popular here. The returns are good, the punishment is not severe and no decisions being rendered there is the same danger of loss of reputation that is in vogue here on the coast.

Sam Berger leaves for New York today, accompanied by Jack Glousson. Sam is to meet Jack O'Brien in a short contest in New York, before the quake there was talk of Berger and O'Brien meeting in San Francisco for the world's champion.

It is expected that the two heavyweights will draw a big house. New York has been so long without a big sport that almost any kind of a match will be acceptable.

Joe Gans left for New York several days ago and by this time is probably at his home in Baltimore. Gans intends to try for matches in New York.

Joe Thomas and Harry Foley have gone to Chicago, while Hoop Keys, the Australian fighter, is by this time in New York. He is being chaperoned by Billy Roche, who will arrange matches for him.

Eddie Hanlon will leave for the Atlantic seaboard within a day or two and will place himself in the hands of Bob Deady, the Philadelphia sporting man.

Eddie was one of the unfortunate ones, the flats he purchased for his mother in the Mission being burned. He did not lose his head, however. While the fire was creeping closer to the bills and the two boys in the Mission were being away from it, Eddie came across a panic-stricken family which offered its furniture for sale at a knock.

The staff with the understanding that his family take possession of the house as the prevailing rent if the place was not burned. The fire stopped short of the spot and Hanlon's family has now a roof to cover them and a house full of phenomenally cheap furniture.

JAKE WINS AT LAST.

Catches a Good Set up and Trims the World's Champion at Billiards.

Chicago, May 8.—George Slosson, the champion 182 billiard player, was defeated here tonight in the professional tournament now in progress in Orchestra hall, by Jacob Schaefer, by a score of 30 to 25.

Failure on the part of Slosson to get the balls out of bank when he had but five points to go cost him the game. At the time Schaefer was but 42 points down, and he played the latter half of the game in easy position, and the Chicago man soon got them together and in the matter of the table play, soon checked out 50 billiards and won the game. It was a hard game for Slosson to lose, but he played the latter half of the game in easy position, and the Chicago man soon got them together and in the matter of the table play, soon checked out 50 billiards and won the game.

As an illustration of the sort of billiards the men were playing, Schaefer executed a shot in the seventeenth inning that seemed an absolute impossibility. The object balls were lined up at one end of the table, while the cue ball was almost against the far rail in a straight line. Schaefer played a power shot, and a ball from the cushion, where it had been driven by the impact of the cue ball, the high run for the game was made by Schaefer, with 133 Slosson's best score was 28 Slosson's average was 17.25; Slosson's, 17.25.

STANFORD STUDENTS Issue Circular to Alumni, Assuring Them College Will Recover.

The fear that students may be kept away from Stanford university by the reports of its sufferings through the earthquake has caused the Sigma-Sigma society, a junior honor association, to issue a statement to alumni, requesting them to do all in their power to spread the news that the university will open as usual in August. The circular follows:

Because of the recent earthquake exaggerated reports have been spread about over the country detailing the devastation of the buildings of Leland Stanford Junior university. The sudden cessation of regular work at Stanford in consequence of the great fire in San Francisco and the general disorganization ensuing have allowed these reports to go uncontradicted. It is in places before the various Stanford alumni associations in the country and to prospective students of Stanford the exact state of affairs, that the Sigma Sigma Junior honor society decided to circulate this letter.

Stanford university has not been entirely destroyed. The university will be in as good condition to receive the incoming class next August and to provide them with working facilities as it was in the fall of 1905.

The regular Stanford library was not badly damaged and could be opened tomorrow if necessary.

Emelia Hall will be ready to receive over 300 men next fall, and will be in better condition than ever. It is now considered the strongest stone building in the state. A falling chimney caused the only damage to the building during the earthquake. This can never happen again.

Robie Hall was not damaged to any serious extent by the earthquake, and is perfectly safe.

There will not be a tuition fee charged and registration fees will not be increased to any great extent, if any.

There is not the slightest danger that the usual intercollegiate contests and athletic activities will not be resumed. Stanford is as strong in her athletics today as ever. The big football bleachers were unimpaired and the new track will be built this coming year as planned.

There will be no reduction in the strength and numbers of the faculty. A number of strong men have been recently engaged from the east and others will be engaged as needed. In the end the result will be a university stands on its faculty and on its men.

Buildings are a splendid addition but they are not vital. Stanford, however, has the most comprehensive scheme of university architecture in the world. It will stand as a model for years to come.
