

YOUNG FIGHTER WRECKS A CAFE

Hurls Cash Register at Girl—
Missed—Through Plate
Glass Window.

THEN SMASHES AT RANDOM

Waiters, Pie Shelves, Dishes and Everything in General Fall Before
His Onslaught.

Because he believed that William Perry, a waiter in the Portland Coffee house in Second South near State street, had "cheated" on his four "pals" and had had them "pinched" for fighting, last night, George Jepson, a former messenger boy who calls himself a prizefighter and goes under the name of Young Battling Nelson, went on a rampage this morning at 9:30 o'clock and literally cleaned the restaurant out before he was arrested by several police officers.

Jepson entered the Portland Coffee house while there were a number of customers eating at the tables and counter and addressed foul language to Miss Jennie Patterson the cashier. She remonstrated with him, and he deliberately hit her in the face, smashed the cash register and the cash register sailed on through a $10 plate glass window.

William Perry, a waiter, ran to the assistance of the girl, and Jepson knocked him with his fist. When Perry recovered enough to stand on his feet, Jepson drew a long knife and made a lunge at the waiter, who escaped the thrust by dropping under the counter.

Jepson then proceeded to knock down an eight-foot counter holding pies, cakes and food of every description. He threw large sugar bowls, plates, cups, saucers, and everything else that would hit him hard.

In spite of his drunken condition, Jepson was able to explain at the police station that he went to the restaurant to "get" Perry, whom he charged with having caused the arrest last night of one of his friends, Paul E. Livingston, A. C. Seiner, Lawrence Neithamer and Charles Ragick, on a charge of fight-

SUPREME COURT OPENS.

The case going over for the term was that of the state against Webster Green.

"AMERICANS" WORKING WHILE OTHERS CONFER

Carriages and Autos Hustle the Voters
To the Registry Office—Citizens
Meet This Morning.

While the "Americans" had from one to three carriages and automobiles in each district this morning, carrying the voters to the registry office to register, the Citizens, Democrats and Republicans were in conference for the last time to settle upon a fusion ticket if possible. Every effort will be made to arrive at an understanding today so that the organizations can begin a vigorous campaign for the election.

The "Americans" have been attempting to get a corner on carriages but the city committees of the Democrats and Republicans are securing the greater number for the last registration day.

The "Americans" are returning the doubtful vote as well as their own vote in hope of catching some of them. The desperate situation which the "American" party faces is forcing them to the greatest activity.

Although the conference committee was in session late this afternoon, the respective committees, the voters to go to the registry office to day and see that their names are on the register. They declare that it is the duty of every eligible citizen to register today and not leave it to the last moment when it may be too late and a voter for a business administration is lost.

The Citizens' committee met this morning and in accordance with the wish to both the Democrats and Republicans decided upon a candidate for mayor. After going over the situation thoroughly, it is stated, upon good authority, William B. Wallace, who was nominated by the Democrats and endorsed by the Citizens, was chosen. Now the Republicans under the arrangement can name three of the officers on the general ticket leaving the remaining one for the Democrats to choose.

The Republicans will be given the first choice of the words for the nomination on the voting ticket. The Democrats will have the second choice and it will continue until all the candidates are nominated.

The Citizens believe that this is a fair proposition to the Republicans and Democrats alike. There is no reason, they argue, why such a ticket should not be chosen. It will be supported by all those who are in favor of a clean business-like administration for Salt Lake City.
