in the way of stamps and other sup-plies, as well as a sum of money, taken from the postoffice till and the register of the proprietors of the store. Entrance was gained by twisting off an iron screen at the rear of the build-ing, and then opening the window. The matter was reported to the sheriff's office yesterday and officers are now working on the case. The owners have no clue as to who the perpetrators are. There is much criticism offered by persons living in that locality that the city authorities have not provided an electric light on State street at Elev-enth South. The corner is the most im-portant one south of the city, and the nearest light is a $2-candle many rods below the spot indicated, furnished by the county. The matter has been brought to the attention of the proper authorities, and petitions have been sent in asking for the installation of a street light, but no attention has been given to the attent be county off-cials as with those of the city, inas-much as the west side of the street at Eleventh South has not yet become included in the city limits. The duty at Eleventh south has not yet become included in the city limits. The duty of furnishing a proper light at that busy corner should devolve, perhaps, upon both the city and the county.

in the matter. A unanimous vote to this effect was taken & a meeter of the union last night. The trouble grew out of the re-fusal of the master team drivers to sign the working agreement for 1907 and 1908, presented to them by the team drivers' union. The new agree-ment calls for one half hour less in a day's work and a relief form Sunday and holiday work which will necessi-tate the employment of additional stablemen. The new wage demand is for an increase of $1 a week for all classes of teamsters. The present agreement expires April

The present agreement expires April 8, and as the great majority of the teamsters have agreed to stand by the union in case the new agreement is rejected, it is believed that a strike cannot be avoided.

DISCLOSURES OF ROTTENNESS.

"In the second place, one of the in-cidents of ufusual prosperity is the stimulous it gives to advancing prices, which often reach abnormal and un-warrantable levels.

Mr. Knapp was asked concerning the effect of the disclosures of rottenness in corporate, including railroad, combinations combinations. "It goes without saying," he said, "that the disclosures of discreditable operations are followed by public re-sentment which often visits its relation on the innocent as well as the guilty. Right here I think we should take into account the undoubled fact that the public conscience has been aroused from its long lethergy and has become sensitive, highly sensitive, to the mor-al character of conduct which in other times would have been regarded with in-difference. As there can be no great good without some misfortune, so the sharp awakening brings its unpleasant sharp awakening brings its unpleasant consequences. But after all, it indicates a marked and encouraging elevation in the standard of public and private mor-

THE GREAT REMEDY.

THE GREAT REMEDY. "The reincorporation of our railroads under an act of Congress." he said, "or some plan of federal license such as has been proposed, although it would not limit the actual power of the states, nevertheless, as a practical matter, would have a botent influence in pre-venting improper legislation by the states, and bring state laws in harmony with national laws. Moreover, I am in-clined to anticipate such adjudications by our supreme court as cases arise in the future, as well by the principles amounced and the authority upheld, greatly restrict the practical stald of state control."

ROUMANIA CAN'T CONTROL

Bucharest, March 25.-/That revolted peasants of Roumania are at least tem-porarily beyond the control of the gov-ernment forces in the field is amply evi-denced by the stories of pillaging; and holdavia and Wallachia. There have been several errious conflicts between peasants and troops in the district of Wastui, where 2.000 peasants armed with rifles and revolvers attacked a company of soldiers. The troops fired several voloys, killing 40 persons and wound-ing large numbers, but the soldiers were so greatly outnumbered that they final-ly were obliged to retreat,
